Kanter, 2014-11-27 The adoption of the Convention on the Rights of People with Disabilities CRPD by the United Nations in 2006 is the first comprehensive and binding treaty on the rights of people with disabilities It establishes the right of people with disabilities to equality dignity autonomy full participation as well as the right to live in the community and the right to supported decision making and inclusive education Prior to the CRPD international law had provided only limited protections to people with disabilities This book analyses the development of disability rights as an international human rights movement Focusing on the United States and countries in Asia Africa the Middle East the book examines the status of people with disabilities under international law prior to the adoption of the CRPD and follows the development of human rights protections through the convention's drafting process Arlene Kanter argues that by including both new applications and entirely new approaches to human rights treaty enforcement the CRPD is significant not only to people with disabilities but also to the general development of international human rights by offering new human rights protections for all people Taking a comparative perspective the book explores how the success of the CRPD in achieving protections depends on the extent to which individual countries enforce domestic laws and policies and the changing public attitudes towards people with disabilities This book will be of excellent use and interest to researchers and students of human rights law discrimination and disability studies The Comprehensive Guide to Special Education Law George A. Giuliani,2012-05-15 This useful handbook provides educators with a practical understanding of the laws that are in place to protect the children with special needs that they support Written in a user friendly Q and A format it covers all of the key areas of special education law including Free Appropriate Public Education related services and discipline
