

The background of the book cover is a photograph of a family on a beach at sunset. In the foreground, a man with a mustache is smiling, holding a large bouquet of colorful flowers. In the middle ground, a woman is holding a baby. In the background, a young child is walking on the sand. The sky is a warm orange and yellow, and the ocean is visible in the distance.

Translating Lives Translating Lives:

Translating Lives, 2007 Recounting the personal experiences of 12 bilingual Australians this immensely moving collection of stories shows how immersion in two overlapping cultures affects one's perspectives on the world and relationships with other people Including contributions from Kim Scott and Eva Sallis these stories childhood recollections migrant experiences journeys of self discovery and accounts of feeling culturally torn or undefined demonstrate the intrinsic links between language culture and identity Translating Lives Mary Besemeres, 19?? Translating Memories of Violent Pasts

Claudia Jünke, Désirée Schyns, 2023-08-31 This collection brings together work from Memory Studies and Translation Studies to explore the role of interlingual and intercultural translation for unpacking transcultural memory dynamics focusing on memories of violent pasts across different literary genres The book explores the potential of a research agenda that links narrower definitions of translation with broader notions of transfer transmission and relocation across temporal and cultural borders investigating the nuanced theoretical and conceptual dimensions at the intersection of memory and translation The volume explores memories of violent pasts legacies of war genocide dictatorship and exile across different genres and media including testimony autobiography novels and graphic novels The collection engages in central questions at the interface of Memory Studies and Translation Studies including whether traumatic historical experiences that resist representation can be translated what happens when texts that negotiate such memories are translated into other languages and cultures and what role translation strategies translators and agents of translations play in memory across borders The volume will be of particular interest to students and scholars in Translation Studies Memory Studies and Comparative Literature

Translating Early Modern China Carla Nappi, 2021-04-08 The history of China as any history is a story of and in translation Translating Early Modern China tells the story of translation in China to and from non European languages and Latin between the fourteenth and the nineteenth centuries and primarily in the Ming and Qing dynasties Each chapter finds a particular translator resurrected from the past to tell the story of a text that helped shape the history of translation in China In Chinese Mongolian Manchu Latin and more these texts helped to make the Chinese language what it was at different points in its history This volume explores what the form of an academic history book might look like by playing with fictioning as part of the historian's craft The book's many stories of glossaries and official Ming translation bureaus of bilingual Ming Chinese Mongolian language primers of the first Latin grammar of Manchu of a Qing Manchu conversation manual of a collection of Manchu poems by a Qing translator serve as case studies that open out into questions of language and translation in China's past of the use of fiction as a historian's tool and of the ways that translation creates language

Translators through History Jean Delisle, Judith Woodsworth, 2012-07-05 Acclaimed when it first appeared as a seminal work a groundbreaking book that was both informative and highly readable Translators through History is being released in a new edition substantially revised and expanded by Judith Woodsworth Translators have played a key role in intellectual exchange through the ages and across borders This account of how they have contributed to the development of languages the emergence of literatures the dissemination of knowledge and the spread of values tells the story of world culture itself Content has been updated new elements introduced and recent directions in translation scholarship incorporated providing fresh insights and a more nuanced view of past events The bibliography contains over 100 new titles and illustrations have been refreshed and enhanced An invaluable tool for students scholars and professionals in the field of translation the latest version of Translators through History remains a vital resource for researchers in other disciplines and a fascinating read for the wider public

Literary Translation Clifford E. Landers, 2001-01-01 In this book both beginning and experienced translators will find pragmatic techniques for dealing with problems of literary translation whatever the original language Certain challenges and certain themes recur in translation whatever the language pair This guide proposes to help the translator navigate through them

Reframing Translators, Translators as Reframers Dominique Faria, Marta Pacheco Pinto, Joana Moura, 2022-07-29 This collection explores the notion of reframing as a framework for better understanding the multi agent and multi level nature of the translation process generating new conversations in current debates on translational agency authority and power The volume puts forward reframing as an alternative metaphor to traditional conceptualizations and descriptions of translation which often position the process in such terms as transformation reproduction transposition and transfer Chapters in the book reflect on the translator figure as a central agent in actively moving a translated text to a new context and the translation process as shaped by different forces and subjectivities when translational agency comes into play The book brings together cross disciplinary perspectives for viewing translation through the lens of agents drawing on a wide range of examples across geographic settings historical eras and language pairs The volume integrates analyses from the translated texts themselves as well as their paratexts to offer unique insights into the different layers of mediation in translation and the new frame s created for those texts This book will be of interest to scholars in translation studies comparative studies reception studies and cultural studies

Can Theory Help Translators? Andrew Chesterman, Emma Wagner, 2014-07-16 Can Theory Help Translators is a dialogue between a theoretical scholar and a professional translator about the usefulness if any of translation theory The authors argue about the problem of the translator s identity the history of the translator s role the translator s visibility translation types and strategies translation quality ethics and translation aids

Translating Women Luise von Flotow, 2011-03-08 Feminist theory has been widely translated influencing the humanities and social sciences in many languages and cultures However these theories have not made as much of an impact on the discipline that made their dissemination possible many translators and translation scholars still remain unaware of the practices purposes and possibilities of gender in translation Translating Women revives the exploration of gender in translation begun in the 1990s by Susanne de Lotbinière Harwood s Re belle et infidèle The Body Bilingual 1992 Sherry Simon s Gender in Translation 1996 and Luise von Flotow s Translation and Gender 1997 Translating

Women complements those seminal texts by providing a wide variety of examples of how feminist theory can inform the study and practice of translation Looking at such diverse topics as North American chick lit and medieval Arabic Translating Women explores women in translation in many contexts whether they are women translators women authors or women characters Together the contributors show that feminist theory can apply to translation in many new and unexplored ways and that it deserves the full attention of the discipline that helped it become internationally influential

Translating Promotional and Advertising Texts Ira Torresi, 2020-12-29 The translation of promotional and advertising texts requires the application of techniques which although they vary depending on the specific text type are all aimed at preserving their persuasive purpose This often requires in depth cultural adaptation and on occasion thorough rewriting Translating Promotional and Advertising Texts covers the key types of promotional texts including personal business to business institutional business to consumer and advertising With numerous examples from a wide variety of languages and media taken from the author s own professional experience and observations this volume is designed for use as a coursebook for classroom practice or as a handbook for self learning It also provides insight for research into promotional and advertising translation This second updated edition offers entirely new sections on self promotion in social media text analysis and tools for the cross cultural appraisal of promotional texts Revised with new examples a glossary of terms and activities and tasks on the Routledge Translation Studies Portal this is the essential text for students researchers translators and professionals working in copywriting marketing public relations or related areas
