Visions in Conflict Peacebuilding in Cyprus Avrum Marco Turk, 2013-10-18 In 1960 the island of Cyprus achieved its independence from England By 1963 the Greek Cypriot majority was engaged in the ethnic cleansing of the Turkish Cypriot minority This situation was reversed in 1974 when 35 000 Turkish troops arrived on the northern part of the island as the aggressors The presence of Turkish troops eventually resulted in the de facto partition of the island and creation of the breakaway Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus recognized by no country in the world other than Turkey Notwithstanding UN efforts since 1974 to reestablish a central government and obtain the agreement of both communities to live together peacefully on the island the conflict remains intractable and ripe for Track III grassroots intervention to achieve a reconfiguration Historically the respective leaders of the Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities have consistently advocated separate sets of political and ethical beliefs and desires rational and irrational that are fundamentally incompatible Is it possible for leaders who carry the baggage of their respective predecessors to suddenly change course and ask their followers to throw off their historical shackles in order to join together for peace The last best hope for reunification rests in the hands of the people at the grassroots level on both sides They need to change the game through conflict transformation from the bottom up These are extraordinary times for ordinary people who truly have the opportunity to take charge of their future The question is whether they will seize the moment before it is too late Will they continue to be bystanders to history allowing the spoilers of the peace process to continue to prevail or will they assert themselves to change its course

Peacemaking Strategies in Cyprus Eleftherios A. Michael, 2015-09-04 This book takes a systematic and holistic approach to examining all 41 peacemaking initiatives used to settle the Cyprus question from 1955 onward under the auspices of the United Nations and or other actors in the international system including the United States Canada the UK Greece and Turkey The analysis of peacemaking strategies dynamics and obstacles fleshes out numerous relationships between i peacemaking processes dynamics and outcomes from signaling to negotiations and to post accord completion and implementation ii concessions constraints and leverage during peacemaking negotiations and third party mediation and iii obstacles to finding an endgame solution and satisfying conditions for lasting peace expectations that all parties can agree on and implement successfully After documenting 62 interviews with top political leaders in Cyprus including top tier elected elites and third party mediators and about 70 more interviews with key informants including academics researchers members of negotiating teams technical committees and working groups this book concludes with a plethora of descriptive as well as prescriptive propositions on how peacemaking processes could lead to more sustainable and implementable peacemaking initiatives in Cyprus and in similar protracted and seemingly intractable cases The Broken Olive Branch: Nationalism, Ethnic Conflict, and the Quest for Peace in Cyprus Harry Anastasiou, 2009-01-19 In the second volume Anastasiou focuses on emergent post nationalist trends their implications for peace and recent attempts to reach mutually acceptable agreements between Greek and Turkish Cypriots He documents the transformation of Greece Cyprus and Turkey within the context of Europeanization and globalization While leaders of both communities have failed to resolve the conflict Anastasiou argues that the accession of Cyprus into the European Union has created a structure and process that promises a multiethnic democratic Cyprus With great depth and balance The Broken Olive Branch presents a fresh analysis of the Cyprus conflict and new insights on the influence of nationalism

Resolving Cyprus James Ker-Lindsay, 2015-01-30 Since 1964 the UN has been at the forefront of efforts to find a political solution to the dispute between Cyprus Greek and Turkish communities This book presents a comprehensive overview of the Cyprus Problem and offers new and innovative ideas as to how to tackle one of the longest running ethnic conflicts on the world stage

Cyprus and the Roadmap for Peace Michális S. Michael, Yücel Vural, 2018 While 2017 offered much ground for optimism in resolving the longstanding Cyprus problem a closer inspection of the differences experienced reveals the complex difficulties that surround the conflict The impasse introduced a short lived confidence that concealed the contradictory combustion of a frozen dormant conflict Despite intense high level negotiations a way forward has proved elusive while local constituency expectations are challenging their leaders for control over both process and outcome This dilemma lies at the heart of this edited volume

Peacebuilding and Spatial Transformation Annika Bjorkdahl, Stefanie Kappler, 2017-05-18 This book investigates peacebuilding in post conflict scenarios by analysing the link between peace space and place By focusing on the case studies of Cyprus Kosovo Bosnia Herzegovina Northern Ireland and South Africa the book provides a spatial reading of agency in peacebuilding contexts It conceptualises peacebuilding agency in post conflict landscapes as situated between place material locality and space the imaginary counterpart of place analysing the ways in which peacebuilding agency can be read as a spatial practice Investigating a number of post conflict cases this book outlines infrastructures of power and agency as they are manifested in spatial practice It demonstrates how spatial agency can take the form of conflict and exclusion on the one hand but also of transformation towards peace over time on the other hand Against this background the book argues that agency drives place making and space making processes Therefore transformative processes in post conflict societies can be understood as materialising through the active use and transformation of space and place This book will be of interest to students of peacebuilding peace and conflict studies human geography and IR in general

The Broken Olive Branch: Nationalism, Ethnic Conflict, and the Quest for Peace in Cyprus Harry Anastasiou, 2008-12-05 At the forefront of its field The Broken Olive Branch examines the dynamics of ethnonationalism in Cyprus a country torn in two by decades long struggles fueled by ethnic rivalry Harry Anastasiou's analysis of Cyprus's historic conflict through the lens of conflict analysis and resolution traces the division of Greek and Turkish Cypriots since the country's independence from British rule and mediation in 1960 In the first of two volumes Anastasiou offers a detailed portrait of Cyprus's dual nationalisms identifying the ways in which the ideologies undermined the relations between Greek and Turkish Cypriots The author demonstrates how the ethnic rivalry was largely engineered by the leaders of each community Taking a multilevel approach he maps out the changes in ethnonationalism over time tracing the impact of political leadership and international relations Resolving Cyprus James Ker-Lindsay, 2014 Over the past fifty years the Cyprus Problem has come to be regarded as the archetype of an intractable ethnic conflict Since 1964 the United Nations has been at the forefront of efforts to find a political solution to the dispute between the island's Greek and Turkish communities And yet despite the active involvement of six Secretaries General U Thant Kurt Waldheim Javier Perez de Cuellar Boutros Boutros Ghali Kofi Annan and Ban Ki Moon every attempt to reach a mutually acceptable solution has failed Here James Ker Lindsay draws together new and original perspectives from the leading experts on Cyprus including academics policy makers politicians and activists All have addressed one deceptively simple question Can Cyprus be solved Resolving Cyprus presents a comprehensive overview of the Cyprus Problem from a variety of approaches and offers new and innovative ideas as to how to tackle one of the longest running ethnic conflicts on the world stage This represents an essential contribution to the body of work on Cyprus and will be required reading for all those following the debates surrounding the Cyprus problem Bloomsbury Publishing Building Confidence in Peace Erol Kaymak, Alexandros Lordos, Nathalie Tocci, 2008 Reports and analyses the results of the first public opinion survey in Cyprus carried out by the Centre for European Policy Studies in collaboration with Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot partners In the new atmosphere of relaunched negotiations in 2008 this book investigates what Cypriots think of each other of the peace process and of possible solutions to the conflict Publisher The Broken Olive Branch Harry Anastasiou, 2008

Cyprus--visions for the Future François Lafrenière, Robert B. Mitchell, Canadian Institute for International Peace and Security, 1990 This report summarizes a year long Institute research project on the Cyprus problem which had the following goals to provide deeper understanding of the issues and dynamics of a difficult regional conflict to examine Cyprus as an example of nation building in a bi communal context to consider the Cyprus situation as a case study in peacekeeping and peacemaking and to develop options for increased economic cooperation political reconciliation and regional stability

Contesting the Past, Constructing the Future: A Comparative Study of the Cyprus Conflict in Secondary History Education Marina Hadjiyanni, 2006 This study examines the images and representations of Turkish Cypriot and Greek Cypriot perspectives on the Cyprus conflict transmitted through secondary history education textbooks and pedagogy in the two communities The study also discusses the possibilities for promoting peacebuilding via alternative approaches to history education in this divided society Using qualitative research the thesis analyzes selected Turkish Cypriot and Greek Cypriot secondary school history textbooks focusing on the period of 1955-1974 that led to the de facto separation of the island Additionally interviews with five educators and researchers from both communities probe their views and visions of nationalistic and pluralistic history education in Cyprus Findings indicate that the Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot school history narratives cultivate nationalistic collective memory and identity and exclude the voice of the other Cyprus history education holds the potential to prepare students from both sides of the border to participate in a more diverse and peaceful society

Shaping Peace in Kosovo Gëzim Visoka, 2018-07-18 This book explores the prospects and limits of international intervention in building peace and creating a new state in an ethnically divided society and fragmented international order. The book offers a critical account of the international missions in Kosovo and traces the effectiveness of fluid forms of interventionism. It also explores the co-optation of peace by ethno-nationalist groups and explores how their contradictory perception of peace produced an ungovernable peace which has been manifested with intractable ethnic antagonisms, state capture and ignorance of the root causes, drivers and consequences of the conflict. Under these conditions, prospects for emancipatory peace have not come from external actors, ethno-nationalist elite and critical resistance movements but from local and everyday acts of peace formation and agnostic forms for reconciliation. The book proposes an emancipatory agenda for peace in Kosovo embedded on post-ethnic politics and joint commitments to peace: a comprehensive agenda for reconciliation, people-centred security and peace enabling external assistance.

Cyprus: A Conflict at the Crossroads Thomas Diez, Nathalie Tocci, 2013-11-12 This unique collection of essays, available for the first time in paperback, provides a multi-faceted analysis of the Cyprus conflict. It sees the conflict both at a historical and at an analytical crossroads and brings together leading scholars from various disciplines to provide fresh perspectives on the long-standing issues surrounding Cyprus. The four parts of the book deal first with domestic determinants of the conflict and its resolution, then with external influences, before comparing Cyprus to other conflict cases and finally including approaches beyond political science. The application of different methodological and theoretical approaches from rational choice to gender studies to a single case allows for their comparison and makes this a must-read not only for those interested in Cyprus but for all students of conflict resolution.
