Women and the Material Culture of Death Beth Fowkes Tobin, 2017-07-05 Examining the compelling and often poignant connection between women and the material culture of death this collection focuses on the objects women make the images they keep the practices they use or are responsible for and the places they inhabit and construct through ritual and custom Women's material practices ranging from wearing mourning jewelry to dressing the dead stitching memorial samplers to constructing skull boxes collecting funeral programs to collecting and studying diseased hearts making and collecting taxidermies and making sculptures honoring the dead are explored in this collection as well as women's affective responses and sentimental labor that mark their expected and unexpected participation in the social practices surrounding death and the dead The largely invisible work involved in commemorating and constructing narratives and memorials about the dead from family members and friends to national figures calls attention to the role women as memory keepers for families local communities and the nation Women have tended to work collaboratively making collecting and sharing objects that conveyed sentiments about the deceased whether human or animal as well as the identity of mourners Death is about loss and many of the mourning practices that women have traditionally and are currently engaged in are about dealing with private grief and public loss as well as working to mitigate the more general anxiety that death engenders about the impermanence of life Women in Mourning Jean Clayton,1996 A Woman's Book of Grieving Nessa

Rapoport,1994 Acclaimed writer Nessa Rapoport offers a touching collection of short lyrical reflections on women s grief Filled with beauty honesty and solace these gentle poems are the perfect gift for women during life s most difficult times Speaks powerfully to both men and women Thomas Moore author of Care of the Soul Selection of the Book of the Month Club

Grieving As a Woman Kass P. Dotterweich,1998 Here is a book about grief written by a woman for women about the way women experience life s many losses Grieving as a Woman is at once practical and philosophical psychological and spiritual down to earth yet profound Widows' Words Nan Bauer Maglin,2019 Becoming a widow is one of the most traumatic life events that a woman can experience Yet as this remarkable new collection reveals each woman responds to that trauma differently Here forty three widows tell their stories in their own words Some were widowed young while others were married for decades Some cared for their late partners through long terminal illnesses while others lost their partners suddenly Some had male partners while others had female partners Yet each of these women faced the same basic dilemma how to go on living when a part of you is gone Widows Words is arranged chronologically starting with stories of women preparing for their partners deaths followed by the experiences of recent widows still reeling from their fresh loss and culminating in the accounts of women who lost their partners many years ago but still experience waves of grief Their accounts deal honestly with feelings of pain sorrow and despair and yet there are also powerful expressions of strength hope and even joy Whether you are a widow yourself or have simply experienced loss you will be sure to find something moving and profound in these diverse tales of mourning remembrance and resilience The Erotics of Grief Megan

Moore,2021-09-15 The Erotics of Grief considers how emotions propagate power by exploring whose lives are grieved and what kinds of grief are valuable within and eroticized by medieval narratives Megan Moore argues that grief is not only routinely eroticized in medieval literature but that it is a foundational emotion of medieval elite culture Focusing on the concept of grief as desire Moore builds on the history of the emotions and Georges Bataille s theory of the erotic as the conflict between desire and death one that perversely builds a sense of community organized around a desire for death The link between desire and death serves as an affirmation of living communities Moore incorporates literary visual and codicological evidence in sources from across the Mediterranean from Old French chansons de geste such as the Song of Roland and La mort le roi Artu and romances such as Erec et Enide Philomena and Floire et Blancheflor to Byzantine and ancient Greek novels to Middle English travel narratives such as Mandeville s Travels In her reading of the performance of
