Miville,Angela D. Ferguson,2014-02-06 Multicultural aspects of psychology have received some attention in the literature in the last decade A number of texts currently address these significant concerns for example Counseling the Culturally Different Sue Handbook of Multicultural Counseling Poterotto et l 2009 and Handbook of Multicultural Counseling Competencies Pope Davis Coleman 2005 In their most recent editions several of these books address more nuanced complexities of diversity for example the intersections of gender or social class with race ethnicity Meanwhile other texts have addressed gender issues in psychology Handbook of Counseling Women Counseling Men with some attention paid to racial ethnic and other diversity concerns Clearly the progression of scholarship in this field reflects the importance of incorporating multiple aspects of diversity within psychology However no book currently exists that fully addresses the complexities of race ethnicity and gender together Better understanding of the dual impact of race ethnicity and gender on psychological functioning may lead to more effective conceptualizations of a number of mental health issues such as domestic violence addictions health related behaviors and achievement Exploring the impact of race ethnicity and gender also may provide a broader understanding of self in community as this affects individuals families and other social groups and work and career development Topics of interest may include identity development worldviews and belief systems parenting styles interventions for promoting resilience and persistence and strategies for enhancing more accurate diagnostic and treatment modalities Today s world is comprised of multiple and intersecting communities that remain in need of psychological models and interventions that support and promote both individual and collective mental health We believe that utilizing unidimensional conceptual models e g focusing solely on race ethnicity or gender no longer adequately addresses psychological concerns that are dynamic complex and multi faceted The proposed Handbook will focus on timely topics which historically have been under addressed for a number of diverse populations

Rights of the Child, Mothers and Sentencing Alice Macharia,2021-02-22 This book draws international attention to the autonomy of the child accompanying incarcerated mothers and those they leave behind in the community despite being dependent on the convicted caregiver Adopting a child rights perspective the study explores how courts could go about sentencing mothers of young children for the commission of criminal offences whilst protecting the rights of the child as envisaged under the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child UNCRC Drawing on the author s experience as a sentencer in the Kenyan court and with reference to domestic regional and international law the book argues that children s rights are presently left in abeyance when their mothers are sentenced to imprisonment and that greater efforts should be made to recognize and give effect to the child s existence as an autonomous equal holder of human rights despite being dependent on the convicted caregiver It explores the application of precedence as well as the court s discretion in view of the dependent child and concludes that policy reform in this respect calls for change in attitude and approach on women and children s issues Observing that internationally most women imprisoned with their children fall beneath the custodial threshold set by law the research examines how current sentencing practices could be reformed and suggests harnessing the Power of Mercy Committee the Sentencing Guidelines and progressive practices from developed countries in protecting the child s rights by imposing non custodial sentences for the offending mothers It is concluded that in all jurisdictions strict accountability for the dependent child should be situated with the judiciary and that the same should be pronounced as a mandatory legal requirement The book will be a valuable resource for academic researchers and policy makers working in the area of international children s rights law and criminal law
