Wisconsin 1 Step at a Time Bradley Carlson, 2012-01-06 Bradley Carlsons muscular dystrophy causes brutal leg cramps that leave him crumpled on the floor He can't climb stairs and curbs and sometimes he can't even move But none of that stopped him from putting his best foot forward and walking through his home state of Wisconsin He walked through 595 incorporated cities trekking from Lake Michigan to the mighty Mississippi During his journey he experienced his share of falls and challenges but he also met incredible people enjoyed special moments and witnessed the breathtaking beauty of his home state including waterfalls desert like dunes along Lake Michigan and picturesque mountaintops and forest views

Bradley didn't set out on this journey to raise money or hand out brochures. He simply did it to show himself and others that someone with muscular dystrophy can accomplish great things. Sager, 2016-07-06 In Marital Cruelty in Antebellum America Robin C. Sager probes the struggles of aggrieved spouses shedding light on the nature of marriage and violence in the United States in the decades prior to the Civil War. Analyzing over 1,500 divorce records that reveal intimate details of marriages in conflict in Virginia, Texas, and Wisconsin from 1840-1860, Sager offers a rare glimpse into the private lives of ordinary Americans shaken by accusations of cruelty. At a time when the standard for an ideal marriage held that both partners adequately perform their respective duties, hostility often arose from ongoing domestic struggles for power. Despite a rise in the then novel expectation of marriage as a companionate relationship and even in the face of liberalized divorce grounds, marital conflicts often focused on violations of duty, not lack of love. Sager describes how in this environment, cruelty was understood as a failure to fulfill expectations and as a weapon to brutally enforce more traditional interpretations of marital duty. Sager's findings also challenge historical literature's assumptions about the regional influences on violence, showing that married southerners were no more or less violent than their midwestern counterparts. Her work reveals how definitions and perceptions of cruelty varied according to the gender of victim and perpetrator. Correcting historical mischaracterizations of women's violence as trivial, rare, or defensive, Sager finds antebellum wives both capable and willing to commit a wide variety of cruelties within their marriages. Her research provides details about the reality of nineteenth-century conjugal unions, including the deep unhappiness buried within them. Heg Steve Fortney, 1998-04 Steven Fortney's novel inspired by the life and battlefield death of Hans Christian Heg is the embodiment of the immigration experience in the 19th century. Wisconsin's Heg was from modest Norwegian origins, came as a child to the frontier in the 1830s, and embraced the spirit of the times. Wisconsin's Historic Sites Committee on Wisconsin Women, 1948 Proceedings of the ...
