The Road to Abu Ghraib James F. Gebhardt, 2005 The 2004 revelations of detainee maltreatment at the Abu Ghraib prison outside of Baghdad Iraq have led to an exhaustive overhaul of Army doctrine and training with respect to this topic The Army has identified disconnects in its individual leader and collective training programs and has also identified the absence of a deliberate focused doctrinal crosswalk between the two principal branches concerned with detainees Military Intelligence MI and Military Police MP These problems and their consequences are real and immediate The perceptions of just treatment held by citizens of our nation and to a great extent the world at large have been and are being shaped by the actions of the US Army both in the commission of detainee maltreatment but also and more importantly in the way the Army addresses its institutional shortcomings This study examines the relationship over time between doctrine in two branches of the Army Military Police MP and Military Intelligence MI and the Geneva Convention Relative to the Treatment of Prisoners of War GPW Specifically it analyzes the MP detention field manual series and the MI interrogation field manual series to evaluate their GPW content It also further examines the relationship of military police and military intelligence to each other in the enemy prisoner of war EPW and detainee operations environment as expressed in their doctrinal manuals Finally the study looks at the Army s experience in detainee operations through the prism of six conflicts or contingency operations the Korean War Vietnam Operation URGENT FURY Grenada 1983 Operation JUST CAUSE Panama 1989 Operation DESERT STORM Iraq 1991 and Operation UPHOLD DEMOCRACY Haiti 1994 Internment and Resettlement Operations United States. Department of the Army, 2010 Field manual FM 3-39.40 is aligned with FM 3-39 the military police keystone FM 3-39.40 provides guidance for commanders and staffs on internment and resettlement I R operations This manual addresses I R operations across the spectrum of conflict specifically the doctrinal paradigm shift from traditional enemy prisoner of war EPW operations to the broader and more inclusive requirements of detainee operations Additionally FM 3-39.40 discusses the critical issue of detainee rehabilitation It describes the doctrinal foundation principles and processes that military police and other elements will employ when dealing with I R populations As part of internment these populations include U S military prisoners and multiple categories of detainees civilian internees CIs retained personnel RP and enemy combatants while resettlement operations are focused on multiple categories of dislocated civilians DCs Military police conduct I R operations during offensive defensive stability or civil support operations I R operations include military police support to U S military prisoner and detainee operations within operational environments OEs ranging from major combat operations to humanitarian assistance missions in support of a host nation HN or civil agency I R operations are a major subordinate Army tactical task under the sustainment warfighting function See FM 7-15 Placement under the sustainment warfighting function does not mean that I R operations do not have relevance in the other warfighting functions While I R is listed under the sustainment warfighting function it should be noted this is not a specified or implied mission of all sustainment units or commands Most sustainment units provide logistics personnel services and health service support to I R operations Military police are uniquely qualified to perform the full range of I R operations They have the requisite skill sets provided through specific training and operational experience The skills necessary for performing confinement operations for U S military prisoners in permanent facilities are directly transferable and adaptable for tactical confinement of U S military prisoners and detention of detainees All military police units are specifically manned equipped and trained to perform I R operations across the spectrum and those identified as I R units are the specialists within the Army for this role FM 3-39.40 depicts the changes in terminology from the focus on the contiguous battlefield to reflect the types of operations being conducted in today's OEs. These changes address the modifications made to previous EPW processing operations. The terms division forward central collection point and corps holding area no longer apply. They have been replaced with the terms detainee collection point DCP, brigade level detainee holding area DHA, division level theater internment facility TIF, and strategic internment facility SIF. This manual recognizes the role of police intelligence operations in I R operations and enhances the critical importance of military police and military intelligence interaction at all echelons. It further highlights the long standing requirement to treat all individuals humanely according to applicable U S laws and regulations, international laws, execution orders, fragmentary orders, FRAGOs, and other operationally specific guidelines such as Department of Defense DOD policies. Moreover, it stipulates that ill treatment of U S military prisoners, detainees, EPWs, CIs, and RP and DCs is strictly prohibited regardless of any circumstances or the chaos of major operations. FM 3-39.40 aligns with FM 3-0, FM 3-39, FM 7-15, and other Army and joint doctrine to include Joint Publication JP 3-63. This manual is organized into 10 chapters with 14 appendixes to provide additional details on I R topics. Chapters 1 through 3 follow the flow of FM 3-39 and describe the military police function of I R operations. Chapters 4 through 6 focus primarily on detainee operations to include planning, preparing, executing, and sustaining all I R operations. Chapters 7 through 10 focus on the confinement of U S military prisoners, rehabilitative programs for U S military prisoners and detainees, parole and release, or transfer programs, and resettlement operations for DCs.

Preface Internment and Resettlement Operations - FM 3-39.40 Department Of the Army, 2015-11-03. Field manual FM 3-39.40 is aligned with FM 3-39, the military police keystone. FM 3-39.40 provides guidance for commanders and staffs on internment and resettlement I R operations. This manual addresses I R operations across the spectrum of conflict, specifically the doctrinal paradigm shift from traditional enemy prisoner of war EPW operations to the broader and more inclusive requirements of detainee operations. Additionally, FM 3-39.40 discusses the critical issue of detainee rehabilitation. It describes the doctrinal foundation, principles, and processes that military police and other elements will employ when dealing with I R populations. As part of internment, these populations include U S military prisoners and multiple categories of detainees: civilian internees, CIs, retained personnel, RP, and enemy combatants, while resettlement operations are focused on multiple categories of dislocated civilians, DCs.

The Fight For The High Ground: The U.S. Army And Interrogation During Operation Iraqi Freedom I, May 2003-April 2004 Major Douglas A. Pryer, 2015-11-06. During Operation IRAQI FREEDOM I OIF I, U S soldiers waged a desperate war against a growing insurgency. Mounting U S casualties became the catalyst for a hidden war within the war. Arrayed on one side of this secret conflict were leaders who believed that the ends justify the means. Opposing this camp were those who believed that U S soldiers do not torture because of the higher ideals to which all Americans should subscribe. This clandestine conflict was waged at every level of command from the fields of Iraq to Washington D C. In this history, the adverse influence of the ends justify the means camp in Iraq is charted Conversely interrogation operations within the largest division task force and brigade combat team of OIF I are explored to explain why most interrogators treated detainees humanely Those deficiencies of Army doctrine force structure and training that enabled harsh interrogation policies to sometimes trump traditional virtues are explained Lastly the Army s recent dramatic improvements with regard to interrogations are summarized and still existing deficiencies are noted This history concludes that the damage done by abusive interrogations will be felt for years to come and that much work still needs to be done to ensure such damage never recurs Detainee Operations Inspection

Torture and Truth Mark Danner,2004-10-31 Includes the torture photographs in color and the full texts of the secret administration memos on torture and the investigative reports on the abuses at Abu Ghraib In the spring of 2004 graphic photographs of Iraqi prisoners being tortured by American soldiers in Baghdad s Abu Ghraib prison flashed around the world provoking outraged debate Did they depict the rogue behavior of a few bad apples Or did they in fact reveal that the US government had decided to use brutal tactics in the war on terror The images are shocking but they do not tell the whole story The abuses at Abu Ghraib were not isolated incidents but the result of a chain of deliberate decisions and failures of command To understand how Hooded Man and Leashed Man could have happened Mark Danner turns to the documents that are collected for the first time in this book These documents include secret government memos some never before published that portray a fierce argument within the Bush administration over whether al Qaeda and Taliban prisoners were protected by the Geneva Conventions and how far the US could go in interrogating them There are also official reports on abuses at Abu Ghraib by the International Committee of the Red Cross by US Army investigators and by an independent panel chaired by former defense secretary James R Schlesinger In sifting this evidence Danner traces the path by which harsh methods of interrogation approved for suspected terrorists in Afghanistan and Guant namo migrated to Iraq as resistance to the US occupation grew and US casualties mounted Yet as Mark Danner writes the real scandal here is political it is not about revelation or disclosure but about the failure once wrongdoing is disclosed of politicians officials the press and ultimately citizens to act For once we know the story the photos and documents tell we are left with the questions they pose for our democratic society Does fighting a new kind of war on terror justify torture Who will we hold responsible for deciding to pursue such a policy and what will be the moral and political costs to the country Armed Groups Jeffrey H.
