Creative Writing in Post-Secondary Education Lisa Martin, 2025-02-20 A blend of memoir and scholarly review this book explores the kinds of thinking creative writing as a distinctly practical subject makes possible within post secondary education Taking the idea that creative writing should be grounded in practice Lisa Martin explores how the nature of the subject gives permission to think specifically locally from one's own position and in a necessarily limited way without having one's thinking discounted as lacking rigour as a result. Modelling the deep and essential connection between practice and research in the field, this book considers post-secondary creative writing in its three key aspects: artistic practice, pedagogical practice, and practice-led research in order to articulate the distinctive contributions creative writing makes to what thinking means and whose thinking gets included. Drawing on Martin's own artistic practice as well as more than a decade of pedagogical experience in creative writing, this book braids together disciplinary history, research-informed autobiographical analysis of artistic practice and pedagogy, and scholarly research in adjacent fields such as creativity studies and educational psychology. Connecting creative writing's central commitment to artistic practice and local material embodied thinking with the development of learner-centred pedagogies, Creative Writing in Post-Secondary Education is timely, important, and will spark spirited discussion within a debate that has been simmering since the inception of creative writing.

Writing Creative Non-Fiction Kapka Kassabova, John I MacArtney, Katie Karnehm, Rodge Glass, Helen Pleasance, Rebecca Gordon Stewart, Rhiannon Marks, Jo Collinson Scott, Erin Soros, Elizabeth Reeder, 2015-03-02

Writers of creative non-fiction are often expected to be able to recreate reality to deal with or even access a singular truth. But the author, like any human, is not an automaton remotely tasked with capturing a life or an event. Whether we tell stories and understand them as fiction or non-fiction, or whether we draw away from these classifications, writers craft and shape writing. All writing. No experience exists on a flat plane, and recounting or interpreting events will always involve some element of artistic manipulation. Every instance, exchange, discussion, event is open to multiple interpretations and can be described in many ways, all of which are potentially truthful. Writing Creative Non-Fiction: Determining the Form contains essays and original writing from novelists, poets, songwriters, musicians, and academics. The book covers topics that range from explorations of the role of the author, definitions and representations of the form, self and illness, to the spectral elements of non-fiction and its role in historical narratives. The essays included in this volume address everything from memoir, biography, and autobiography to a discussion of musical approaches to criticism and a non-fiction interview. The book identifies key writers including Christopher Isherwood, David Shields, B.S. Johnson, James Frey, Sine Seierstad, John D. Agata, W.G. Sebald, Jonathan Coe, Hilary Mantel, James Kelman, Liz Lochhead, and Arthur Frank, and is essential reading for students, researchers, and writers of creative non-fiction.
