Unlikely Entrepreneurs Barbara Mann Wall, 2021-01-29 In Unlikely Entrepreneurs Barbara Mann Wall looks at the development of religious hospitals in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and the entrepreneurial influence Catholic sisters held in this process When immigrant nuns came to the United States in the late nineteenth century they encountered a market economy that structured the way they developed their hospitals Sisters enthusiastically engaged in the market as entrepreneurs but they used a set of tools and understanding that were counter to the market Their entrepreneurship was not to expand earnings but rather to advance Catholic spirituality Wall places the development of Catholic hospital systems located in Illinois Indiana Minnesota Texas and Utah owned and operated by Catholic sisters within the larger social economic and medical history of the time In the modern health care climate with the influences of corporations federal laws spiraling costs managed care and medical practices that rely less on human judgments and more on technological innovations the modern hospital reflects a dim memory of the past This book will inform future debates on who will provide health care as the sisters depart how costs will be met who will receive care and who will be denied access to health services

MANLY,2017-05 This is the unlikely but true story of a man who had none of the qualities considered necessary for an entrepreneur no eccentric IT genius nor money market marvel nor the innovator creator of a new market Instead Alan was a hard working obsessive compulsive armed only with a ninth grade education and some rat cunning whose parents dream was for him to work as a postman In this funny unforgettable and compelling account he tells the tale of his most unlikely journey made every mistake fell into every trap bought every scam distracted by the usual suspects squabbles over money relationships in ruins and pursued to the point of financial calamity and personal insanity by a vexatious litigant for ten years It was only when Alan started ignoring conventional wisdom and breaking all the rules of business that everything turned around for him This is a hands on white knuckle ride into that rarest of destinations the unvarnished truth If you ever dreamed of creating a business empire from scratch or wanted to learn something about the world of business then you must read this extraordinary story This is business as it should be taught in the raw For those who want to act not talk Littered with gold nuggets ROSS CAMERON HOST SKYNEWS OUTSIDERS With God on Our Side Adam D. Reich,2012-04-15 When unions undertake labor organizing campaigns they often do so from strong moral positions contrasting workers rights to decent pay or better working conditions with the more venal financial motives of management But how does labor confront management when management itself has moral legitimacy In With God on Our Side Adam D Reich tells the story of a five year campaign to unionize Santa Rosa Memorial Hospital a Catholic hospital in California Based on his own work as a volunteer organizer with the Service Employees International Union SEIU Reich explores how both union leaders and hospital leaders sought to show they were upholding the Catholic mission of the hospital against a market represented by the other Ultimately workers and union leaders were able to reinterpret Catholic values in ways that supported their efforts to organize More generally Reich argues that unions must weave together economic and cultural power in order to ensure their continued relevancy in the postindustrial world In addition to advocating for workers economic interests unions must engage with workers emotional investments in their work must contend with the kind of moral authority that Santa Rosa Hospital leaders exerted to dissuade workers from organizing and must connect labor s project to broader conceptions of the public good cases is designed for instructors who want to bring real situations into their entrepreneurial finance or management courses. Each case speaks to students who are planning to start companies or join venture capital, private equity, firms, investment banks, or multinational companies. Students will learn about entrepreneurial issues by comparing and contrasting opportunities, financing, contexts, valuation approaches, and entrepreneurs in the US and other countries. These case studies present a broad, integrated approach to entrepreneurial ventures. They not only consider a wide range of business models but also the people and relationships that make them work.
