Unveiling Traditions Postcolonial Islam In A Polycentric World:

Unveiling Traditions Anouar Majid, 2000-11-29 Questions the intellectual assumptions that prevent an understanding of potential Islamic contributions toward a more egalitarian world civilization Mahathir's Islam Sven Schottmann, 2018-09-30 Mahathir Mohamad's legacy as Malaysia's longest serving prime minister 1981-2003 is deeply controversial His engagement with Islam the religion of just over half Malaysia's population has often been dismissed as partisan maneuvering Yet his willingness to countenance a more prominent place for Islam in government and society is what distinguished him from other modernist politicians and his instinct to set Malaysian politics against the backdrop of the wider Muslim world was politically astute Author Sven Schottmann argues that Mahathir's transformative effect on Malaysia can only be fully appreciated if we also take him seriously as one of the postcolonial Muslim world's most significant political thought leaders Schottmann sees Mahathir's representations of Islam as a relatively coherent discourse that can legitimately be described as Mahathir's Islam This discourse contains Mahathir's assessment of the economic political and sociocultural problems facing the contemporary Muslim world and the range of solutions and corrective measures that he proposed Muslims should adopt His ideas are fraught with flaws and contradictions On the one hand he emphasized the individualistic egalitarian pluralistic democratic and dynamic qualities of Islam On the other his government enacted legislation and acquiesced in the activities of religious bodies that curtailed religious freedoms of both Muslims and non Muslims His ideas contributed to Malaysia's worsening state of interethnic relations yet his insistence that every Muslim had the right to speak for Islam may have paradoxically prepared the ground for a future democratization of Malaysian politics Mahathir's Islam is based on rigorous analysis of Mahathir's speeches interviews and writings which the author is able to link to parallel processes elsewhere in the Muslim world Indonesia the Middle East Pakistan Turkey and diaspora communities in the West Mahathir's Islamic discourse Schottmann suggests must be read against the wider late twentieth century resurgence of religion in general and the post 1970s Islamic revival in particular Balanced in approach and engagingly written this book will be of interest to scholars and students of political science religious studies and others interested in Malaysia Southeast Asia or Mahathir himself Islam and the Veil Theodore Gabriel, Rabiha Hannan, 2011-04-21 This volume is centred around the theme of veiling in Islam and provides multifarious aspects of the discussion regarding veiling of Muslim women especially in the West The issue of veiling has been intensively debated in Western society and has implications for religious liberty inter communal relationships and cultural interaction Islam and the Veil seeks to generate open and objective discussion of this highly important though controversial subject with contributions from distinguished scholars and academics including female practitioners of Islam This subject has inflamed passions and generated heated debate in the media in recent years particularly in the West This book aims to look at the historical background theological and social factors underlying the veiling of women in Islam Such discussion will provide the reader with a well balanced and unbiased analysis of this important aspect of Islamic practice

In-Between Identities: Signs of Islam in Contemporary

American Writing John Waldmeir, 2018-09-11 For the writers and artists in In Between Identities Signs of Islam in Contemporary American Writing contemporary Muslim American identity is neither singular nor fixed Rather than dismiss the tradition in favor of more secular approaches however all of the figures here discover in Muhammad's revelation resources for affirming such uncertainty For them the Qur'anic notion of a divine sign validates creation even that creativity born of contrasting if not competing assumptions about identity To develop this claim individual chapters in the book discuss Muslim faith in the work of poets Naomi Shihab Nye Kazim Ali Tyson Amir and Amir Sulaiman novelists Mohja Kahf Rabih Alameddine and Willow Wilson illustrator Sandow Birk playwright Ayad Akhtar and the online record of the 30 Mosques in 30 Days project

Disorientation: Muslim Identity in Contemporary Anglophone Literature E. Santesso, 2013-09-12

Focusing on British novels about the Muslim immigrant experience published after 9/11 this book examines the promise as well as the limits of British Muslim identity as a viable form of self representation and the challenges particularly for women of reconciling non Western religious identity with the secular policies of Western states

Contemporary Arab-American Literature Carol Fadda-Conrey, 2014 The last couple of decades have witnessed a flourishing of Arab American literature across multiple genres Yet increased interest in this literature is ironically paralleled by a prevalent bias against Arabs and Muslims that portrays their long presence in the US as a recent and unwelcome phenomenon Spanning the 1990s to the present Carol Fadda Conrey takes in the sweep of literary and cultural texts by Arab American writers in order to understand the ways in which their depictions of Arab homelands whether actual or imagined play a crucial role in shaping cultural articulations of US citizenship and belonging By asserting themselves within a US framework while maintaining connections to their homelands Arab Americans contest the blanket representations of themselves as dictated by the US nation state Deploying a multidisciplinary framework at the intersection of Middle Eastern studies US ethnic studies and diaspora studies Fadda Conrey argues for a transnational discourse that overturns the often rigid affiliations embedded in ethnic labels Tracing the shifts in transnational perspectives from the founders of Arab American literature like Gibran Kahlil Gibran and Ameen Rihani to modern writers such as Naomi Shihab Nye Joseph Geha Randa Jarrar and Suheir Hammad Fadda Conrey finds that contemporary Arab American writers depict strong yet complex attachments to the US landscape She explores how the idea of home is negotiated between immigrant parents and subsequent generations alongside analyses of texts that work toward fostering more nuanced understandings of Arab and Muslim identities in the wake of post 9/11 anti Arab sentiments

Edward Said's Rhetoric of the Secular Mathieu E. Courville, 2011-10-20 Edward Said's Rhetoric of the Secular provides an important new reading of Edward W. Said's work emphasizing not only the distinction but also the fuzzy borders between representations of the religious and the secular found within and throughout his oeuvre and at the core of some of his most customary rhetorical strategies Mathieu Courville begins by examining Said's own reflections on his life before moving on to key debates about Said's work within Religious Studies and Middle Eastern Studies and his relationship to French critical theorists. Through close attention to Said's use of the literal and the figurative when dealing with religious national and cultural matters, Courville discerns a pattern that illuminates what Said means by secular. Said's work shows that the secular is not the utter opposite of religion in the modern globalized world but may exist in a productive tension with it.

Female Pioneers from Ancient Egypt and the Middle East Ahmed A. Karim, Radwa Khalil, Ahmed Moustafa, 2021-07-27 This book explores the contributions of Eastern female pioneers in science, politics, and arts from Ancient Egypt to modern times and discusses the possible psychological and social impact of this knowledge on today's gender role in Eastern and Western Societies. Based on psychological studies on social learning, the book argues that profound knowledge of the historical contributions of Eastern female pioneers in science, politics, and arts can improve today's gender roles in Middle Eastern countries and inspire young women living in Western Societies with Eastern migration background. Spanning disciplines such as Natural sciences, Neuroscience, Psychology, Sociology, Islamic Theology, History, and Arts, and including contributions from diverse geographical regions across the world, this book provides an elaborate review of the gender role of women in Ancient Egypt and the Middle East, outlining their prominence and influence and discusses the possible psychological and social impact of this knowledge on today's gender roles.

Encountering the Transnational Ms. Meena Sharify-Funk, 2013-03-28 When Muslim women from diverse national and cultural contexts meet one another through transnational dialogue and networking, what happens to their sense of identity and social agency? Addressing this question, Meena Sharify-Funk encountered women activists and intellectuals in North America, the Middle East, South Asia, and Southeast Asia, women whose lives and visions have become linked by the transnational despite their differing circumstances and intellectual backgrounds. The resultant work provides a rich and cliché-bursting account of women's reflections on a wide range of topics, including the status of women in Islam, the role of women as interpreters of religious norms, the relationship between secular and religious forms of self-identification, perceptions of Islamic Western relations, experiences of marginalization and opportunities for empowerment. Giving careful attention both to common threads in Muslim women's experiences and to the unique voices of remarkable women, this is a compelling account of conversations that are bringing new energy and dynamism into women's activism in a world of collapsing distances.

Geographies of Muslim Women Ghazi-Walid Falah, Caroline Rose Nagel, 2005-03-31 This groundbreaking volume explores how Islamic discourse and practice intersect with gender relations and broader political and economic processes to shape women's geographies in a variety of regional contexts. Contributors represent a wide range of disciplinary subfields and perspectives: cultural geography, political geography, development studies, migration studies, and historical geography, yet they share a common focus on bringing issues of space and place to the forefront of analyses of Muslim women's experiences. Themes addressed include the intersections of gender, development, and religion; mobility and migration; and discourse, representation, and the contestation of space. In the process the book challenges many stereotypes and assumptions about the category of Muslim woman so often invoked in public debate in both traditional societies and the West

Hiding from History Meili Steele, 2018-05-31 In Hiding from History Meili Steele challenges an assumption at the heart of current debates in political literary historical and cultural theory that it is impossible to reason through history Steele believes that two influential schools of contemporary thought hide from history liberal philosophies of public reason as espoused by such figures as Jürgen Habermas Martha Nussbaum and John Rawls and structuralism poststructuralism as practiced by Judith Butler Hayden White and Michel Foucault For Steele public reasoning cannot be easily divorced from either the historical imagination in general or the specific legacies that shape and often haunt political communities Steele introduces the concept of public imagination concepts images stories symbols and practices of a culture to show how the imaginative social space that citizens inhabit can be a place for political discourse and debate Steele engages with a wide range of thinkers and their works as well as historical events debates over the display of the Confederate flag in public places Ralph Ellison's exchange with Hannah Arendt over school desegregation in Little Rock the controversy surrounding Daniel Goldhagen's book Hitler's Willing Executioners and arguments about the concept of a clash of civilizations as expressed by Samuel Huntington Ashis Nandy Edward Said and Amartya Sen Championing history and literature's capacity to articulate the politics of public imagination Hiding from History boldly outlines new territory for literary and political theory

Islamophobia and the Novel Peter Morey, 2018-08-14 In an era of rampant Islamophobia what do literary representations of Muslims and anti-Muslim bigotry tell us about changing concepts of cultural difference In Islamophobia and the Novel Peter Morey analyzes how recent works of fiction have framed and responded to the rise of anti-Muslim prejudice showing how their portrayals of Muslims both reflect and refute the ideological preoccupations of media and politicians in the post-9/11 West Islamophobia and the Novel discusses novels embodying a range of positions from the avowedly secular to the religious and from texts that appear to underwrite Western assumptions of cultural superiority to those that recognize and critique neoimperial impulses Morey offers nuanced readings of works by John Updike Ian McEwan Hanif Kureishi Monica Ali Mohsin Hamid John le Carré Khaled Hosseini Azar Nafisi and other writers emphasizing the demands of the literary marketplace for representations of Muslims He explores how depictions of Muslim experience have challenged liberal assumptions regarding the novel's potential for empathy and its ability to encompass a variety of voices

Morey argues for a greater degree of critical self consciousness in our understanding of writing by and about Muslims in contrast to both exclusionary nationalism and the fetishization of difference Contemporary literature s capacity to unveil the conflicted nature of anti Muslim bigotry expands our range of resources to combat Islamophobia This in turn might contribute to Islamophobia s eventual dismantling The Cambridge Companion to Transnational American Literature Yogita Goyal,2017-02-13 For two decades the transnational turn in literary studies has generated enormous comment and controversy This Companion provides a comprehensive account of the scope impact and critical possibilities of the transnational turn in American literary studies It situates the study of American literature in relation to ethnic postcolonial and hemispheric studies Leading scholars open up wide ranging examinations of transnationalism in American literature through form and aesthetics theories of nation gender sexuality religion and race as well as through conventional forms of historical periodization Offering a new map of American literature in the global era this volume provides a history of the field key debates and instances of literary readings that convey the way in which transnationalism may be seen as a method not just a description of literary work that engages more than one nation Contributors identify the key modes by which writers have responded to major historical political and ethical issues prompted by the globalization of literary studies Of Irony and Empire Laura Rice,2012-02-01 Of Irony and Empire is a dynamic thorough examination of Muslim writers from former European colonies in Africa who have increasingly entered into critical conversations with the metropole Focusing on the period between World War I and the present the age of irony this book explores the political and symbolic invention of Muslim Africa and its often contradictory representations Through a critical analysis of irony and resistance in works by writers who come from nomadic areas around the Sahara Mustapha Tlili Tunisia Malika Mokeddem Algeria Cheikh Hamidou Kane Senegal and Tayeb Salih Sudan Laura Rice offers a fresh perspective that accounts for both the influence of the Western instrumental imaginary and the Islamic holistic one The Muslim Question in Europe Peter O'Brien,2016-02-29 In this book the author argues that the vehement controversies surrounding European Muslims are better understood as persistent unresolved intra European political tensions rather than as a clash between Islam and the West This title was made Open Access by libraries from around the world through Knowledge Unlatched 11-Sep-01 Bulent Gokay,R. B. J. Walker,2003 In a comprehensive study of the world since September 11th 2001 the contributors to this volume offer a series of perspectives on current security trends The scholars who participated in this study are from Europe North America and Asia
