Upng 2015:

The Report: Papua New Guinea 2015 Oxford Business Group, 2016-09-17 In Papua New Guinea hopes are high that real change is on its way the country's political administrative financial and technical leaders now have to find a way to ensure the most productive distribution and use of financial resources Many international actors are watching closely to see how this young country negotiates its path Papua New Guinea became a major exporter of gas in 2014 when the 19bn PNG liquefied natural gas LNG project was completed ahead of schedule and within budget significantly increasing the size and strength of the economy The year ahead is likely to see PNG benefit from the further development of its hydrocarbons sector fuelling the growth of its economy as a whole The LNG influx also poses challenges however in terms of ensuring inclusive growth and productive use of the new revenues PNG takes pride in being a final frontier of natural and cultural development but the task ahead is to protect the country's heritage while becoming part of the global economy

Struggle, Reform, Boom and Bust Stephen Howes, Martin Davies, Rohan Fox, Maholopa Laveil, Manoj K. Pandey, Kelly Samof, Dek Joe Sum, 2025-07-31 Since Papua New Guinea's independence in 1975 economic growth has been slow but volatile with major changes in economic structure and policies as well as in politics and governance This economic history written to commemorate the fiftieth year of independence and the first to be produced in some 15 years divides the half century since independence into four periods the relative stability but also early struggles of the seventies and eighties the crises and reforms of the nineties the boom of the 2000s and the quiet bust of the 2010s Two chapters cover each period's major economic policy institutional and political developments The final three chapters provide an overall assessment of economic performance and policies since independence and link them with its politics and institutions The book combines painstaking documentation with original analysis to reveal both the strengths and weaknesses of the PNG economy and theorises that the country's hyper politics and insecurity have combined to produce and are reinforced by a weak but stable state and low and increasingly resource dependent growth Data driven frank insightful and engaging Struggle Reform Boom and Bust is written by an expert team of economists from the University of Papua New Guinea and The Australian National University under the leadership of Professor Stephen Howes Director of the ANU Development Policy Centre It is an essential resource for anyone interested in the economy of Papua New Guinea as well as an important contribution to the literature on the challenges and institutional determinants of post colonial development

Indigenous People and Mobile Technologies Laurel Evelyn Dyson, Stephen Grant, Max Hendriks, 2015-10-05 In the rich tradition of mobile communication studies and new media this volume examines how mobile technologies are being embraced by Indigenous people all over the world As mobile phones have revolutionised society both in developed and developing countries so Indigenous people are using mobile devices to bring their communities into the twenty first century The explosion of mobile devices and applications in Indigenous communities addresses issues of isolation and building an environment for the learning and sharing of knowledge providing support for cultural and language revitalisation and offering the means for social and economic renewal This book explores how mobile technologies are overcoming disadvantage and the tyrannies of distance allowing benefits to flow directly to Indigenous people and bringing wide ranging changes to their lives It begins with general issues and theoretical perspectives followed by empirical case studies that include the establishment of Indigenous mobile networks and practices mobile technologies for social change and finally the ways in which mobile technology is being used to sustain Indigenous culture and language

Mandates and Missteps Anna Kent, 2024-02-02 Mandates and Missteps is the first comprehensive history of Australian government scholarships to the Pacific from the first scheme in 1948 to the Australia Awards of 2018 The study of scholarships provides a window into foreign and education policy making across decades and the impact such policies have had on individuals and communities This work demonstrates the broad role these scholarships have played in bilateral relationships between Australia and Pacific Island territories and countries The famed Colombo Plan is here put in its proper context within international aid and international education history Australian scholarship programs it is argued ultimately reflect Australia and its perception of itself as a nation in the Pacific more than the needs of Pacific Island nations Mandates and Missteps traces Australia's role as both a coloniser in the Territory of Papua and New Guinea and a participant in the process of decolonisation across the Pacific This study will be of interest to students and scholars of international development international education and foreign policy

Extracting Innovations Martin J. Clifford, Robert K. Perrons, Saleem H. Ali, Tim A. Grice, 2018-06-13 This book considers the most contemporary innovations propelling the extractive industries forward while also creating new environmental and social challenges The socio ecological fabric of innovation in the extractive industries is considered through an integrative approach that brings together engineers natural scientists and social scientists academics and practitioners giving an empirically grounded and realistic evaluation of the innovations in this sector It synthesizes a series of questions including

Hybrid Public Policy Innovations Mark Fabian, Robert Breunig, 2018-03-12 Political discourse in much of the world remains mired in simplistic ideological dichotomies of market fundamentalism for efficiency versus substantial socialism for equity Contemporary public policy design is far more sophisticated It blends market government and community tools to simultaneously achieve both equity and efficiency Unlike in the twentieth century this design is increasingly grounded in a deep evidence base derived by way of rigorous empirical techniques A new paradigm is emerging hybrid policies This volume provides a thorough introduction to this technical side of public policy analysis and development It demonstrates that it is possible to go beyond ideology and find there some powerful answers to our most pressing problems An international team of experts many of whom have experience with the design or implementation of hybrid policies helps cover the behavioural institutional and regulatory theories that inform the choice of policy objectives and lead the initial conception of solutions They explain the reasons why we need evidence based public policy and the state of the art empirical techniques involved in its development And they analyse a range of in depth case studies from industrial relations to health care to illustrate how hybrids can intermingle the strengths of governments markets and the community to combat the weaknesses of each and arrive at bipartisan outcomes Hybrid Public Policy Innovations is geared to scholars and practitioners of public policy administration and management who desire to understand the analytical reasons why policies are designed the way they are and the purpose of evidence gathering frameworks attached to policies at implementation

Working as Indigenous Archaeologists George Nicholas, Joe Watkins, 2024-09-30 Working as Indigenous Archaeologists explores the often contentious relationship between Indigenous and other formerly colonized peoples and Archaeology through their own voices Over the past 35 plus years the once novel field of Indigenous Archaeology has become a relatively familiar part of the archaeological landscape It has been celebrated criticized and analyzed as to its practical and theoretical applications and its political nature No less important are the life stories of its Indigenous practitioners What has brought some of them to become practicing archaeologists or heritage managers What challenges have they faced from both inside and outside their communities And why haven't more pursued Archaeology as a vocation or avocation This volume is a collection of 60 autobiographical chapters by Indigenous archaeologists and heritage specialists from around the world some community based some academic some in other realms who are working to connect past and present in meaningful and especially personal ways As Archaeology continues to evolve there remain strong tensions between an objective science oriented evidentiary based approach to knowing the past and a more subjective relational humanistic approach informed by local values traditional knowledge and holistic perspective While there are no maps for these new territories hearing directly from those Indigenous individuals who have pursued Archaeology reveals the pathways taken Those stories will provide inspiration and confidence for those curious about what lies ahead This is an important volume for anyone interested in the present state and future of the archaeological discipline

Administrative Law and Judicial Review in Papua New Guinea Christopher Karaiye, 2019-06-18 This is a compendium of administrative law and judicial review in Papua New Guinea In this book the author precisely recounts the history of the development of administrative law and judicial review in England and some other common law jurisdictions The main theme of the book is however devoted to judicial review in Papua New Guinea The practice and procedure for appealing from the decision of the National Court in judicial review are unique and onerous This book evaluates them in detail to give the readers a complete sense of reference The interlocutory procedures encapsulated in this book are also relevant for any proceeding before the courts At the end of various chapters the author makes some insightful and thought provoking commentaries on gaps found in judicial review The book is an authoritative text for lawyers law students academia judicial officers and other interested persons alike It is a must read for lawyers and law students who seek to be familiar with the often cumbersome judicial review procedures and practices For students and scholars in other disciplines who aim to learn and abreast themselves of how administrative law affects administrative action and public policy this book is a perfect choice The book dissects complex administrative law concepts and enables lay persons including those in the public service to fully understand and apply them The book is a valuable resource material for the Pacific Island countries like Fiji Vanuatu and Solomon Islands who have adopted the common law legal systems similar to Papua New Guinea

BOOK REVIEWS The author collates culs and compiles one important material for use by judicial officers and practitioners in the area of judicial review

Bougainville before the conflict Anthony J. Regan, Helga M. Griffin, 2015-08-03 One of the most beautiful island groups of the Pacific Bougainville has a remarkable history Tragically it is as the site of devastating civil conflict that Bougainville is perhaps best known In exploring the rich environmental cultural and social heritage of Bougainville before the conflict this collection provides an insight into the long term causes of the crisis In doing so it surveys such topics as Bougainville's prehistory and traditional cultures the impact of German and Australian colonialism the attempts by disparate local cultures to find a common identity the assertion of political autonomy in the face of coercion to integrate with Papua New Guinea and contemporary efforts to resolve conflict and plan a viable future A landmark collaboration between expert commentators on Bougainville and Bougainvilleans themselves this volume provides a comprehensive picture for those seeking to understand Bougainville's history and future directions Bougainville before the conflict was published in association with the State Society and Governance in Melanesia Project which is supported by The Australian National University and the Commonwealth of Australia

Uneven Connections Robert J. Foster, 2024-03-28 In the first years of the 21st century economic liberalisation began to transform telecommunications services throughout the Pacific Islands Government regulators corporate executives and everyday consumers hopefully imagined that opening mobile phone markets to competition would result in greater access lower costs and accelerated development Uneven Connections examines the ways in which liberalisation took hold in Papua New Guinea PNG when a unit of the Caribbean based mobile network operator Digicel Group Ltd seized the opportunity to compete with the state sponsored incumbent The book highlights how mobile phones entered the lives of urban and rural Papua New Guineans after Digicel's arrival in 2007 In so doing it describes a moral economy in which companies consumers and state agents continually negotiate who owes what to whom In what ways have these various actors invented and negotiated new forms of both freedom and constraint Uneven Connections advances understanding of how a so called digital revolution in PNG unfolded resulting in outcomes that often confounded the expectations of policy makers and ordinary citizens alike It assesses the extent to which some of the promises of this revolution have been redeemed and identifies the challenges faced by companies consumers and state agents in establishing and experiencing novel forms of uneven connectivity The book provides a short and selective history of mobile phones in PNG ending with the sale of Digicel s Pacific operations to the Australian company Telstra in 2022

Classroom Change in Developing Countries Gerard Guthrie, 2018-04-09 Progressive Education derived mainly from Anglo American culture has been the primary frame of reference for student centered classroom change in developing countries for over 50 years Yet in many developing countries strong evidence shows that progressivism has not replaced teacher centered formalistic classroom practice Classroom Change in Developing Countries From Progressive Cage to Formalistic Frame presents a robust case for why formalism should be the primary frame of reference for upgrading classroom teaching in developing countries Theoretically rich yet grounded in practice the book draws on case studies from Africa China and Papua New Guinea to show how culturally intuitive formalistic teaching styles can induce positive classroom change Synthesising research and evaluation literature on classroom change in developing countries Guthrie examines some of the methodological flaws in the literature The book considers the progressive cage and looks at Confucian influences on teaching in China progressive reform failures in both Sub Saharan Africa and Papua New Guinea as well as offering a critical take on some failings in comparative education It examines the formalistic frame addresses methodological issues in culturally grounded research and offers a model of teaching styles for basic classroom research The book concludes by returning the focus back to teachers and considers the so called teacher resistance to change The book will be an essential purchase for academics and research students engaged in the fields of classroom teaching teacher education and curriculum and will also be of interest to academics aid officials and decision makers in developing countries
