Writing from the Margins Carolyn Ericksen Hill,1990 Writing from the Margins Power and Pedagogy for Teachers of Composition Carolyn Ericksen Hill,1985 A Guide to Composition Pedagogies Gary Tate,Amy Rupiper-Taggart,Kurt Schick,Brooke Hessler,2014-02 This is a bibliographic guide written for newcomers to the field The book familiarizes writing instructors with the current topography of composition studies and directs them to the best books and articles for further exploration Writing Ourselves Into the Story Sheryl I. Fontaine,Susan Hunter,1993 Collects 23 essays research studies and personal narratives on topics connected with teaching composition topics and voices rarely found in scholarly journals or at professional conferences Paper edition unseen 16 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Theorizing Composition Mary Kennedy,1998-06-25 The last 25 years have witnessed extraordinary growth in the academic specialization variously described as composition studies or rhetoric and composition What was noticeable about the field in its infancy was a preoccupation with practice a lack of emphasis on theory and an exclusive reliance on the writing process As its disciplinary status has grown the field has become far more theoretical Composition studies has expanded its focus reconceptualized the writing process and embraced a wide range of critical perspectives The result of this change is that terms such as poststructuralism social construction gender and genre which were largely unknown in 1965 now dominate discussion This reference book is a guide to the multiplicity of theories that have emerged to form the disciplinary foundation of composition studies The volume consists of 66 entries each of which is written by an expert contributor and focuses on a particular theory or group of theories While the entries show how various individuals have contributed to theoretical movements very few concentrate on the work of a single theorist Each entry first provides a critical summary of a particular theory or group of theories including key elements basic concepts and claims and information about seminal or particularly influential works It then reviews the theory s critical reception in composition studies and discusses its significance in the field The bibliography at the end of each entry lists primary texts and major scholarship related to the theory and provides additional suggestions for further reading The volume closes with a selected bibliography of important works A Pedagogy of Possibility Kay Halasek,1999 The author reconceives composition studies from a Bakhtinian perspective focusing on both the discipline s theoretical assumptions and its pedagogies Halasek explores the implications of Bakhtin s work and provides a model of scholarship balanced between practice and theory On Writing Qualitative Research Margaret Anzul,Maryann Downing,Margot Ely,Ruth Vinz,2003-12-16 This text is both about writing up qualitative research and is itself a qualitative study The written reflections of students on the writing process and the interpretations and presentations of their findings provide a base of data which the authors have in turn analyzed and incorporated into their text They have added accounts of their own experiences and those of their colleagues and other published authors All of these are woven into a theoretical framework that discusses them in detail The Struggle For Pedagogies Jennifer Gore,2013-02-01 Jennifer M Gore

Jacques Derrida (Routledge Revivals) William Schultz, Lewis L.B. Fried, 2016-06-17 First published in 1992 this book represents the first major attempt to compile a bibliography of Derrida s work and scholarship about his work It attempts to be comprehensive rather than selective listing primary and secondary works from the year of Derrida s Master s thesis in 1954 up until 1991 and is extensively annotated It arranges under article type a huge number of works from scholars across numerous fields reflecting the interdisciplinary and controversial nature of Deconstruction The substantial introduction and annotations also make this bibliography in part a critical guide and as such will make a highly useful reference tool for those studying his philosophy Geographies of Writing Nedra Reynolds, 2007-09-03 Twenty first century technological innovations have revolutionized the way we experience space causing an increased sense of fragmentation danger and placelessness In Geographies of Writing Inhabiting Places and Encountering Difference Nedra Reynolds addresses these problems in the context of higher education arguing that theories of writing and rhetoric must engage the metaphorical implications of place without ignoring materiality Geographies of Writing makes three closely related contributions one theoretical to reimagine composing as spatial material and visual one political to understand the sociospatial construction of difference and one pedagogical to teach writing as a set of spatial practices Aided by seven maps and illustrations that reinforce the book's visual rhetoric Geographies of Writing shows how composition tasks and electronic space function as conduits for navigating reality

Community-Based Ethnography Ernest T. Stringer, Mary Frances Agnello, Sheila Conant Baldwin, Lois McFayden Christensen, Deana Lee Philb Henry, 2014-02-25 Co written by a professor and 10 students this book explores their attempts to come to grips with fundamental issues related to writing narrative accounts purporting to represent aspects of people's lives The fundamental project around which their explorations in writing textual accounts turned derived from the editor's initial ethnographic question Tell me about the previous class we did together This proved to be a particularly rich exercise bringing into the arena all of the problems related to choice of data analysis of data the structure of the account the stance of the author tense and case the adequacy of the account and more As participants shared versions of their accounts and struggled to analyze the wealth of data they had accumulated in the previous classes the products of in class practice of observation and interview they became aware of the ephemeral nature of narrative accounts Reality as written in textual form cannot capture the immense depth breadth and complexity of an actual lived experience and can only be an incomplete representation that derives from the interpretive imagination of the author The final chapter results from a number of discussions during which each contributing author briefly revisited the text and through dialogue with others and or the editor identified the elements that would provide an overall framework that represents the big message of the book In this way the contributors attempted to provide a conceptual context that would indicate ways in which their private experiences could be seen to be relevant to the broader public arenas in which education and research is engaged In its entirety the book presents an interpretive study of teaching and learning It provides a multi voiced account that reveals how problematic turning point experiences in a university class are perceived organized constructed and given meaning by a group of interacting individuals

Alternative Rhetorics Laura Gray-Rosendale, Sibylle Gruber, 2001-04-19 Alternative Rhetorics questions traditional canons of rhetorical thought and offers new perspectives on rhetorics historically overlooked within Western culture Along with establishing new methodologies for investigating the history of rhetorics the book also explores rhetoric's changing relationship with technology By challenging the reader's understanding of rhetoric and the rhetorical tradition Alternative Rhetorics provides insights that will allow researchers educators and students to rethink their own position in a rhetorical world
