Atlantic Automobilmism Gijs Mom, 2014-12 Offering a sweeping transatlantic perspective this book explains the current obsession with automobiles by delving deep into the motives of early car users It provides a synthesis of our knowledge about the emergence and persistence of the car using a broad range of material including novels poems films and songs

Presences and Absences - Transdisciplinary Essays Katarína Labudova, Nóra Séllei, 2013-10-03 This volume discusses the question of presence and or absence from a transdisciplinary perspective and intends to provide insights into how a wide range of disciplines addresses this issue which has been at the centre of philosophical theoretical and critical debates in the past decades As the essays in the volume prove apparently diverse areas can have a lot in common and talk to each other in sometimes surprising ways The topics discussed include modals in various languages and black slave funeral sermons pragmatic markers and the Australian Stolen Generation the transcendental in poems by Ann Bradstreet Arthur Symonds and Philip Larkin short stories by Katherine Mansfield generic presences in Virginia Woolf and contemporary journalism haunting presences in fin de siècle ghost stories and in a contemporary horror film mythical structures in John Cowper Powys and Margaret Atwood and gender politics in Pat Barker and Sarah Waters The analyses as they talk to each other create multiple dialogues without imposing closures and ultimate interpretations on the plethora of possible meanings emerging from the juxtaposition of these essays This transdisciplinary volume written in an erudite but reader friendly language will be of great interest to both the academic world as well as a broader readership interested in how linguistic phenomena in general cultural myths of all kinds various cinematic literary and journalistic genres from diverse periods can be approached and opened up to new readings and meanings from the perspective of presences and absences Virginia Woolf Ann L. Ardis, Bonnie Kime Scott, 2000 At the end of the twentieth century the questions raised and issues explored in Woolf studies prove to be sufficient themes of inquiry for a new century Can there exist common ground between queer theorists and lesbian feminists or are their causes not connected and must they go their separate ways Virginia Woolf belongs simultaneously to her time and to ours What allusions would her contemporaries have taken for granted that must now be recovered through meticulous scholarship What codes whose meanings are apparent to readers now would have been available to very few in her own time What was popular film culture like and what connections might we find between Woolf's art and British film of the 1920s How can Woolf help us think through the dangers of nationalism What does Three Guineas contribute to a discussion of corporate globalism And how does it illuminate what has happened for women in the academy and in the professions in the sixty years since it was published Contributors to Virginia Woolf Turning The Centuries who pose and suggest answers to these and many other questions include Julia Briggs Suzette Henke Sally Greene Alison Booth Pamela Caughie Judith Roof Diane Gillespie Melba Cuddy Keane and Jane Lilienfeld Women Studies Abstracts, 2004
