Reality Television, Affect and Intimacy Misha Kavka, 2008-10-31 Reality Television Affect and Intimacy shifts current discussions of media and reality from the informative to the affective from knowledge to feelings In reality television Misha Kavka argues everyday reality is the ground for an experience of immediacy or televisual intimacy that is self evidently mediated and performed The book explores this paradox by conceptualising the relation between affect and media For Kavka affect matters because the feelings generated across the screen are real in a material way Investigating such concepts as publicity and privacy in reality TV families performance technologies in Big Brother arranged marriages in romance reality TV and gender race and sexuality in Survivor and Project Runway she argues that affect is the core reality of a public sphere that is reconfigured by its viewing patterns Renewing attention to the complexities of affective intimacies this book offers the rich realities of feeling as a critical alternative to traditional communication models

Freud's Memory Rob White, 2008-07-24 A wide ranging reading of Freud's work this book focuses on Freud's scientifically discredited ideas about inherited memory in relation both to poststructuralist debates about mourning and to certain uncanny figurative traits in his writing Freud's Memory argues for an enriched understanding of the strangenesses in Freud rather than any denunciation of psychoanalysis as a bogus explanatory method

Screen, 1991

Tamara de Lempicka Laura P. Claridge, 1999 An icon of the Jazz Age Art Deco painter Tamara de Lempicka lived a life well worth recording Until now however no one has written the story of this woman of extraordinary talent and notoriety She was a great beauty an aristocratic refugee of the Russian Revolution and a frankly erotic painter who insisted upon Renaissance aesthetics figuration and painterly craft in modern art The sky high prices attached to her canvases in recent years have still not dispelled the suspicions that a woman of Lempicka's glamour and fame could be a truly serious artist Yet the reviews of the early twentieth century tell a different story her work was routinely singled out as competing with major figures of the School of Paris including Leger Lauren in Kising and Picasso In this first critical biography Laura Claridge draws upon her exclusive access to Lempicka's family friends and archives to recreate the life that the painter carefully withheld even from her own daughter the truth of her birth her escape from Bolshevik Russia her determination to become a New Woman her lifelong bouts of depression her numerous affairs with the women and men she painted her flight from Nazi Europe via Havana and her years in Hollywood and New York as the Baroness with a brush all informed by the artistic integrity and social anachronism that condemned her to being written out of the canons of modern art Emblematic of 20s excess and indulgence Tamara de Lempicka's life of great wealth indiscriminate sexuality and endless intrigue makes for a fascinating narrative But her paintings have inspired fierce disagreements over issues of class wealth and gender in modern art making her work ripe for critical re evaluation In Tamara de Lempicka A Life of Deco and Decadence Laura Claridge has succeeded brilliantly on both counts bringing to light the contradictions that fueled the life and work of this provocative painter Though Paris in the early twenties certainly earned its bohemian reputation Tamara was playing the game hard by anyone's standards It seemed to her that she could have it all respect money and sexual gratification on the side She had arrived at the Gare du Nord only four years earlier gifted with a painter's talent and a family history of feminine power Encountering a cultural climate that affirmed art as a remunerative career for women she also felt freed personally by the Modernist mantra to make it new that underwrote every aspect trivial and profound of daily life She was determined to embody that icon of the age the new woman
