Trauma's Labyrinth: Reflections of a Wounded Healer Laura K. Kerr, 2022-03-28 2022 Bronze Living Now Book Award 2022 Foreword INDIES Book of the Year Award Trauma can feel like a labyrinth twisting on itself like a maze of despair without end or exit This seems particularly true in today's chaotic world of pandemics climate change social conflict and systemic violence Increasingly the conditions of the larger world aggravate if not cause the traumas in our individual lives However as Laura K Kerr explores in this wide ranging collection of essays not only can we heal from trauma but we can use it as an opportunity for growth and transformation changing ourselves and the world for the better Drawing from her experiences as researcher trauma survivor and psychotherapist she examines various causes of trauma details how to understand and treat trauma s effects and explores the role society plays in activating traumatic defenses Despite the weightiness of the topic Dr Kerr brings hope for lasting positive change As Dr Kerr shows the key lies in removing rigid divides like those between wounded and healer self and society When they are integrated healing becomes transformative and enduring not only for ourselves but for the increasingly traumatized world in which we live

Violence Against Women Joan Nordquist,1998 The Socialist Feminist Project Nancy Holmstrom,2002-08 Socialist Feminism brings together the most important recent socialist feminist writings on a wide range of topics sex and reproduction the family wage labor social welfare and public policy the place of sex and gender in politics and the philosophical foundations of socialist feminism Explaining the Depiction of Violence Against Women in Victorian Literature Karen F. Tatum,2005 This book examines the causes of the abject response in canonical novels such as Charles Dickens Oliver Twist Charlotte Bronte s Jane Eyre and Mary Elizabeth Braddon s Aurora Floyd and Lady Audley s Secret In Powers of Horror Julia Kristeva outlines her theory of abjection as a simultaneous fascination and horror stemming from sensorial reminders of the subject s primal psychological relation to the mother The author suggests that these psychological perspectives can potentially result in acts of physical violence which are called abject response By developing Julia Kristeva s theory of abjection as a model for reading physical acts of violence against women the book yields specific answers to its overriding questions why was a female body so threatening in nineteenth century fiction The answer lies in social constructions of women as powers of horror which the male subject imbibes and which lead to domestic violence if improperly balanced Leaving Islam, Ex-Muslims and Zemiology Weronika Lenartowicz,2024-02-28 Cases of ex Muslims in Europe being punished by their former fellow Muslims constitute an unacceptable practice from the standpoint of democratic societies in which human rights are respected and individuals have the freedom to choose their religion or none at all Ex Muslims fear of punishment by their former community should prompt an open candid and measured discussion of the issue Leaving Islam Ex Muslims and Zemiology presents the reasons for and consequences of consciously leaving Islam based on interviews with 80 ex Muslims currently living in Germany and Sweden In their view many of the practices and beliefs of Islam are harmful and unfair Many parts of the Islamic world regard apostasy as treason or a crime As a result emphasis in the book is shifted from crime to harm and a thesis is put forward concerning the decriminalization of apostasy from the perspective of zemiology The book highlights how a broader shift of interest in the democratic structures of Europe could allow ex Muslims to join the discussion on the guaranteed right to religious liberties and freedom of speech in the context of the apostasy law in Islam This should happen without fear for their own security and without facing potential suppression or social exclusion It will appeal to scholars with interest in Islam and the conflict between religious values and an individual s aspirations and needs NWSA Journal ,2000 Moral Issues in Global Perspective Christine Koggel,1999-06-24 Moral Issues in Global Perspective seeks to challenge standard approaches to morality and moral issues shaped by Western liberal theory and to extend the inquiry beyond the context of North America. It includes critiques of traditional liberal accounts of rights justice and moral values that raise questions about the treatment of disadvantaged groups within liberal societies as well as in other societies and across societies. It covers a broader range of issues and arguments than most textbooks on practical ethics. It incorporates work by race class feminist and disability theorists that provides new perspectives on issues such as reproduction euthanasia censorship and the environment. The collection places moral issues in a global context by providing selections by moral and political theorists from many different parts of the world.

Bibliographic Guide to Womens Studies 1998 New York Public Library Staff, 1999-08 Theorizing Backlash Anita M. Superson, Ann E. Cudd, 2002-04-08 Contrary to the popular belief that feminism has gained a foothold in the many disciplines of the academy the essays collected in Theorizing Backlash argue that feminism is still actively resisted in mainstream academia. Contributors to this volume consider the professional philosophical and personal backlashes against feminist thought and reflect upon their ramifications. The conclusion is that the disdain and irrational resentment of feminism even in higher education amounts to a backlash against progress.
