Violent Crime Assessing Race And Ethnic Differences Cambridge Studies In Criminology:

Violent Crime Darnell F. Hawkins, 2003-02-24 Analysts have long noted that some societies have much higher rates of criminal violence than others. They have also observed that the risk of being a victim or a perpetrator of violent crime varies considerably from one individual to another. In societies with ethnically and racially diverse populations, some ethnic and racial groups have been reported to have higher rates of violent offending and victimization than other groups. This series of essays explores the extent and causes of racial and ethnic differences in violent crime in the United States and several other contemporary societies.

Race, Ethnicity, Crime, and Justice Akwasi Owusu-Bempah, Shaun Gabbidon, 2020-09-24 Race Ethnicity Crime and Justice: An International Dilemma Second Edition takes a unique comparative approach to the exploration of race and ethnicity related justice issues in five countries around the world. Using the colonial model as a theoretical lens, Owusu Bempah and Gabbidon analyse data from Great Britain, the United States, Canada, Australia, and South Africa. These international case studies help students contextualize race and justice issues within and across nations. Concise historical framing illuminates today's racial dynamics in these diverse justice systems, and accessible theory grounds the comparison of crime and justice data from the early 21st century with current statistics. A new concluding chapter revisits the question of where these nations fit in the global context of state and non-state actors and of ethnic and racial justice issues. This new edition is suitable for use as a core or supplemental text for advanced undergraduates and early graduate courses on race and crime, minorities, and criminal justice diversity in criminal justice and comparative justice systems. It is also appropriate for use in sociology and ethnic studies courses that focus on race and crime.

Oxford Textbook of Violence Prevention

Peter D. Donnelly, Catherine L. Ward, 2015 The Oxford Textbook Violence Prevention brings together an international team of experts to provide an extensive global account of the global mortality and morbidity burden caused by violence through examining the causes of violence and what can be done to prevent and reduce violence Forensic Psychology David A. Crighton, Graham J. Towl, 2015-03-04 Updated to reflect recent changes in the field the 2nd Edition of Forensic Psychology presents a comprehensive overview of forensic psychology and its applications in the civil and criminal justice systems of the UK Builds on the first edition to convey material in an engaging manner to postgraduate students in psychology Includes a significant expansion of pedagogical features including text boxes highlighting key seminar issues and key debates in the field to further group discussion Provides an up to date summary of emerging evidence in the field and its implications for evidence based practice Points to additional online learning resources at the conclusion of each chapter Invisible No More Pedro Noguera, Aída Hurtado, Edward Fergus, 2013-06-17 This groundbreaking interdisciplinary volume addresses the dearth of scholarship and information about Latino men and boys to further our understanding of the unique challenges and obstacles that they confront during this historical moment Latinas/os in the United States Havidan Rodriguez, Rogelio Saenz, Cecilia Menjivar, 2007-11-21 Clara E Rodriguez As is befitting a book on Latinas/os at the start of the 21st century the chapters in this volume reflect the contemporary panorama of Latinas/os in the United States Today Latinas/os are the largest minority group They accounted for 12.5% of the total U.S. population in the last decennial census recent estimates showed the Hispanic population to be 41.3 million as of July 1, 2004 or 14% of the nation's total population However this estimate does not include the 3.9 million residents of Puerto Rico who are also U.S. citizens and would raise the total to 24.5 million This would make the U.S. population of Latinos the second largest Spanish origin population in the hemisphere after Mexico The growth of this population since 1980 has been dramatic Hispanics/Latinos grew more than seven times faster than the population of the nation as a whole increasing by half whereas the white non-Hispanic population increased by only 6% between 1980 and 1990 U.S. Bureau of the Census 1991 Table 1 U.S. Bureau of the Census 1993 p. 2 In the 1990s the Hispanic population increased 58% Moreover between 2003 and 2004 one of every two people added to the nation's population was Hispanic/Latino Consequently not only are Latinos a substantial part of the U.S. population but they account for half its population growth Criminology Steven E. Barkan, 2006 Completely updated and revised throughout and featuring a new full color design this book provides a sociological perspective on crime and criminal justice by treating social structure and social inequality as central themes in the study of crime and major factors in society's treatment of criminals It gives explicit attention to key sociological concepts such as poverty gender race and ethnicity and demonstrates their influence on crime Covers hot topics such as the death penalty terrorism evolutionary biology stalking identity theft computer crime white collar crime and more Also features unique coverage of topics not found in other introductory criminology books including Public Opinion the News Media and the Crime Problem Political Crime and How Can We Reduce Crime For those with current or future criminology careers Criminology Piers Beirne, James W. Messerschmidt, 2011

Ideal for undergraduate courses in criminology especially those taught from a critical perspective Criminology A Sociological Approach Fifth Edition is a comprehensive yet highly accessible introduction to the study of crime and criminological theory
Authors Piers Beirne and James W Messerschmidt present the topic from a sociological standpoint emphasizing the social construction of crime and showing how crime relates to gender class race and age Providing students with a strong theoretical foundation the book also addresses historical feminist and comparative perspectives and highlights the major types of crime and victimization patterns The text is divided into three Parts Part I focuses on three questions What is crime How can we measure how much crime there is in the United States and finally How can we compare rates of crime in different societies Part II is a systematic guide to modern criminological theory and its historical development Part III examines specific types of crime including property crime interpersonal violence white collar crime and political crime
Written in student friendly language Criminology uses abundant illustrations examples and case studies to elucidate key points The text also offers many helpful learning aids including chapter previews lists of key terms chapter reviews questions for class discussion and suggestions for further study
NEW TO THE FIFTH EDITION Moves the theory chapters to earlier in the book helping to better connect them with one another Reorganizes the chapters on theory to showcase the self contained internally coherent nature of criminology rather than criminology's place in the historical record Adds examples throughout Presents new and up to date empirical data in all sections Discusses many new topics including cultural criminology and green criminology Covers numerous types of crime that were not discussed in previous editions e g whiteness and crime the rape war connection Ponzi schemes domestic right wing terrorism and state sanctioned torture Race and Juvenile Justice Everette Burdette Penn, Helen Taylor Greene, Shaun L. Gabbidon, 2006 An edited volume Race and Juvenile Justice offers a collection of readings that examines race and the juvenile justice system in a historical and social context Part I of the volume is dedicated to each of the American racial ethnic groups African American Asian American Latino American Native American and White American These readings present the complexities of juvenile justice issues as they relate to each prospective group Part II of the volume presents articles on Disproportionate Minority Confinement the history of race in juvenile justice gangs the role of domestic violence in juvenile justice and juveniles and the death penalty The volume concludes with an article that examines delinquency prevention and intervention strategies Current Publications in Legal and Related Fields ,2003 Annual Review of Sociology Individuals, 2005-08 The 17 articles of this collection present the current state of research on various questions in the field written by scholars at American universities The collection begins with an overview of the work and career of James S Coleman d 1995 by Peter V Marsden sociology Harvard U A sampling of other topics featured includes identity politi The Criminal Law Quarterly ,2009 Criminal Justice Review ,2003 G.K.
