Writing the Image After Roland Barthes Jean-Michel Rabaté,1997 In the final stages of his career Roland Barthes abandoned his long standing suspicion of photographic representation to write Camera Lucida at once an elegy to his dead mother and a treatise on photography In Writing the Image After Roland Barthes Jean Michel Rabate and nineteen contributors examine the import of Barthes s shifting positions on photography and visual representation and the impact of his work on current developments in cultural studies and theories of the media and popular culture Publisher description

Monuments and Memory, Made and Unmade Robert S. Nelson,Margaret Olin,2003 Examining how monuments preserve memory these essays demonstrate how phenomena as diverse as ancient drum towers in China and ritual whale killings in the Pacific Northwest serve to represent and negotiate time Touching Photographs Margaret Olin,2012-05-21 Photography does more than simply represent the world It acts in the world connecting people to form relationships and shaping relationships to create communities In this beautiful book Margaret Olin explores photography s ability to touch us through a series of essays that shed new light on photography s role in the world Olin investigates the publication of photographs in mass media and literature the hanging of exhibitions the posting of photocopied photographs of lost loved ones in public spaces and the intense photographic activity of tourists at their destinations She moves from intimate relationships between viewers and photographs to interactions around larger communities analyzing how photography affects the way people handle cataclysmic events like 9 11 Along the way she shows us James VanDerZee s Harlem funeral portraits dusts off Roland Barthes s family album takes us into Walker Evans and James Agee s photo text Let Us Now Praise Famous Men and logs onto online photo albums With over one hundred illustrations Touching Photographs is an insightful contribution to the theory of photography visual studies and art history Magical Nominalism Martin Jay,2025-01-22 A bold and wide ranging study across centuries examining the conflict between conventional and magical nominalism in philosophy history aesthetics political theory and photography In this magisterial new book intellectual historian Martin Jay traces the long standing competition between two versions of nominalism the conventional and the magical Since at least William of Ockham according to Jay the conventional form of nominalism has contributed to the disenchantment of the world by viewing general terms as nothing more than mere names we use to group particular objects together rejecting the idea that they refer to a further higher reality Magical nominalism instead performs a reenchanted function by investing proper names disruptive events and singular objects with an auratic power of their own Drawing in part on Jewish theology it challenges the elevation of the constitutive subject resulting from Ockham s reliance on divine will in his critique of real universals Starting with the fourteenth century revolution of nominalism against Scholastic realism Jay unpacks various counterrevolutions against nominalism itself including a magical alternative to its conventional form Focusing on fundamental debates over the relationship between language thought and reality Jay illuminates connections across thinkers disciplines and vast realms of human experience Ranging from theology and philosophy of history to aesthetics and political theory this book engages with a range of artists and thinkers including Adorno Ankersmit Badiou Barthes Bataille Benjamin Blumenberg Derrida Duchamp Foucault Kracauer Kripke and Lyotard Ultimately Magical Nominalism offers a strikingly original way to understand humanity's intellectual path to modernity     The Johns Hopkins Guide to Literary Theory and Criticism Michael Groden, Martin Kreiswirth, Imre Szeman, 2005 Publisher Description     Image-Music-Text Roland Barthes, 1977 Essays on semiology     Representations, 2002     Photography Degree Zero Geoffrey Batchen, 2009

Seeing Perception Silke Horstkotte, Karin Leonhard, 2007 What do we see when we see how do we perceive vision itself and how do we speak and write about seeing and perception The articles collected in this volume attempt to observe the constitution of perception be it of a visual field or visible objects but also of images which emerge in the mind e.g. that of the reader in the act of reading The act of vision is profoundly impure and seeing TM very much entails other modes of sense based perception such as listening touching feeling tasting or smelling Various modes of seeing can moreover be observed within literary texts or in music dreams memory or all kinds of bodily experiences like dance pain sexuality etc so that there cannot be any such thing as a clearly defined realm called visuality TM Moreover seer TM and seen TM are mutually permeable in any visual practice reflecting on the reciprocal relationship between the visibility of objects and the very act of looking which could be understood not only as a sensual experience but also as an interaction an intellectual performance and interpretation But if there exists this inseparable bond between object and spectator how can we distance ourselves from the act of looking and show seeing TM how is it possible to talk and write about seeing perception TM The impurity of the visual and the contextuality of all acts of looking constitutes a common thread running through the articles collected in this volume The ways in which images are perceived in Western culture are inextricably linked with verbal and textual structures and ways of thinking However the contributions in this volume are less concerned with the practical political implications of a visual culture which formed the backbone of visual studies research a few years ago and more with an adequate understanding of the various concepts and operations at work in theories of visual perception of seeing the gaze and of focalisation

Modern French Visual Theory Nigel Saint, Andy Stafford, 2013-02-05 Offers approachable clear and original accounts of French thinkers who specialise in visual theory with connections explained and explicated between chapters looks at those thinkers who have been neglected in the Anglo American world thereby expanding and diversifying the perception that readers have

Camera Lucida Roland Barthes, 1981 Examining the themes of presence and absence the relationship between photography and theatre history and death these reflections on photography begin as an investigation into the nature of photographs Then as Barthes contemplates a photograph of his mother as a child the book becomes an exposition of his own mind Alibris
