Juvenile Lifers Simone Deegan,2021-02-14 This book is the first Australian study based on extensive fieldwork of the personal backgrounds and processes by which juveniles get drawn into risky and violent situations that culminate in murder Drawing on interviews with every juvenile under sanction of life imprisonment in the State of South Australia 2015 2019 it investigates links in the chain of events that led to the lethal violence that probably would have been broken had there been appropriate intervention Specifically the book asks whether the existing criminal justice frame is the appropriate way to deal with children who commit grave acts The extent to which prison facilitates and or inhibits the mental emotional and social development of juvenile lifers is a critical issue Most if not all will be released at some point with key issues of risk public protection and rehabilitation probability of desistance coming sharply to the fore In addition this book is also the first to capture how significant others including mothers fathers grandparents and siblings are affected when children kill and the level of commitment these relatives have towards supporting the prisoner in his or her quest to build a positive future Written in a clear and direct style this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology sociology andpenology practitioners working in social policy and all those interested in the lives and backgrounds of juvenile offenders

Nurturing Hidden Resilience in Troubled Youth Michael Ungar,2004-01-01 Timely in subject and original in perspective Nurturing Hidden Resilience in Troubled Youth challenges what popular media refer to as a youth problem The Challenge of Children's Rights for Canada, 2nd edition Katherine Covell,R. Brian Howe,J.C. Blokhuis,2018-08-30 More than a quarter of a century has passed since Canada promised to recognize and respect the rights of children under the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child. Ratification of the Convention cannot however guarantee that everyone will abandon proprietary notions about children or that all children will be free to enjoy the substance of their rights in every social and institutional context in which they find themselves including and perhaps especially within families. This disconnect remains one of the most important challenges to the recognition of children's rights in Canada. The authors argue that social toxins are as harmful to children's independent welfare and developmental interests as environmental toxins and that both must be eradicated if Canada is to fulfill its commitments under the Convention. They also argue that if Canada wishes to ensure the substance of the rights outlined in the Convention are socially guaranteed, an attitudinal or cultural shift is required concerning the moral and legal status of children. This revised, expanded and updated edition of the bestselling Challenge of Children's Rights for Canada will be of interest to academics, policymakers, parents, teachers, social workers and human service professionals indeed to anyone who cares about and for children.

Doing Ethnography Charlene Elizabeth Miall, Dorothy Pawluch, William Shaffir, 2005. Doing Ethnography is an essential text for courses in ethnography, research methods, qualitative emphasis, applied sociology and related subjects across Canada. This unique volume first considers the merits of qualitative research, profiles interviewing strategies and discusses the relationships to respondents and how to write about social life. The second portion of Doing Ethnography contains three sections: constructing perspectives, constructing identities as well as doing and relating. Case studies and original research are featured throughout. The editors Dorothy Pawluch, William Shaffir and Charlene Miall emphasize the importance of studying social interaction. In truth, any question about society, big or small, is ultimately about people interacting with each other. Whether the issue is changing gender relationships, corporate deeds and misdeeds, class structures or the school performance of children from cultural minorities, it all comes down to one thing: people doing things together.

Nasty, Brutish, and Short Mark Totten, 2012-03-27. An expert takes us inside the dark world of gangs in Canada. Dr Mark Totten has spent fifteen years learning all about these gangs and the young men and women who belong to them. He has interviewed over 500 gang members across the country, traced their lives from infancy to adulthood and explored the roots of their involvement in crime and their reliance on violence. Nasty, Brutish and Short offers a groundbreaking picture of the reality of gangs in Canada. Much of what Dr Totten has to say is at odds with popular ideas. His research leads him to believe that breaking through the circumstances that produce young criminals is far more difficult than most people think. For most individuals caught up in gang life, exiting that world is next to impossible. In fact, the most common way out is an early death from violence or suicide. This book opens the door on a way of life unknown to most Canadians.

Children, Families and Violence Brian Howe, Katherine Covell, 2008-09-15. This book examines the risk factors surrounding children at risk of experiencing and perpetrating violence and looks at the positive role that children's rights can play in their protection. The authors propose that violence in childhood is not spontaneous that children are raised to become violent in poorly functioning families
