Youth Lifestyles in a Changing World Steven Miles, 2000 This work examines the changing nature of young people's lives at the start of a new century Arguing that the sociology of youth has struggled to bridge the gap between structural and cultural conceptions of youth this book emphasizes the notion of lifestyle as an enlightening means of addressing young people's relationship with social change Against a social and cultural backdrop characterized by postmodern fragmentation risk and globalization young people are apparently finding individualized transitions into adulthood increasingly difficult and this book shows how lifestyles play an important role It considers key aspects of young people's lifestyles such as their relationship to the media and consumption in general as a means of constructing identities In this introduction to a complex field the author outlines the dilemmas faced by sociology and examines the role played by consumer lifestyles in constructing who and what young people are in a rapidly changing world

Youth Crime and Juvenile Justice: Juvenile corrections Barry Goldson, John Muncie, 2009 This three volume set of original readings is designed to reveal how and why children and young people have been repeatedly the subject of adult concern, censure and intervention. It conceptualises notions of childhood, youth and adolescence whilst also tracing the complex history of adult intervention and juvenile justice. This collection is particularly timely not only because of persistent concerns over out of control youth but also because of an apparent hardening of adult reactions in many jurisdictions. Youth justice

Young Men Leaving School Linda McDowell, 2001 Anchors in Floating Lives Margaret Melrose, David Barrett, 2004
Taking account of the commercial sexual exploitation of children and young people male or female up to age 18 and the selling or swapping of sexual favours for some form of reward as well as the production, sale, marketing and possession of pornographic material involving children, the distribution of pornographic pictures of children over the internet and trafficking in children, this book addresses how these commercial practices have come about, how young people become involved, what subsequently ensnares them, what needs to be done in practice in order to respond effectively to the young people's needs, what we have learned about what should not be done. 2020 Council of Europe, 2014. Perspectives on youth is a new series published by the partnership between the European Commission and the Council of Europe in the field of youth with the support of five countries: Belgium, Finland, France, Germany and the United Kingdom and the Nordic Council of Ministers. Its purpose is to bring national youth policies closer together and to keep the largely European dialogue about key problems of national and supranational child and youth policy on a solid foundation in terms of content, expertise and politics. The series aims to act as a forum for information, discussion, reflection and dialogue on European developments in the field of youth policy, youth research and youth work. The conceptual strategy behind this series is meant to be critical and anticipative, reflecting European youth policies and their relevance for and impact on young people. It also highlights trends in the youth field that need innovative and forward-looking strategies. The series aims to contribute to the development and promotion of a youth policy and of a youth work practice that is based on knowledge as well as participatory principles. It is also intended to be a forum for peer learning between member states of the European Union as well as of the Council of Europe. The plan is to publish Perspectives on youth at least once a year. This first issue focuses on 2020: what do YOU see? featuring a futuristic perspective on the lives of young people across Europe and the wider world based on research, social trends, policy planning, changing demography, employment prospects, sustainable development and security among other things. American Book Publishing Record, 1997-09 With No Direction Home Marni Finkelstein, 2005. An anthropologist based in New York City, Finkelstein did two summers of field work among street kids in the East Village and presents her findings qualitatively, much of it in the voices of the youths themselves. She focuses on what leads kids to the streets and what they experience there. Annotation 2004. Book News Inc, Portland, OR. booknews.com Self-defense, 2006
