Using RTI to Teach Literacy to Diverse Learners, K-8 Sheila Alber-Morgan, 2010-04-05 In a small volume Sheila Alber Morgan addresses RTI in a much more comprehensive way than other texts. The book provides critical features of RTI across reading, writing, handwriting, and spelling and is packed with practical information for each tier. Nancy L. Cooke, Associate Professor of Special Education, University of North Carolina at Charlotte, clearly and concisely articulates the theoretical and empirical bases of RTI, an important and worthy achievement. For the classroom teacher, her book provides numerous assessment and instructional strategies for turning the great promise of RTI into reality for students. William L. Heward, Professor Emeritus, The Ohio State University, discusses practical intervention strategies for diverse learners who struggle with literacy. Literacy is a critical foundational skill for success in school and throughout adulthood. Covering both reading and writing instruction, this book shows K-8 teachers how to build the literacy skills of diverse learners, including those with disabilities and those from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds, in inclusive classrooms. Sheila Alber Morgan discusses instruction and assessment within a Response to Intervention (RTI) framework and demonstrates how to provide targeted support to students struggling with literacy or those who may require special attention to achieve success. Providing specific interventions for tiers 1, 2, and 3, this book offers evidence-based practices such as guided note taking, the use of response cards, peer-mediated instruction, self-monitoring, and direct instruction. Strategies for phonemic awareness, fluency, vocabulary, and comprehension. Methods for teaching handwriting, spelling, keyboarding, and the writing process. A discussion on using thematic units to integrate reading and writing. With sample assessments, graphic organizers, and brief case studies of students, this timely volume assists teachers and literacy specialists in providing the support that diverse learners need to succeed.
