Wild Plants In The Land Of Israel:

Wild Plants in the Land of Israel Naomi Feinbrun-Dothan, 1960 Wild plants in the land of Israel Naomi Feinbrun-Dothan, 1968 Medicinal and Aromatic Plants of the Middle-East Zohara Yaniv, Nativ Dudai, 2014-09-11 The current volume Medicinal and Aromatic Plants of the Middle East brings together chapters on selected unique medicinal plants of this region known to man since biblical times. Written by leading researchers and scientists, this volume covers both domesticated crops and wild plants with great potential for cultivation. Some of these plants are well known medicinally such as opium poppy and khat, while others such as apharesmon and citron have both ritual and medicinal uses. All have specific and valuable uses in modern society. As such, it is an important contribution to the growing field of medicinal and aromatic plants. This volume is intended to bring the latest research to the attention of the broad range of botanists, ethnopharmacists, biochemists, plant and animal physiologists, and others who will benefit from the information gathered therein. Plants know no political boundaries and bringing specific folklore to general medical awareness can only be for the benefit of all. Ezekiel's Hierarchical World Stephen L. Cook, Corrine L. Patton, 2004 Can we live with the God of Ezekiel? Can we relate to a God who has established a multilayered hierarchy that separates the divine from the human who creates boundaries that segregate people from the temple, the priesthood, and the glory of the Lord? In contrast to those who suggest that Ezekiel should no longer be read as an authoritative part of the canon, the essays in this volume engage Ezekiel's hierarchical world directly, neither dismissing it out of hand nor accepting it uncritically. By wedding theological interest and reflection with serious biblical exegesis and criticism, this work helps readers to understand Ezekiel's hierarchical theology, especially the book's views on creation, priesthood, and land. It thus equips readers to form their own evaluations of the relevance of Ezekiel's theology for today. Contributors include Daniel I. Block, Keith Carley, Stephen L. Cook, Katheryn Pfisterer Darr, Iain M. Duguid, Friedrich Fechter, Julie Galambush, Norman Habel, Risa Levitt Kohn, Corrine L. Patton, David L. Petersen, Baruch J. Schwartz, Daniel L. Smith, Christopher and Steven Shawn Tuell. Paperback edition is available from the Society of Biblical Literature, www.sbl-site.org. Ancient Jewish Food in Its Geographical and Cultural Contexts Susan Weingarten, 2025-03-25 This book is the first in-depth study of food in talmudic literature in its geographical and cultural contexts. It demonstrates the sharing of foods and foodways between Jews and their non-Jewish neighbours in the Near East in Late Antiquity. Using both ancient written sources and archaeological evidence, this book sets the foods of the Mishnah and Palestinian Talmud in their Graeco-Roman context and the foods of the Babylonian Talmud and the Geonim in their Persian and Arab contexts. It explores practices of food preparation and their contribution to the ancient diet, as well as analysing the relationships between food, status, and culture. The rabbinical authors of talmudic literature were more concerned with everyday food than were aristocratic Classical authors. By examining both talmudic sources and archaeological finds, this book paints a new picture of the diet, lifestyle, and culture of ordinary people. Ancient Jewish Food in Its Geographical and Cultural Contexts will interest

Crossing Borders between the Domestic and the Wild Mark J. Boda,Dalit Rom-Shiloni,2024-01-25 The present volume searches for different biblical perceptions of the wild paying particular attention to the significance of fluid boundaries between the domestic and the wild and to the options of crossing borders between them Drawing on space fauna and flora scholars investigate the ways biblical authors present the wild and the domestic and their interactions In its six chapters and two responses Hebrew Bible scholars an archaeobotanist an archaeologist a geographer and iconographers join forces to discuss the wild and its portrayals in biblical literature The discussions bring to light the entire spectrum of real imagined metaphorized and conceptualized forms of the wild that appear in biblical sources as also in the material culture and agriculture of ancient Israel and to some extent observe the great gap between biblical observations and modern studies of geography and of mapping that marks the distinctions between the wilderness and the sown The book is the first written product presented on two consecutive years 2019 2020 at the SBL Annual Meetings in the Section Nature Imagery and Conceptions of Nature in the Bible The Talmud of Jerusalem Moïse Schwab,2022-04-26 The Jerusalem Talmud probably originated in Tiberias in the School of Johanan ben Nappaha It is a compilation of teachings of the schools of Tiberias Sepphoris and Caesarea It is written largely in a western Aramaic dialect that differs from its Babylonian counterpart

Eating to Extinction Dan Saladino,2022-02-01 A New York Times Book Review Editors Choice What Saladino finds in his adventures are people with soul deep relationships to their food This is not the decadence or the preciousness we might associate with a word like foodie but a form of reverence Enchanting Molly Young The New York Times Dan Saladino's Eating to Extinction is the prominent broadcaster's pathbreaking tour of the world's vanishing foods and his argument for why they matter now more than ever Over the past several decades globalization has homogenized what we eat and done so ruthlessly The numbers are stark Of the roughly six thousand different plants once consumed by human beings only nine remain major staples today Just three of these rice wheat and corn now provide fifty percent of all our calories Dig deeper and the trends are more worrisome still The source of much of the world's food seeds is mostly in the control of just four corporations Ninety five percent of milk consumed in the United States comes from a single breed of cow Half of all the world's cheese is made with bacteria or enzymes made by one company And one in four beers drunk around the world is the product of one brewer If it strikes you that everything is starting to taste the same wherever you are in the world you're by no means alone This matters when we lose diversity and foods become endangered we not only risk the loss of traditional foodways but also of flavors smells and textures that may never be experienced again And the consolidation of our food has other steep costs including a lack of resilience in the face of climate change pests and parasites Our food monoculture is a threat to our health and to the planet In Eating to Extinction the distinguished BBC food journalist Dan Saladino travels the world to experience and document our most at risk foods before it's too late He tells the fascinating stories of the people who continue to cultivate forage hunt cook and consume what the rest of us have forgotten or didn't even know existed Take honey not the familiar product sold in plastic bottles but the wild honey gathered by the Hadza people of East Africa whose diet consists of eight hundred different plants and animals and who communicate with birds in order to locate bees nests Or consider murnong once the staple food of Aboriginal Australians this small root vegetable with the sweet taste of coconut is undergoing a revival after nearly being driven to extinction And in Sierra Leone there are just a few surviving stenophylla trees a plant species now considered crucial to the future of coffee From an Indigenous American chef refining precolonial recipes to farmers tending Geechee red peas on the Sea Islands of Georgia the individuals profiled in Eating to Extinction are essential guides to treasured foods that have endured in the face of rampant sameness and standardization They also provide a roadmap to a food system that is healthier more robust and above all richer in flavor and meaning Climate - Vegetation:

M.A. Zahran,2010-03-10 Deserts are unique ecosystems with their own biotic and abiotic components and are often rich in renewable natural resources the appropriate management of which can contribute significantly to the sustainable management of desert regions for the welfare of the people Yet while there are many books on the flora of the countries fringing the important desert countries of the Mediterranean and Red Seas there are few books reporting on their ecophysiology and vegetation ecology This book presents the vegetation types of the African and Asian countries of the Mediterranean and Red Sea coastal regions and discusses the ecological threats and economic applications of these critical resources In particular it examines the relationships between climate and vegetation and discusses these within the context of desertification agro industrial applications ecotourism and sustainable development The book will provide a valuable reference for researchers and graduate students involved in plant ecology biogeography economic botany and environmental management in the Afro Asian Mediterranean and Red Sea coastal regions as well as other desert regions around the world
