Years Best Weird Fiction Vol 2:

Year's Best Weird Fiction Kathe Koja, Michael Kelly, 2015-10-13 Acclaimed author Kathe Koja brings her expert eye and editorial sense to the second volume of the Year's Best Weird Fiction. Contributing authors include Julio Cortázar, Jean Muno, Karen Joy Fowler, Caitlin R. Kiernan, Nick Mamatas, Carmen Maria Machado, Nathan Ballingrud, and more. No longer the purview of esoteric readers, weird fiction is enjoying wide popularity. Chiefly derived from early 20th-century pulp fiction, its remit includes ghost stories, the strange and macabre, the supernatural, fantasy, myth, philosophical ontology, ambiguity, and a healthy helping of the outre. At its best, weird fiction is an intersecting of themes and ideas that explore and subvert the Laws of Nature. It is not confined to one genre but is the most diverse and welcoming of all genres. The American Weird Julius Greve, Florian Zappe, 2020-10-01 Hitherto classified as a form of genre fiction or as a particular aesthetic quality of literature by H. P. Lovecraft, the weird has now come to refer to a broad spectrum of artistic practices and expressions including fiction, film, television, photography, music, and visual and performance art. Largely untheorized so far, The American Weird brings together perspectives from literary, cultural, media, and film studies and from philosophy to provide a thorough exploration of the weird mode. Separated into two sections, the first exploring the concept of the weird and the second how it is applied through various media, this book generates new approaches to fundamental questions: Can the weird be conceptualized as a generic category, as an aesthetic mode, or as an epistemological position? May the weird be thought through in similar ways to what Sianne Ngai calls the zany, the cute, and the interesting? What are the transformations it has undergone aesthetically and politically since its inception in the early twentieth century? Which strands of contemporary critical theory and philosophy have engaged in a dialogue with the discourses of and on the weird? And what is specifically American about this aesthetic mode? As the first comprehensive interdisciplinary study of the weird, this book not only explores the writings of Lovecraft, Caitlin Kiernan, China Miéville, and Jeff VanderMeer but also the graphic novels of Alan Moore, the music of Captain Beefheart, the television show Twin Peaks, and the films of Lily Amirpour, Matthew Barney, David Lynch, and Jordan Peele. What the #@&% Is That? John Joseph Adams, Douglas Cohen, 2016-11 Fear of the unknown, it is the essence of the best horror stories: the need to know what monstrous vision you're beholding and the underlying terror that you just might find out. Now twenty authors have gathered to ask and maybe answer a question worthy of almost any horror tale: What the % is that? Join these masters of suspense as they take you to where the shadows grow long and that which lurks at the corner of your vision is all too real.
