The Oxford Handbook of the Zambian Economy ,2024-08-23 This handbook offers a comprehensive and authoritative account of the Zambian economy including past and current trends The Zambian economy has evolved from simple and fragmented agrarian activities at the turn of the 20th Century into a wide range of organized and regulated modern economic activities today While the economy has largely revolved around the mining industry since the early 1920s when the extraction of copper and other mineral ores on the Copperbelt begun there has been a gradual broadening of economic activities over time with services now accounting for almost two thirds of gross domestic product GDP This book shows that since colonial times one of the persistent items on the economic development agenda in what is today known as Zambia has been the need to diversify the economy to reduce dependence on mining in terms of foreign exchange earnings and public revenue While the need to diversify the economy has been well acknowledged by successive Zambia governments including the current government achieving this goal has proved to be elusive so far By presenting a collection of well researched and empirically supported chapters on the key areas of the Zambian economy this volume gives readers a good sense of where the Zambian economy has come from where it is at the moment but also highlights the challenges and prospects for economic growth

The Skills Balancing Act in Sub-Saharan Africa Omar Arias,David K. Evans,Indhira Santos,2019-01-31 Despite strong recent economic growth Sub Saharan Africa has levels of economictransformation poverty reduction and skill development far below those of other regions Smart investments in developing skills aligned with the policy goals of productivity growth inclusion and adaptability can help to accelerate the region s economic transformation inthe 21st century Sub Saharan Africa s growing working age population presents a major opportunity toincrease shared prosperity Countries in the region have invested heavily in building skills public expenditure on education increased sevenfold over the past 30 years and more childrenare in school today than ever before Yet systems for building skills in this population havefallen short and these shortcomings significantly impede economic prospects In half of thecountries fewer than two in every three children complete primary school even fewer reachand complete higher levels of education Learning outcomes have been persistently poor leading to substantial gaps in basic cognitive skills literacy and numeracy among children young people and adults The literacy rate of the adult population is below 50 percent in manycountries functional literacy and numeracy rates are even lower Systemwide change is required to achieve significant progress Multiple agencies at thecentral and local levels are involved in skills development strategies making skills everyone s problem but no one s responsibility Policies and reforms need to build capacity for evidence based policies and create incentives to align the behaviors of all stakeholders with the pursuit of national skills development goals The Skills Balancing Act in Sub Saharan Africa Investing in Skills for Productivity Inclusivity and Adaptability lays out evidence to inform the policy choices that countries will make in skill investments Each chapter addresses a set of specific questions drawing on original analysis and synthesis of existing studies to explore key areas How the skills appropriate to each stage of the life cycle are acquired and what market and institutional failures affect skills formation What systems are needed for individuals to access these skills including family investments private sector institutions schools and other public programs How those systems can be strengthened How the most vulnerable individuals those who fall outside the standard systems and have missed critical building blocks in skills acquisition can be supported Countries will face trade offs often stark ones that will have distributional impacts and a bearing on their development path Committed leaders reform coalitions and well coordinated policies are essential for taking on the skills balancing act in Sub Saharan Africa
