Management Gustavo Alonso,Peter Dadam,Michael Rosemann,2007-09-04 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 5th International Conference on Business Process Management BPM 2007 held in Brisbane Australia in September 2007 The papers are organized in topical sections on business process maturity and performance business process modeling case studies compliance and change process configuration and execution formal foundations of BPM business process mining and semantic issues in BPM Conceptual Modeling - ER 2002 Stefano Spaccapietra,Salvatore March,Yahiko

Kambayashi,2003-06-30 For more than 20 years the series of Conceptual Modeling ER conferences has provided a forum for research communities and practitioners to present and change research results and practical experiences in the elds of database design and conceptual modeling Throughout the years the scope of these conferences has extended from database design and speci c topics of that area to more u versal or re ned conceptual modeling organizing originally weak or ill structured information or knowledge in more cultured ways by applying various kinds of principles abstract models and theories for di erent purposes At the same time many technically oriented approaches have been developed which aim to facilitate the implementation of rather advanced conceptual models Conceptual modeling is based on the process of conceptualization and it is the core of system structuring as well as justification for information systems development. It supports and facilitates the understanding, explanation, prediction and reasoning on information and knowledge and their manipulation in the systems in addition to understanding and designing the functions of the systems. The conceptualization process aims at constructing concepts relevant for the knowledge and information system in question. Concepts in the human mind and concept descriptions in computerized information systems are quite different things by nature but both should be taken into account in conceptual modeling. Usually concept descriptions are properly observed but concepts in the human mind and their properties are often neglected quite carelessly.

The Client-Consultant Relationship in Professional Business Service Firms Natalia Nikolova, 2019-02-02 The interaction between clients and consultants during consulting projects is essential for their success and therefore for the long term survival of consulting companies. The aim of this book is to further advance our understanding of the nature of client consultant relationships. Building upon a critical discussion of the contributions and shortcomings of existing research, Natalia Nikolova proposes an innovative conceptual model which provides a critical yet constructive platform for the development of a more differentiated view of professional work. The framework concentrates on the cultural and political relations between clients and consultants during service production. It represents a prolific platform for further research and provides practitioners with an increased awareness of hitherto underexplored issues of client consultant relationships. This book is aimed at scholars of professional business service firms and those interested in multidisciplinary studies of human relations in general. It will also appeal to students interested in these areas and to clients and consultants involved in consulting projects.
