Honour Among Nations? Marcia Langton,2004 This important collection emerges from the growing academic and public policy interest in the area of Indigenous peoples treaties and agreements andndash challenging readers to engage with the idea of treaty and agreement making in changing political and legal landscapes Honour Among Nations contains contributions from both Indigenous and non Indigenous authors from Australia New Zealand and North America including Marcia Langton Gillian Triggs Joe Williams Paul Chartrand and Noel Pearson It features a preface by Sir Anthony Mason This book covers topics as diverse as treaty and agreement making in Australia New Zealand and British Columbia land the law political rights and Indigenous peoples maritime agreements health governance and jurisdiction race discrimination in Australia the Timor Sea Treaty copyright and intellectual property issues for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander authors Honour Among Nations makes a significant contribution to international debates on Indigenous peoples rights treaties and agreement making

Politics and the Past John Torpey, 2004-09-01 Politics and the Past offers an original multidisciplinary exploration of the growing public controversy over reparations for historical injustices Demonstrating that reparations politics has become one of the most important features of international politics in recent years the authors analyze why this is the case and show that reparations politics can be expected to be a major aspect of international affairs in coming years In addition to broad theoretical and philosophical reflection the book includes discussions of the politics of reparations in specific countries and regions including the United States France Latin America Japan Canada and Rwanda The volume presents a nuanced historically grounded and critical perspective on the many campaigns for reparations currently afoot in a variety of contexts around the world All readers working or teaching in the fields of transitional justice the politics of memory and social movements will find this book a rich and provocative contribution to this complex debate

Constitutional Odyssey Peter H. Russell, 2004-01-01 The first and second editions of Constitutional Odyssey published in 1992 and 1993 respectively received wide ranging praise for their ability to inform the public debate This third edition continues in that tradition

Landscapes of Clearance Angele Smith, Amy Gazin-Schwartz, 2016-06-03 This volume examines landscapes that have been cleared of inhabitants for economic environmental or socio political reasons by choice or by force and the social impacts of clearance on their populations Using cases from five continents and ranging from prehistoric through colonial and post colonial times the contributors show landscapes as meaningful points of contestation when populations abandon them or are exiled from them Acts of resistance and revitalization are also explored demonstrating the social and political meaning of specific landscapes to individuals groups and nations and how they help shape cultural identity and ideology Sponsored by the World Archaeological Congress

Indigenous Peoples in International Law S. James Anaya, 2004 In this thoroughly revised and updated edition of the first book length treatment of the subject S James Anaya incorporates references to all the latest treaties and recent developments in the international law of indigenous peoples Anaya demonstrates that while historical trends in international law largely facilitated colonization of indigenous peoples and their lands modern international law s human rights program has been modestly responsive to indigenous peoples aspirations to survive as distinct communities in control of their own destinies This book provides a theoretically grounded and practically oriented synthesis of the historical contemporary and emerging international law related to indigenous peoples It will be of great interest to scholars and lawyers in international law and human rights as well as to those interested in the dynamics of indigenous and ethnic identity

Written as I Remember It Elsie Paul, 2022-10-01 Long before vacationers discovered BC's Sunshine Coast the Sliammon a Coast Salish people called the region home Elsie Paul is one of the last surviving mother tongue speakers of the Sliammon language In this remarkable book she collaborates with a scholar Paige Raibmon and her granddaughter Harmony Johnson to tell her life story and the history of her people in her own words and storytelling style Raised by her grandparents who took her on their seasonal travels Paul spent most of her childhood learning Sliammon ways stories and legends Her adult life unfolded against a backdrop of colonialism and racism As Paul worked to sustain a healthy marriage raise a large family cope with tremendous grief and loss and develop a career and give back to community she drew strength from Sliammon teachings which live on in the pages of Written as I Remember It

Writing the Hamat'sa Aaron Glass, 2021-07-15 Long known as the Cannibal Dance the Hamat'sa is among the most important hereditary prerogatives of the Kwakwaka'wakw of British Columbia In the late nineteenth century as anthropologists arrived to document the practice colonial agents were pursuing its eradication and Kwakwaka'wakw were adapting it to endure In the process the dance with dramatic choreography magnificent bird masks and an aura of cannibalism entered a vast library of ethnographic texts Writing the Hamat'sa offers a critical survey of attempts to record describe and interpret the dance over four centuries Going beyond postcolonial critiques of representation that often ignore Indigenous agency in the ethnographic encounter Writing the Hamat'sa focuses on forms of textual mediation and Indigenous response that helped transform the ceremony from a set of specific performances into a generalized cultural icon This meticulous work illuminates how Indigenous people contribute to contest and repurpose texts in the process of fashioning modern identities under settler colonialism

What Has No Place, Remains Nicholas Shrubsole, 2019-07-04 The desire to erase the religions of Indigenous Peoples is an ideological fixture of the colonial project that marked the first century of Canada's nationhood While the ban on certain Indigenous religious practices was lifted after the Second World War it was not until 1982 that Canada recognized Aboriginal rights constitutionally protecting the diverse cultures of Indigenous Peoples As former prime minister Stephen Harper stated in Canada's apology for Indian residential schools the desire to destroy Indigenous cultures including religions has no place in Canada today And yet Indigenous religions continue to remain under threat Framed through a postcolonial lens What Has No Place, Remains analyses state actions responses and decisions on matters of Indigenous religious freedom The book is particularly concerned with legal cases such as Ktunaxa Nation v British Columbia 2017 but also draws on political negotiations such as those at Voisey's Bay and standoffs such as the one at Gustafsen Lake to generate a more comprehensive picture of the challenges for Indigenous religious freedom beyond Canada's courts With particular attention to cosmologically significant space this book provides the first comprehensive assessment of the conceptual cultural political social and legal reasons why religious freedom for Indigenous Peoples is currently an impossibility in Canada

Indigenous Legalities, Pipeline Viscosities Tyler

McCreary, 2024-04 Indigenous legalities pipeline viscosities examines the relationship between the Wet suwet en nation and pipeline development showing how colonial governments and corporations seek to control Indigenous claims and how the Wet suwet en resist Tyler McCreary offers historical context for the unfolding relationship between Indigenous peoples and colonialism and explores pipeline regulatory review processes attempts to reconcile Indigeneity with development as well as fundamental questions about territory and jurisdiction Throughout McCreary demonstrates how the cyclical and ongoing movements between resistance and reconciliation are affected by the unequal relations between Indigenous peoples and colonial government and development operations First Peoples In Canada Alan D. McMillan, Eldon

Yellowhorn, 2009-12-01 First Peoples in Canada provides an overview of all the Aboriginal groups in Canada Incorporating the latest research in anthropology archaeology ethnography and history this new edition describes traditional ways of life traces cultural changes that resulted from contacts with the Europeans and examines the controversial issues of land claims and self government that now affect Aboriginal societies Most importantly this generously illustrated edition incorporates a Nativist perspective in the analysis of Aboriginal cultures
