

The background of the book cover is a vibrant illustration. On the left, a massive, ancient-looking tree with a thick, gnarled trunk and a wide, spreading canopy of green leaves dominates the scene. A large, thick vine hangs from one of its branches. In the upper right, a small bird is shown in flight against a clear blue sky. Below the tree's canopy, a bright yellow field stretches across the middle ground, with a range of purple mountains visible on the horizon. In the bottom left corner, two small figures, a man in a red shirt and a woman in a green shirt, are sitting on a patch of dry, orange-brown grass, looking towards the tree. The title "TREE OF LIFE" is printed in large, black, serif capital letters across the yellow field.

Ngwa,Aliou Cissé Niang,Arthur Pressley,2023-09-05 Life Under the Baobab Tree Africana Studies and Religion in a Transitional Age is a compendium of innovating essays meticulously written by early and later diaspora people of African descent Their speech arises from the depth of their experiences under the Baobab tree and offers to the world voices of resilience newness resurrection hope and life Resolutely journeying on the trails of their ancestors they speak about setbacks and forward looking movements of liberation social transformation and community formation The volume is a carefully woven conversation of intellectual substance and structure across time space and spirituality that is quintessentially Africana in its centering of methodological theoretical epistemological and hermeneutical complexity that assumes nonlinear and dialogical approaches to developing liberating epistemologies in the face of imperialism colonialism racism and religious intolerance A critical part of this conversation is a reconceptualization and reconfiguration of the concept of religion in its colonial and imperial forms Life Under the Baobab Tree examines how Africana peoples understand their corporate experiences of the divine not as religion apart from its intimate connections to social realities of communal health economics culture politics environment violence war and dynamic community belonging To that end Afro Pessimistic formulations of life placed in dialogic relation Afro Optimism Both realities constitute life under the Baobab tree and represent the sturdiness and variation that anchors the deep ruptures that have affected Africana life and the creative responses The metaphor and substance of the tree resists reductionist essentialist and assured conclusions about the nature of diasporic lived experiences both within the continent of Africa and in the African Diaspora

Thinking and Learning through Children's Literature

Miriam G. Martinez, Junko Yokota, Charles Temple, 2017-04-18 Much of teachers attention these days is focused on having students read closely to ferret out the author s intended meaning and the devices used to convey that meaning But we cannot forget to guide students to have moving engagements with literature because they need to make strong personal connections to books of merit if they are to become the next generation of readers literate people with awareness of and concern for the diversity of human beings around them and in different times and places Fortunately guiding both students personal engagement with literature and their close reading to appreciate the author s message and craft are not incompatible goals This book enthusiastically and intelligently addresses both imperatives first surveying what is gained when students are immersed in literature then celebrating and explicating the main features of literature students need to understand to broaden their tastes and deepen their engagement at the same time they meet external standards then presenting a host of active methods for exploring all major genres of children s books and finally presenting suggestions for interdisciplinary teaching units grounded in literature Created by noted leaders in the fields of children s literature and literacy the book is enlivened by recurring features such as suggested reading lists issues for discussion links to technology and annotations of exemplary books

Books Kids Will Sit Still For 3: A Read-Aloud Guide Judy Freeman, 2006-04-30 A guide to captivating read alouds for grades K through 6 with tips on effective reading aloud storytelling and classroom and library activities It also includes references to related titles that help teachers and librarians plan effective programs and instill a love of books and reading as well as a bibliography of professional books

Picture This Denise I. Matulka, 1997-12-09 Picture books for young adults can provide a unique introduction to curriculum related topics that will capture student interest This annotated bibliography of over 600 picture books for students in grades 8 through 12 is organized by content area and will enable teachers and library media specialists to select appropriate books for use with students. Picture books provide an extraordinary opportunity to combine illustration and thoroughly researched text to introduce topics in the arts, health, literature, mathematics, science, and social science content areas. They can be used together with companion titles or as springboards to stimulate student interest. No longer just for children, picture books have matured in the last decade to become a format for all ages. The recommended fiction and nonfiction titles in this resource have been carefully selected as appropriate for older readers because of their sophisticated content. Almost all have been published in the late 1980s through 1996. For ease of use by the teacher or young adult librarian, the bibliography is arranged into six content areas: the arts, health, literature, and language, mathematics, science, and nature, and social studies and history. Within each content area, entries are organized alphabetically by author. Each annotation includes the book's content, subject breakdown, artistic style, and medium, suggested companion titles, and ideas for use in the classroom. Annotations are numbered for ease of use and indexed by subject, author, and illustrator. Appendixes include a glossary of terms used to describe picture books, a checklist to guide teachers and students when using picture books, and a list of professional sources that will assist teachers in exploring the picture book format. This easy-to-use guide is an indispensable resource for teachers and librarians seeking to motivate students and stimulate their interest.

Strong Spirits, Kind Hearts Sandra Finney, 2013-05-23 Strong Spirits Kind Hearts is the first practical teacher resource to provide comprehensive coverage of all aspects of developing strong spirits and caring young people. It is focused on middle years students but most lessons can be adapted for older and younger students as well. This resource describes ways to incorporate emotional and spiritual supports into daily routines and interactions with students and provides ready-to-use activities, lessons, and units that can be integrated into subject area teaching. This book helps teachers to understand the importance of strengthening students' spirits and how this support improves students' learning and classroom morale, build resilience, and hope through their interactions with students, distinguish between the development of strong spirits and religious education, use approaches that are respectful of religious and spiritual diversity as well as more secular views, implement a wealth of strategies, lessons, and units that develop students' compassion and sense of connection to others, and the natural world, integrate a focus on meaning and purpose within subject area lessons.

DiscoveryWorks, 1996 African Tree Tales Ivy Newton, 2015-08-06 The baobab, bay oh bab, is known as the tree God planted upside down and also the tree of life. There are many folktales, myths, and legends surrounding the baobab tree. Stories were told to an ancestor whose ancestors told them to them who had received them from their ancestors and so back into the ancient San Tribe storytelling history. The baobab is truly the tree of life; this is why the African San people believe the tree has enchanted powers. Baobab tree African folktales teach powerful lessons on resilience, inner strength, and the unyielding hopefulness of the human spirit.
