Franklin, 2010-12-12 Hakylut Thirty Years in the Arctic Regions John Franklin, 1859 , Global Challenges in the Arctic Region Elena Conde, Sara Iglesias Sánchez, 2016-08-05 Bringing together interconnected discussions to make explicit the complexity of the Arctic region this book offers a legal discussion of the ongoing territorial disputes and challenges in order to frame their impact into the viability of different governance strategies that are available at the national regional and international level One of the intrinsic features of the region is the difficulty in the determination of boundaries responsibilities and interests Against this background sovereignty issues are intertwined with environmental and geopolitical issues that ultimately affect global strategic balances and international trade and at the same time influence national approaches to basic rights and organizational schemes regarding the protection of indigenous peoples and inhabitants of the region This perspective lays the ground for further discussion revolving around the main clusters of governance focusing on the Arctic Council and the European Union with the particular roles and interest of Arctic and non Arctic states and the impact on indigenous populations environment including the relevance of national regulatory schemes and the intertwinement with concerns related to energy or migration strategy concentrating in geopolitical realities and challenges analysed from different perspectives and focusing on different actors and covering security and climate change related challenges This collection provides an avenue for parallel and converging research of complex realities from different disciplines through the expertise of scholars from different latitudes Thirty Years in the Arctic Regions; Or, the

Adventures of Sir John Franklin Sir John Franklin, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1859 edition Excerpt warm but dark clouds overspread the sky Our men now began to find their burdens very oppressive and were much fatigued by this day s march but did not complain One of them was lame from an inflammation in the knee Heavy rain commenced at midnight and continued without intermission until five in the morning when it was succeeded by snow on the wind changing to north west which soon increased to a violent gale As we had nothing to eat and were destitute of the means of making a fire we remained in our beds all the day but the covering of our blankets was insufficient to prevent us from feeling the severity of the frost and suffering inconvenience from the drifting of the snow into our tents There was no abatement of the storm the next day our tents were completely frozen and the snow had drifted around them to a depth of three feet and even on the inside there was a covering of several inches on our blankets Our suffering from cold in a comfortless canvass tent in such weather with the temperature at 20 and without fire will easily be imagined it was however less than that which we felt from hunger The morning of the 7th cleared up a little but the wind was still strong and the weather extremely cold From the unusual continuance of the storm we feared the winter had set in with all its rigor and that by longer delay we should only be exposed to an accumulation of difficulties we therefore prepared for our journey although we were in a very unfit condition for starting being weak from fasting and our garments stiffened by the frost We had no means of making a fire to thaw them the moss at all times difficult to kindle being now covered with ice and snow A considerable time was consumed in packing up
