Thoughts On The New South Africa:

Thoughts on the New South Africa Neville Alexander, 2013 Compiled by noted South African intellectual and former revolutionary Neville Alexander shortly before his death the essays gathered in this collection deal with the perceptions and beliefs that both drive and hinder post apartheid South Africa and in doing so raise sometimes uncomfortable questions about the new South Africa's standing on a global level The pieces address three of the principle issues that concerned Alexander namely the fundamental necessity for South Africans to move away from race consciousness and think along the lines of the far more real and relevant categories of class gender and language the importance of children learning to read write and think in their own mother tongue while understanding the need for mastery in an international language and the struggle for a socialist world of justice and equality for all These perceptive treatises shed light on the current South Africa a nation working to reshape and reinvent itself on the international stage after years of political racial and social inequality develop a richer picture and deeper appreciation of changing South African social values This the first volume in the series presents the public s responses during extensive nation wide interviews conducted by the HSRC in late 2003 The findings are analysed in three thematic sections the first provides an in depth examination of race class and politics the second gives a critical assessment of the public s perceptions of poverty inequality and service delivery and the last explores societal values such as partner violence and moral attitudes South African Social Attitudes is essential reading for anyone seeking a guide to contemporary social or political issues and debates It should prove an indispensable tool not only for government policy makers social scientists and students but also for general readers wishing to gain a better understanding of their fellow citizens and themselves
