Wannabe U Inside The Corporate University Wannabe U Paperback:

Wannabe U Gaye Tuchman, 2011-08-22 Based on years of observation at a large state university Wannabe U tracks the dispiriting consequences of trading in traditional educational values for loyalty to the market Aping their boardroom idols the new corporate administrators at such universities wander from job to job and reductively view the students there as future workers in need

Neoliberalizing the University: Implications for American Democracy Sanford Schram, 2017-10-02 This collection brings together essays to address the crisis of Higher Education today focusing on its neoliberalization Higher Education has been under assault for several decades as neoliberalism's preference for market based reforms sweeps across the US political economy The recent push for neoliberalizing the academy comes at a time when it is ripe for change especially as it continues to confront growing financial pressure particularly in the public sector The resulting cutbacks in public funding especially to state universities led to a variety of debilitating changes increases in tuition growing student debt more students combining working and schooling declining graduation rates for minorities and low income students increased reliance on adjuncts and temporary faculty and most recently growing interest in mass processing of students via online instruction While many serious questions arise once we begin to examine what is happening in higher education today one particularly critical question concerns the implications of these changes on the relationship of education to as yet still unrealized democratic ideals The 12 essays collected in this volume create important resources for students faculty citizens and policymakers who want to find ways to address contemporary threats to the higher education democracy connection This book was originally published as a special issue of New Political Science

Diverse Administrators in Peril Edna Chun, Alvin Evans, 2015-12-03 Diverse Administrators in Peril is the first in depth examination of the work experiences of minority female and LGBT administrators in higher education Written by two award winning practitioners in higher education this vivid and intensive study of American leadership from the inside out illuminates how the collision between everyday life and systems of power takes place in patterns of subtle discrimination Based on scores of interviews with diverse administrators the book examines patterns of racism sexism and heterosexism that persist in the highest administrative ranks and provides concrete strategies and models for inclusive leadership practices

The Role of Leaders and Actors in Academy-Business Partnerships: Issues of Risk, Trust, Power, Ethics, and Cooperation Clevenger, Morgan R., Kretovics, Mark, Watts, Jessica Shepard, 2024-09-17 In academic business partnerships many challenges plague both sides of the equation From navigating complex power dynamics to ensuring ethical conduct managing risk and fostering trust these collaborations often seem to walk a tightrope without a safety net The critical actors involved such as university leaders corporate executives and government policymakers often struggle to strike the delicate balance required for success It is a world where mishaps are as common as best practices and the potential for growth and innovation remains untapped due to these hurdles The Role of Leaders and Actors in Academy Business Partnerships Issues of Risk Trust Power Ethics and Cooperation emerge as the guiding light in this labyrinthine journey This book does not just highlight the issues it presents concrete solutions By offering a comprehensive exploration of the roles and responsibilities of key players from university presidents to corporate executives it equips readers with the knowledge and tools needed to navigate the intricate dynamics of these partnerships successfully With real world examples of best practices and the cautionary tales of the dark side of leadership this book empowers academic scholars and corporate leaders alike to make informed decisions and forge collaborations that truly benefit both sides

Reversing the Cult of Speed in Higher Education Jonathan Chambers, Stephannie Gearhart, 2018-10-26 A collection of essays written by arts and humanities scholars across disciplines this book argues that higher education has been compromised by its uncritical acceptance of our culture's standards of productivity busyness and speed Inspired by the Slow Movement contributors explain how and why university culture has come to value productivity over contemplation and rapidity over slowness Chapter authors argue that the arts and humanities offer a cogent critique of fast culture in higher education and reframe the discussion of the value of their fields by emphasizing the dialectic between speed and slowness

Competitive Accountability in Academic Life Richard Watermeyer, 2019 This book considers how a culture of competitive accountability in UK higher education produces multiple tensions contradictions and paradoxes that are destabilizing and deleterious to the work and identities of academics as research scientists It suggests the potential of a new discourse of scientific accountability that frees scientists and their public communities from the absurdities and profligacy of performativity and managerial governmentality encountered in the REF and an impact agenda the noose of competitive accountability and a more honest and meaningful public contract

Militarizing Culture Roberto J González, 2016-06-16 Militarizing Culture is a rousing critique of the increasing infiltration of military culture into American society by leading cultural commentator Despite its pervasiveness González insists that warfare is not an inevitable part of human nature and charts a path toward the decommissioning of culture

Academic Working Lives Lynne Gornall, Caryn Cook, Lyn Daunton, Jane Salisbury, Brychan Thomas, 2014-01-30 Provides a fine grained multidisciplinary multi context and inclusive set of approaches to the challenges and complexities within contemporary academic working lives

The New Spirit of Creativity Saara Liinamaa, 2022-06-29 The New Spirit of Creativity examines creativity as an embedded institutional value and priority within public art institutions and higher education The book unpacks the everyday work organization and administration of artistic creativity and its clashes with a new spirit of creativity that has widely taken hold Based on fieldwork conducted at three art and design universities in Canada Saara Liinamaa tackles the fraught landscape of contemporary higher education the uncertainties of cultural work and ongoing concerns around austerity in Canada This book traces how creativity is not simply practiced within the art school but also inequitably recognized and rewarded Liinamaa identifies the many compromises required between artistic creativity and the new spirit while demonstrating how not all compromises are created equally compromise can support or erode creative diversity Drawing on a range of original sources including interviews participant observation policy and planning and media this work makes a compelling case as to why art and design schools are worthy of sustained attention By connecting shared interests across sociology education cultural studies art history and cultural theory The New Spirit of Creativity makes a novel and agenda setting contribution to our understanding of artistic creativity compromise and cultural work Bourdieu and Higher Education Troy Heffernan,2022-01-12 This book introduces Bourdieu in the context of higher education for unfamiliar readers or those who would like to see his theories applied in the higher education setting It builds upon research into higher education leadership and administration to examine how the university sector has changed over recent decades and how it has been reshaped into its current form The book draws together various aspects of higher education influenced by the mass market higher education system to examine how these forces have affected each other positively and negatively and demonstrate the culminating impact of these forces on the sector It also focuses on the realities of what drives work and life in the modern university It traces the steps the sector has taken in some areas to address equity issues by increasing diversity and inclusion and highlights the systemic issues that persist Grounded Theory in Applied Linguistics Research Gregory Hadley,2017-03-27 This volume demystifies the procedures and practical uses of Grounded Theory a well established research methodology used around the world today by social scientists teachers and qualitative researchers Intended for graduate students supervisors and researchers it provides readers with the tools for understanding justifying and disseminating new theoretical insights for the Applied Linguistics community and beyond Rethinking Higher Education and the Crisis of Legitimation in Europe Ourania Filippakou,2022-08-29 Building on Ourania Filippakou s previous work on higher education in the fields of governance neoliberalism university entrepreneurialism and marketization institutional and social stratification Rethinking Higher Education and the Crisis of Legitimation in Europe contributes to the debate on higher education from a critical policy perspective Introducing new ideas on the relationships between the alleged pursuit of excellence in higher education and the ways in which both deploys and reflects how power is wielded in Europe and other neoliberal capitalist societies The term legitimation is here coined to emphasize how new coercive strategies political decisions and management styles have emerged in the age of excellence in higher education The book concludes with a more personal reflection on the neutrality of higher education and its illusory promises The Routledge Companion to Reinventing Management Education Chris Steyaert,Timon Beyes,Martin Parker,2016-06-17 The position and role of the business school and its educational programmes have become increasingly prominent yet also questioned and contested What management education entails and how it is enacted has become a matter of profound concern in the field of higher education and more generally for the development of the organized world Drawing upon the humanities and social sciences The Routledge Companion to Reinventing Management Education imagines a different and better education offered to students of management entrepreneurship and organization studies It is an intervention into the debates on what is taught and how learning takes place demonstrating both the potential and the limits of what the humanities and social sciences can do for management education Divided into six sections the book traces the history and theory of management education reimagining central educational principles and outlining an emerging practice based approach With an international cast of authors The Routledge Companion to Reinventing Management Education has been written for contemporary and future educators and for students and scholars who seek to make a difference through their practice Trans in College* Z Nicolazzo,2023-07-03 WINNER of 2017 AERA DIVISION J OUTSTANDING PUBLICATION AWARDCHOICE 2017 Outstanding Academic TitleThis is both a personal book that offers an account of the author s own trans identity and a deeply engaged study of trans collegians that reveals the complexities of trans identities and how these students navigate the trans oppression present throughout society and their institutions create community and resilience and establish meaning and control in a world that assumes binary genders This book is addressed as much to trans students themselves offering them a frame to understand the genders that mark them as different and to address the feelings brought on by the weight of that difference as it is to faculty student affairs professionals and college administrators opening up the implications for the classroom and the wider campus This book not only remedies the paucity of literature on trans college students but does so from a perspective of resiliency and agency Rather than situating trans students as problems requiring accommodation this book problematizes the college environment and frames trans students as resilient individuals capable of participating in supportive communities and kinship networks and of developing strategies to promote their own success Z Nicolazzo provides the reader with a nuanced and illuminating review of the literature on gender and sexuality that sheds light on the multiplicity of potential expressions and outward representations of trans identity as a prelude to the ethnography ze conducted with nine trans collegians that richly documents their interactions with and responses to environments ranging from the unwittingly offensive to explicitly antagonistic The book concludes by giving space to the study s participants to themselves share what they want college faculty staff and students to know about their lived experiences Two appendices respectively provide a glossary of vocabulary and terms to address commonly asked questions and a description of the study design offered as guide for others considering working alongside marginalized population in a manner that foregrounds ethics care and reciprocity University Management, the Academic Profession, and Neoliberalism John S. Levin,Marie C. Martin,Ariadna I. López Damián,2020-08-01 This book examines tensions and challenges in the professional lives and identities of contemporary academics Drawing on extensive interviews conducted over seven years with academics in the United States and the United Kingdom the authors analyze the experiences of four types of academics as they respond and adjust to the demands of neoliberalism part time faculty full time faculty department heads and chairs and deans While critical of this phenomenon University Management the Academic Profession and Neoliberalism also recognizes that neoliberalism cannot be driven out of academia easily or without serious consequences such as a perilous loss of revenue and public support. Instead, it works to shed light on the complex, sometimes contradictory, sometimes complementary relationship between market values and academic values in the roles and behaviors of faculty and administrators. In providing an unprecedented in-depth data-based look at the management of the academic profession, the book will be of interest not only to educational researchers but also to professionals throughout higher education.

Universities and Colleges: A Very Short Introduction David Palfreyman, Paul Temple, 2017-12-28. What is a university? What is the University? How have universities evolved over the centuries? How might they change over the coming decades as the physical and organisational entity most identified with higher education being delivered to over 250 million students? What will be the impact of digital and distance learning of commercial for-profit new entrants to the higher education market of government austerity of globalization of student consumerism? Exploring the origins and the concept, the idea and the ideal of the university, this Very Short Introduction discusses one of the world's oldest, most resilient and most adaptable institutions. David Palfreyman and Paul Temple consider the links between universities and the economy and the role of universities within society. Highlighting some of the key questions surrounding the position of universities, they ask how the university can be politically accountable for its taxpayer funding; if it needs to be autonomous to function effectively as a public good; Are professors professional enough in their teaching practices at a time that increasing tuition fees transform students more and more into consumers? And just what does academic freedom for university faculties really entail?

ABOUT THE SERIES: The Very Short Introductions series from Oxford University Press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area. These pocket-sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly. Our expert authors combine facts, analysis, perspective, new ideas, and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable.

Private Enterprise and Public Education Frederick M. Hess, Michael B. Horn, 2015-04-26. The growth of for-profit providers in the K16 education sector has generated more than its share of controversy. From the emergence of charter schools to post-secondary options like the University of Phoenix, for-profit providers have been lauded for their capacity to serve historically underserved populations but derided for their pursuit of profit, which critics argue is at the expense of the public good. This important volume takes stock of the debate, neither demonizing nor celebrating the for-profit sector, to understand what it takes for for-profits to promote quality and cost effectiveness at scale. Contributors address how policymakers and other education stakeholders can create an environment where the power of for-profit innovation and investment is leveraged to better serve students. The role that private enterprise can and should play in American education needs to be brought to the forefront of reform discussions. Editors Hess and Horn move beyond heated rhetoric to offer a thoughtful and probing analysis that will enable stakeholders to craft a viable future for public education.

The Stewardship of Higher Education David M. Callejo Perez, Joshua Ode, 2013-10-30. Understanding the entrepreneurial nature of universities, in particular the relationship between education and health in relation to development and wellness of communities, this volume provides a description/narration of the efforts in how universities can address their shifting contexts while engaging their communities in social change In the development of this book we have explored how reforms in American higher education are impacting the role of universities and their faculty Contributors were asked to imagine possibilities for research and outreach by providing salient examples of how higher education can lead and change how we view the role of health and education within institutions and society Each author writes across common themes that address the problems and possibilities of higher education curriculum and projects aligned with the mission of stewardship The authors highlight interdisciplinary approaches and projects for faculty work modification of the Teaching Research Service expectations and community initiatives that can emerge from real life problems to impact wellbeing and create rich and deep research possibilities for practitioners to impact both higher education and society The process and research approaches used by the authors include imagining the community as part of a process of the change and part of what changes exploring how community change can build on the strengths of local people and why community organization and advocacy should revolve around social learning and community capacity theories Given the diversity of topics and approaches as editors we have tried to honour both the authors words and style in expressing their opinions to provide a forum for the readers to envision stewardship
