What Are They Saying About Environmental Theology:

What are They Saying about Environmental Theology? John Hart, 2004 This book offers a comprehensive analysis of Catholic teachings on environmental themes by exploring official statements from Rome and the bishops of the Americas as well as from contemporary visionary theologians p 4 cover

Sacramental Commons John Hart, 2006-07-27 The increasing awareness of environmental issues as ultimately moral issues has led to the intersection of religion and environment Sacramental Commons presents a unique way of looking at this topic by relating the Christian word sacrament signs of divine presence to the term commons shared place and shared goods among people and between people and the natural world suggesting that local natural settings and local communities can be a source for respect and compassion Sacramental Commons uses Earth oriented biblical teachings and ideas from such thinkers as Hildegard St Francis John Muir and Black Elk to provide insights about divine immanence in creation human commitments to creation and human accountability to the Spirit Earth and biotic community It extends the concept of natural rights beyond humans to include all nature and affirms intrinsic value in ecosystems in whole and in part Sacramental Commons declares that the Earth commons and its goods should be shared equitably by human communities and individuals living in interdependent relationships with other members of the community of life It suggests essential values that will stimulate care for the commons and embodies them in principles of an innovative Christian Ecological Ethics

The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Religion and Ecology John Hart, 2017-03-24 In the face of the current environmental crisis which clearly has moral and spiritual dimensions members of all the world's faiths have come to recognize the critical importance of religion's relationship to ecology The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Religion and Ecology offers a comprehensive overview of the history and the latest developments in religious engagement with environmental issues throughout the world Newly commissioned essays from noted scholars of diverse faiths and scientific traditions present the most cutting edge thinking on religion's relationship to the environment. Initial readings explore the ways traditional concepts of nature in Christianity, Judaism, Islam, Buddhism, and other religious traditions have been shaped by the environmental crisis. Readings then address the changing nature of theology and religious thought in response to the challenges of protecting the environment. Various conceptual issues and themes that transcend individual traditions—climate change, bioethics, social justice, ecofeminism, and more—are then analyzed. Before a final section examines some of the immediate challenges we face in caring for the Earth while looking to the future of religious environmentalism, Timely and Thought Provoking Companion to Religion and Ecology offers illuminating insights into the role of religion in the ongoing struggle to secure the future well-being of our natural world. With a foreword by Ecumenical Patriarch Bartholomew I and an Afterword by John Cobb, God and the Human Environment (Osunkwo Jude Thaddeus Ikenna, 2015-07-02) is a Catholic Principles of Environmental Stewardship as a Template for Action in Nigeria, bringing into conversation the Church's theological reflection on the mandate to care for God's creation and the circumstances of the environment in Nigeria. In vivid terms and with systemic thinking, Fr. Jude Osunkwo, a theologian who specializes in Environmental Studies and Pastoral Catechesis, explores the biblical, theological, magisterial, and doctrinal bases that underlie a faithful response to contemporary environmental challenges. After setting the stage with a summation of the issues and a survey of significant ecclesiastical statements on the topic of the environment, God and the Human Environment addresses Catholic theological principles of stewardship, Christian responsibility, and the ethics of development. Then the discussion turns to the environment of Nigeria, assessing its current state and reviewing the causes and consequences of environmental challenges before proposing pastoral responses for the Church. Finally, some chapters address likely developments in Nigeria and the Church. An extensive bibliography and several appendices provide additional support. God and the Human Environment is a rigorously researched and passionately presented exploration of the issues growing out of the environmental circumstances Nigerians currently face. Whether you live in Nigeria or count yourself as a member of the Catholic Church and live somewhere else, God and the Human Environment explores a topic that promises to make a difference in your life and to protect the part of the environment that God has created for you to tend. Early Ecotheology and Joseph Sittler (Panu Pihkala, 2017) asks: When did Christians begin to address environmental questions? What can be learned from these pioneering thinkers? This study reveals that between 1910 and 1954 many theologians called for responsibility towards nature. The focal point is the work of Joseph Sittler (1904–1987), an American Lutheran and ecumenical theologian. The role of these early ecotheologians is discussed in relation to environmental history and education. The findings show that ecotheology was not as strongly separated from other environmentalism as it was after the 1960s. Series: Studies in Religion and the Environment, Studien zur Religion und Umwelt, Vol. 12, Subject: Religious Studies, Environmental Studies, Ecotheology (Joseph Sittler, Christian Faith and the Environment).

Brennan R. Hill, 2007-03-16 Although the environmental crisis has been recognized as an international threat Christian attempts to reconcile their religious traditions and the earth are just beginning Christian Faith and the Environment challenges churches to take a stand for environmental concerns Hill explores how twentieth century theologians such as Karl Rahner Bernard Lonergan and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin have taught Christians to build bridges between Christianity and creation Examining sacramental rites church documents and feminist theological insights on ecology Hill outlines a Christian environmental spirituality and traces the ethical challenges posed by our new awareness of our environment Religion and the Environment Roger S.
