This End Stella Benson:

This Is the End Stella Benson, 2004-10 This is the end for the moment of all my thinking this is my unfinal conclusion There is no reason in tangible things and no system in the ordinary ways of the world Hands were made to grope and feet to stumble and the only things you may count on are the unaccountable things System is a fairy and a dream you never find system where or when you expect it There are no reasons except reasons you and I don't know I should not be really surprised if the policeman across the way grew wings or if the deep sea rose and washed out the chaos of the land I should not raise my eyebrows if the daily press became the Little Sunbeam of the Home or if Cabinet Ministers struck for a decrease of wages I feel no security in facts precedent seems no protection to me The wisdom you can find in an Encyclopedia or in Selfridge's Information Bureau seems to me just a transitory adaptation to quicksand circumstances This is the End, by Stella Benson Stella 1892-1933 Benson, 2022-10-27 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant I Pose, This Is the End, and Living Alone Stella Benson, 2016-01-05 3 Books By Stella Benson I Pose This Is The End And Living Alone This Is the End Benson Stella, 2015-11-01 Stella Benson 6 January 1892 7 December 1933 was an English feminist novelist poet and travel writer Stella spent the winter of 1913 14 in the West Indies which provided material for her first novel I Pose 1915 Living in London she became involved in women's suffrage as had her older female relatives During World War I she supported the troops by gardening and by helping poor women in London's East End at the Charity Organisation Society These efforts inspired Benson to write the novels This Is the End 1917 and Living Alone 1919 Living Alone is a fantasy novel about a woman whose life is transformed by a witch She also published her first volume of poetry Twenty in 1918 THIS IS THE END BY STELLA BENS Stella 1892-1933 Benson, 2016-08-29 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work was reproduced from the original artifact and remains as true to the original work as possible Therefore you will see the original copyright references library stamps as most of these works have been housed in our most important libraries around the world and other notations in the work This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work As a reproduction of a historical artifact this work may contain missing or blurred pages poor pictures errant marks etc Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the British Women Writers 1914-1945 Catherine Clay, 2017-09-20 Catherine Clay's persuasively argued and rigorously documented study examines women's friendships during the period between the two world wars. Building on extensive new archival research, the book's organizing principle is a series of literary historical case studies that explore the practices, meanings, and effects of friendship within a network of British women writers who were all loosely connected to the feminist weekly periodical Time and Tide. Clay considers the letters and diaries as well as fiction, poetry, autobiographies, and journalistic writings of authors such as Vera Brittain, Winifred Holtby, Storm Jameson, Naomi Mitchison, and Stella Benson to examine women's friendships in relation to two key contexts: the rise of the professional woman writer under the shadow of literary modernism and historic shifts in the cultural recognition of lesbianism crystallized by The Well of Loneliness in 1928. While Clay's study presents substantial evidence to support the crucial role close and enduring friendships played in women's professional achievements, it also boldly addresses the limitations and denials of these relationships. Producing biographies of friendship untold in existing author studies, her book also challenges dominant accounts of women's friendships and advances new ways for thinking about women's friendship in contemporary debates.

The Last Man Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley, 2019-11-19 Mary Wollstonecraft Shelley's The Last Man is a profound exploration of isolation and despair set in a post-apocalyptic vision of the future. Written in 1826, this prophetic narrative delves into the themes of humanity's fragility, existential dread, and the effects of societal collapse. Shelley employs a rich lyrical style that intertwines gothic elements with philosophical reflections, creating a poignant commentary on the human condition amidst a plague-ravaged world. The narrative is structured as a personal account providing an intimate vantage point into the emotional turmoil faced by the novel's protagonist, Lionel Verney, as he contemplates the inevitability of death and the loss of civilization. Mary Shelley's remarkable literary career includes her groundbreaking work Frankenstein, which laid the groundwork for science fiction and existential inquiry. Born to renowned thinkers William Godwin and Mary Wollstonecraft, she was deeply influenced by the ideas of radicalism and reform. Her experiences, including the deaths of loved ones and the turmoil of her time, inspired her to address the fragility of human existence and the impacts of isolation, leading to the creation of this haunting reflection on human resilience. The Last Man is an essential read for those interested in dystopian literature, romanticism, and the philosophical inquiries into mortality and society. Shelley's tragic yet mesmerizing prose invites readers to reflect on the nature of humanity and the legacies we leave behind, making it not only a timeless classic but also a poignant reminder of our collective vulnerabilities.

The Country Life Rachel Cusk, 2015-02-17 A New York Times Notable Book of the Year Winner of the Somerset Maugham Award, The Country Life Rachel Cusk's third novel is a rich and subtle story about embarrassment, awkwardness, and being alone about families or the lack of them and about love in some peculiar guises. A brilliant oxymoron, a serious farce, Cusk's ability to keep us interested in innumerable human collisions is uncanny The New Yorker Stella Benson sets off for Hilltop a tiny Sussex village housing a family that is somewhat larger than life Her hopes for the Maddens may be high but her station among them as au pair to their irascible son Martin is undeniably low What could possibly have driven her to leave her home job and life in London for such rural ignominy Why has she severed all contact with her parents And why is she so reluctant to talk about her past

Death the Door, Music a Key Ba. Mus. Hons. Sciberras,2012-03-01 Death the Door Music a Key is an invitation to join a journey that is not always easy but might just alter the way you think about how you live your life The journey begins in the fragile moments just before life ends as we sit beside the deathbed and seek to understand this sacred process through the eyes of a harpist This book of stories tells of ordinary people in the midst of extraordinary moments people experiencing grief loss and the anticipation of death For the most part however it is the story of the author who followed a calling to sit with the dying and share her music It paints a picture of the work that I do as a harpist who plays intuitive music at the bedside the restorative qualities of the harp and the gift that it brings many It is my hope that through telling these stories not only will the lives of those who I have played for be honoured but also their death It is my hope that their story will serve as a reminder to others that this experience does not have to be frightening though it requires acceptance and acceptance requires courage This acceptance of death can be rarely found and when it is it is unmistakable for their peace seems to permeate everything and everyone around them
