Vocal Tracks Performance And Sound Media:

Vocal Tracks Jacob Smith, 2008-08-04 This entertaining and innovative book focuses on vocal performance styles that developed in tandem with the sound technologies of the photograph radio and sound film It looks at these media technologies and industries through the lens of performance bringing to light a nexus of performer technology and audience

Vocal Tracks Jacob Smith, 2005

Vocal Projections Maria Pramaggiore, Annabelle Honess Roe, 2018-10-18 Vocal Projections Voices in Documentary examines a previously neglected topic in the field of documentary studies the political aesthetic and affective functions that voices assume On topics ranging from the celebrity voice over to ventriloquism from rockumentary screams to feminist vocal politics these essays demonstrate myriad ways in which voices make documentary meaning beyond their expository evidentiary and authenticating functions The international range of contributors offers an innovative approach to the issues relating to voices in documentary While taking account of the existing paradigm in documentary studies pioneered by Bill Nichols in which voice is equated with political rhetoric and subjective representation the contributors move into new territory addressing current and emerging research in voice sound music and posthumanist studies

Locating the Voice in Film Tom Whittaker, Sarah Wright, 2017 This book locates the voice in cinema in different national and transnational contexts to explore how the critical approaches to the voice as well as the practices of sound design technologies and even reception are often grounded in cultural specificity to present readings which challenge traditional theories of the voice in film

Voice as Art Richard Couzins, 2022-04-28 Voice as Art considers how artists have used human voices since they became reproducible and entered art discourse in the twentieth century The discussion embeds artworks using voices within historical and theoretical contexts in a comparative overview arguing that reproduction caused increased creativity moving from acting to creating phonic materials framed by phenomenological deep listening by early video and performance to the plurality and sampling of postmodernism and the multiple angles of contemporary forensic listening This change is an example of how artistic practice reveals the ideologies of listening Using a range of examples from Hugo Ball Martha Rosler Vito Acconci Bruce Nauman Janet Cardiff and Mike Kelley through to contemporary practice by Shilpa Gupta The Otolith Group and Elizabeth Price the voice is tracked through modernism and postmodernism to posthumanism in relation to speaking subjects sculptural objects documents dramaturgical utterance forensic evidence verbatim techniques and embodied listening This book gives artists researchers and art audiences ways to understand how voices exist in between theoretical discourses and how with their utterances artists create new dispositions in space by reworking genres to critique cultural form and meaning This book will be of great interest to students and practitioners of sound art visual culture and theatre and performance

Eco-Sonic Media Jacob Smith, 2015-06-05 The negative environmental effects of media culture are not often acknowledged the fuel required to keep huge server farms in operation landfills full of high tech junk and the extraction of rare minerals for devices reliant on them are just some of the hidden costs of the contemporary mediascape Eco Sonic Media brings an ecological critique to the history of sound media technologies in order to amplify the environmental undertones in sound studies and turn up the audio in discussions of greening the media By looking at early and neglected forms of sound technology Jacob Smith seeks to create a revisionist ecologically aware history of sound media Delving into the history of pre electronic media like hand cranked gramophones comparatively eco friendly media artifacts such as the shellac discs that preceded the use of petroleum based vinyl early forms of portable technology like divining rods and even the use of songbirds as domestic music machines Smith builds a scaffolding of historical case studies to demonstrate how green media archaeology can make sound studies vibrate at an ecological frequency while opening the ears of eco criticism Throughout this eye opening and timely book he makes readers more aware of the costs and consequences of their personal media consumption by prompting comparisons with non digital non electronic technologies and by offering different ways in which sound media can become eco sonic media In the process he forges interdisciplinary connections opens new avenues of research and poses fresh theoretical questions for scholars and students of media sound studies and contemporary environmental history

The Race of Sound Nina Sun Eidsheim, 2019-01-11 Examining singers Marian Anderson Billie Holiday and Jimmy Scott as well as vocal synthesis technology Nina Sun Eidsheim traces the ways in which the voice and its qualities are socially produced and how listeners assign a series of racialized and gendered set of assumptions to a singing voice

The Cinema of Barbara Stanwyck Catherine Russell, 2023-05-02 From The Lady Eve to The Big Valley Barbara Stanwyck played parts that showcased her multidimensional talents but also illustrated the limits imposed on women in film and television Catherine Russell's A to Z consideration of the iconic actress analyzes twenty six facets of Stanwyck and the America of her times Russell examines Stanwyck's work onscreen against the backdrop of costuming and other aspects of filmmaking But she also views the actress's off screen performance within the Hollywood networks that made her an industry favorite and longtime cornerstone of the entertainment community Russell's montage approach coalesces into an engrossing portrait of a singular artist whose intelligence and savvy placed her center stage in the production of her films and in the debates around women femininity and motherhood that roiled mid century America Original and rich The Cinema of Barbara Stanwyck is an essential and entertaining reexamination of an enduring Hollywood star

Music and the Performing Arts in the Anthropocene François Ribac, Isabelle Moindrot, Nicolas Donin, 2025-08-08 Music and the Performing Arts in the Anthropocene offers a series of thought provoking chapters about music and the performing arts viewed from current Anthropocene aware perspectives From the use of gas water and air in 19th century stage practices to the ecology of musical instruments and sound reproduction technologies waste and carbon print in experimental music and theatrical production knowledge of precariousness and empowerment through music in a changing world each chapter aims at highlighting an issue that has always been here but never looked at thoroughly due to the divides and hierarchies of the modern cosmogony Gathering 16 scholars from a variety of disciplinary backgrounds history of literature opera and theatre studies musicology sound studies sociology information science etc this volume reflects on the relationships between the performing arts music and environmental issues It also explores a number of tools for changes and sketches how we will understand the arts their history and their future beyond ecocriticism This book will be of great interest to students and scholars in the humanities and social sciences as well as a broader readership involved in art and environment policies

Multivocality Katherine Meizel PhD, 2020-01-02 Multivocality frames vocality as a way to investigate the voice in music as a concept encompassing all the implications with which voice is inscribed the negotiation of sound and Self individual and culture medium and meaning ontology and embodiment Like identity vocality is fluid and constructed continually even the most iconic of singers do not simply exercise a static voice throughout a lifetime As 21st century singers habitually perform across styles genres cultural contexts histories and identities the author suggests that they are not only performing in multiple vocalities but more critically they are performing multivocality creating and recreating identity through the process of singing with many voices Multivocality constitutes an effort toward a fuller understanding of how the singing voice figures in the negotiation of identity Author Katherine Meizel recovers the idea of multivocality from its previously abstract treatment and re embodies it in the lived experiences of singers who work on and across the fluid borders of identity Highlighting singers in vocal motion Multivocality focuses on their transitions and transgressions across genre and gender boundaries cultural borders the lines between body and technology between religious contexts between found voices and lost ones
