War Passion Machine Plays Series:

A Century of Irish Drama Stephen Watt, Eileen Morgan, Shakir Mustafa, 2000 Based on essays originally presented at a symposium entitled Nationalism and a national theatre 100 years of Irish drama convened at Indiana University May 26 29 1999

Twentieth-Century Irish Drama Christopher Murray, 2000-05-01 This work provides an overview of Irish theatre read in the light of Ireland's self definition Mediating between history and its relations with politics and art it attempts to do justice to the enabling and mirroring preoccupations of Irish drama

Masculinities and Manhood in Contemporary Irish Drama Cormac O'Brien, 2021-12-10 This book charts the journey in terms of both stasis and change that masculinities and manhood have made in Irish drama and by extension in the broader culture and society from the 1960s to the present Examining a diverse corpus of drama and theatre events both mainstream and on the fringe this study critically elaborates a seismic shift in Irish masculinities This book argues then that Irish manhood has shifted from embodying and enacting post colonial concerns of nationalism and national identity to performing models of masculinity that are driven and moulded by the political and cultural practices of neoliberal capitalism Masculinities and Manhood in Contemporary Irish Drama charts this shift through chapters on performing masculinity in plays set in both the Irish Republic and Northern Ireland and through several chapters that focus on Women's and Queer drama It thus takes its readers on a journey a journey that begins with an overtly patriarchal nationalist manhood that often made direct comment on the state of the nation and ultimately arrives at several arguably regressive forms of globalised masculinity which are couched in misaligned notions of individualism and free choice and that frequently perceive themselves as being in crisis
