Examples of topics covered include icons of Native culture such as powwows, Indian dancing, and tipi dwellings; Native art forms such as pottery, rock art, sandpainting, silverwork, tattooing, and totem poles; foods such as corn frybread and wild rice; and Native Americans in popular culture. The New American West in Literature and the Arts Amaia Ibarraran-Bigalondo,2020-05-12 The story of the American West is that of a journey. It is the story of a movement, of a geographical and human transition, of the delineation of a route that would soon become a rooted myth. The story of the American West has similarly journeyed across boundaries in a two-way movement, sometimes feeding the idea of that myth, sometimes challenging it. This collection of essays relates to the notion of the traveling essence of the myth of the American West from different geographical and disciplinary standpoints. The volume originates in Europe, in Spain, where the myth traveled, was received, assimilated, and represented. It intends to travel back to the West in a two-way cross-cultural journey which will hopefully contribute to the delineation of the New, always self-renewing American West. It includes the work of authors of both sides of the Atlantic Ocean who propose a cross-cultural, transdisciplinary dialogue upon the idea, the geography, and the representation of the American West.

Sherman Alexie Leon Lewis,2014-05-14 This volume includes a biographical sketch of Sherman Alexie which provides a guide to many of the most noteworthy incidents and circumstances of his life. Other essays explore the impact of atrocities on his writing, the identity of the American Indian in modern writing, and the author's broadening perspective on the human condition. His poetry and contemporary critical reception are explored, as well as the role of music, storytelling, and oral traditions in his work.

Beyond Settler Time Mark Rifkin,2017-02-02 What does it mean to say that Native peoples exist in the present? In Beyond Settler Time, Mark Rifkin investigates the dangers of seeking to include Indigenous peoples within settler temporal frameworks. Claims that Native peoples should be recognized as coeval with Euro-Americans, Rifkin argues implicitly treat dominant non native ideologies and institutions as the basis for defining time itself How though can Native peoples be understood as dynamic and changing while also not assuming that they belong to a present inherently shared with non natives Drawing on physics phenomenology queer studies and postcolonial theory Rifkin develops the concept of settler time to address how Native peoples are both consigned to the past and inserted into the present in ways that normalize non native histories geographies and expectations Through analysis of various kinds of texts including government documents film fiction and autobiography he explores how Native experiences of time exceed and defy such settler impositions In underscoring the existence of multiple temporalities Rifkin illustrates how time plays a crucial role in Indigenous peoples expressions of sovereignty and struggles for self determination Sherman Alexie in the Classroom

Heather E. Bruce, Anna E. Baldwin, Christabel Umphrey, 2008 The authors examine ways to teach the works of Alexie including his film Smoke Signals the short story collection The Lone Ranger and Tonto Fistfight in Heaven several of Alexie poems the novels Reservation Blues and Flight and the National Book Award winner The Absolutely True Diary of a Part Time Indian Sherman Alexie Jeff Berglund, Jan Roush, 2011-10-31 A collection of critical essays on the writing and films of Thrush, 2011-06-01 The imagined ghosts of Native Americans have been an important element of colonial fantasy in North America ever since European settlements were established in the seventeenth century Native burial grounds and Native ghosts have long played a role in both regional and local folklore and in the national literature of the United States and Canada as settlers struggled to create a new identity for themselves that melded their European heritage with their new North American frontier surroundings In this interdisciplinary volume Colleen E Boyd and Coll Thrush bring together scholars from a variety of fields to discuss this North American fascination with the phantom Native American Phantom Past Indigenous Presence explores the importance of ancestral spirits and historic places in Indigenous and settler communities as they relate to territory and history in particular cultural political social historical and environmental contexts From examinations of how individuals reacted to historical cases of hauntings to how Native phantoms have functioned in the literature of North Americans to interdisciplinary studies of how such beliefs and narratives allowed European settlers and Indigenous people to make sense of the legacies of colonialism and conquest these essays show how the past and the present are intertwined through these stories Conformity and Resistance in America Jacek Gutorow, Tomasz Lebiecki, 2007

Conformity and Resistance in America a collection of thirty six essays from various fields of the U S studies addresses the American culture as a space of fruitful tensions between the generally acknowledged canons and the projects that have questioned and subverted its very foundations and archives The book seeks to give justice to those areas of American culture that traditionally used to be treated as marginal and negligible but which in fact have added up to its uniqueness This includes various areas of American cultural and literary studies gender and minority studies themes of diasporic communities multi ethnic and multicultural society problems of global economy and of competing worldwide ideologies The papers included in this book try to answer pressing questions of the American identity in the post 9 11 world and do so by pointing to the recent oehumanities crisis as well as revealing moments of heterogeneity and discontinuity in the making of any culture Contrary to Samuel Huntington TM s dictum telling us of the inevitable oeclash of civilizations the following essays concentrate on what Edward W Said called oehumanism TM s sphere the sphere of antagonizing discourses and narratives which challenge rather than confirm the bases of their legitimacy Wavering between conformity and resistance the essays propose possible formulas for the new American identity as it strives to define and project itself into the new century

Writing the Future of Black America Daniel Grassian,2009 An insightful exploration into the works of African American writers born in the 1960s and 1970s Writing the Future of Black America explores the work of eight representative African American writers of the hip hop generation to assess their common themes and offer insights into contemporary race relations in America as expressed and challenged in their works In this groundbreaking study Daniel Grassian takes as his subjects a group of impressive novelists essayists poets and playwrights Paul Beatty Trey Ellis Terrence Hayes Allison Joseph Jake Lamar Suzan Lori Parks Danzy Senna and Colson Whitehead to chart the depths of their literary work against that of their predecessors in the civil rights generation and their predominantly white contemporaries of Generation X Characterized by the pursuit of empowerment through hybridity social criticism and personal expression hip hop has become the music and culture of choice for a sizable portion of America regardless of race or socioeconomic standing Meanwhile the writers of this generation have received little serious critical attention aside from singular book reviews and occasional essays Grassian fills in a gap in the discourse with his thorough analysis of the works crafted by these distinguished hip hop writers and he makes a case for the validity and value of studying their sophisticated engagements with race in contemporary America Selected because their work addresses a broad range of African American life these writers fathom such topics as what it means to be African American or multiethnic in an increasingly global society what role art and literature play in affecting their communities and what positive and negative authority has been assigned to popular culture and hip hop culture specifically in modern African American life Choice ,2009 Americas' Worlds and the World's Americas Amaryll Beatrice
