Using Internet Primary Sources to Teach Critical Thinking Skills in World Literature Roxanne M. Kent-Drury, 2005-03-30
Presenting web sites from around the world covering much of the world's literature this book provides creative and interesting thinking activities to enhance student understanding of literature and culture and to promote critical thinking. This book will be very useful to teachers of world history and literature at the senior high school and undergraduate level. Part of a well reviewed series of titles Using Internet Primary Sources to Promote Critical Thinking carries on the tradition of excellence in instructional tools Grades 9-12. The Making of the West, Combined Volume Lynn Hunt, 2012-01-04
Students of Western civilization need more than facts. They need to understand the cross-cultural global exchanges that shaped Western history to be able to draw connections between the social, cultural, political, economic, and intellectual happenings in a given era and to see the West not as a fixed region but a living, evolving construct. These needs have long been central to The Making of the West. The book's chronological narrative emphasizes the wide variety of peoples and cultures that created Western civilization and places them together in a common context, enabling students to witness the unfolding of Western history, understand change over time, and recognize fundamental relationships. Read the preface.

This eighth edition carries on the legacy while addressing some of the newer pressing and exciting challenges of the twenty-first century, such as issues of language and power, language ideology, linguistic diasporas, as well as online and digital ecosystems. New to this edition are a reconceptualization of how linguistics approaches race, gender, and sexuality, with additional chapters and sections on how linguistics benefits archaeology and biological anthropology, as well as considerations of the relationship between language and truth, ethics and war, and politics. It also features enhanced and updated pedagogical features such as learning objectives, updated resources for continued learning, and cross-references to updated encyclopedias of linguistic anthropology. Ancient Middle East Michelle Breyer, 1999.
