Year Book Los Angeles City School District. Psychology and Educational Research Division, 1929 Assessing Historical Thinking and Understanding Bruce A. VanSledright, 2013-07-31 Assessing Historical Thinking and Understanding advocates for a fundamental change in how educators think about making sense of learners developing cognition and understanding in history Author Bruce VanSledright argues that traditional and typical standardized testing approaches are seldom up to the task of measuring the more complex understandings students are asked to attain as they cannot fully assess what the student knows Rather he points forward along a path toward changes in learning teaching and assessing that closely aligns with the Common Core State Standards He delves into the types of history knowledge the standards require illustrates how they can be applied in use in history learning contexts and theorizes how the standards might fit together cognitively to produce deep historical understandings among students in teaching learning contexts By providing a variety of assessment strategies and items that align with the standards and identifying rich useful assessment rubrics applicable to the different types of assessments he offers an important resource for social studies teachers and curriculum writers alike time that the global COVID 19 pandemic has heightened educators awareness of collective trauma the racial reckoning of 2020 has drawn important attention to historical and transgenerational trauma At a time when social studies educators can simply no longer ignore difficult knowledge instruction that acknowledges trauma in social studies classrooms is essential Through employing relational pedagogies and foregrounding voices that are too often silenced the lessons in Hollywood or History An Inquiry Based Strategy for Using Film to Acknowledge Trauma in Social Studies engage students in examining the role of traumatic or traumagenic events in social studies curriculum The 20 Hollywood or History lessons are organized by themes such as political trauma and war and genocide Each lesson presents film clips instructional strategies and primary and secondary sources targeted to the identified K 12 grade levels As a collection they provide ready to teach resources that are perfect for teachers who are committed to acknowledging trauma in their social studies instruction School Libraries in a Time of Change Kathleen W. Craver, 2019-08-01 By becoming practical futurists school librarians can help their libraries not only to survive sweeping changes in education but to thrive This book shows how to spot technological trends and use them to your library s advantage During this time of rapid modernization of technology and educational reform this book is a must read for school librarians tasked with ensuring their libraries meet evolving standards This title provides the research and organizational techniques and skills they need to gain seats at the table of the three power committees technology curricula and strategic planning School librarians need to collect and publicize national and local school based evidence that shows the positive correlations between school librarians and student achievement Craver notes correlative sources and provides ideas to employ them to ensure that school librarians remain indispensable In addition acquiring technological skills and becoming expert at their application are paramount for librarians Even more important is the need for librarians to assume sole responsibility for designing and integrating information literacy and critical thinking skills throughout the curriculum Craver analyzes studies that show students inability to discern fact from fiction ads from news and information bias in electronic information sources and recommends six actions that school librarians take to ensure that they become active participants in their future rather than its victims Muslims and Islam in U.S. Education Liz

Jackson, 2014-04-03 Winner of Philosophy of Education Society of Australasia PESA s inaugural PESA Book Awards in 2015 and The University of Hong Kong Research Output Prize for Education 2014 15 Muslims and Islam in U S Education explores the complex interface that exists between U S school curriculum teaching practice about religion in public schools societal and teacher attitudes toward Islam and Muslims and multiculturalism as a framework for meeting the needs of minority group students It presents multiculturalism as a concept that needs to be rethought and reformulated in the interest of creating a more democratic inclusive and informed society Islam is an under considered religion in American education due in part to the fact that Muslims represent a very small minority of the population today less than 1% However this group faces a crucial challenge of representation in United States society as a whole as well as in its schools Muslims in the United States are impacted by ignorance that news and opinion polls have demonstrated is widespread among the public in the last few decades U S citizens who do not have a balanced fair and accurate view of Islam can make a variety of decisions in the voting booth in job hiring and within their small scale but important personal networks and spheres of influence that make a very negative impact on Muslims in the United States This book presents new information that has implications for curricula religious education and multicultural education today examining the unique case of Islam in U S education over the last 20 years Chapters include Perspectives on Multicultural Education 9 11 the Media and the New Need to Know Islam and Muslims in Public Schools Blazing a Path for Intercultural Education This book is an essential resource for professors researchers and teachers of social studies particularly those involved with multicultural issues critical and sociocultural analysis of education and schools as well as interdisciplinary scholars and students in anthropology and education
