Worlds Apart Acting And Writing In Academic And Workplace Contexts Aviva Freedman:

Worlds Apart Patrick Dias,1999 Worlds Apart Acting and Writing in Academic and Workplace Contexts offers a unique examination of writing as it is applied and used in academic and workplace settings Based on a 7 year multi site comparative study of writing in different university courses and matched workplaces this volume presents new perspectives on how writing functions within the activities of various disciplines law and public administration courses and government institutions management courses and financial institutions social work courses and social work agencies and architecture courses and architecture practice Using detailed ethnography the authors make comparisons between the two types of settings through an understanding of how writing is operative within the particularities of these settings Although the research was initially established to further understanding of the relationships between writing in academic and workplace settings it has evolved to examining writing as it is embedded in both types of settings where social relationships available tools and historical cultural temporal and physical location are all implicated in complex ways in the decisions people make as writers Readers of this volume will discover that the uniqueness of each setting makes salient different aspects of writers and writing resulting in complex and potentially unsettling implications for writing theory and the teaching of writing

Worlds Apart Patrick Dias,Aviva Freedman,Peter Medway,Anthony Par,2013-06-17 An examination of the relationship between written communication in academic and workplace contexts Written for writing researchers teachers program designers and others concerned with writing in academic and business arenas Worlds Apart ,1999 Writing Power Dorothy A. Winsor,2012-02-01 Winner of the 2004 Distinguished Publication on Business Communication presented by the Association of Business Communication Writing Power examines the way that texts knowledge and hierarchy generate and support one another within a for profit corporation By encouraging us to see texts and writing as powerful operators in the corporate world this book presents a case study focused on how one engineering organization uses texts to create and maintain its knowledge and power structure Based on over five years of observations the book describes the co generation of power knowledge text from several points of view including that of managers engineers interns and blue collar workers These groups of people use texts to build knowledge within their own areas and establish control over their work when it is passed along to the other groups Employing Bourdieu s notion that people possess different kinds of capital that can be converted to one another under the right circumstances the book demonstrates that text is one of the major ways that this conversion of capital takes place and is thus one of the major ways that power and knowledge are generated and accumulated Landmark Essays on Rhetorical Genre Studies Carolyn R. Miller,Amy J. Devitt,2024-11-01 Landmark Essays on Rhetorical Genre Studies gathers major works that have contributed to the recent rhetorical reconceptualization of genre A lively and complex field developed over the past 30 years Rhetorical Genre Studies is central to many current research and teaching agendas This collection which is organized both thematically and chronologically explores genre research across a range of disciplinary interests but with a specific focus on rhetoric and composition With introductions by the co editors to frame and extend each section this volume helps readers understand and contextualize both the foundations of the field and the central themes and insights that have emerged It will be of particular interest to students and scholars working on topics related to composition rhetoric professional and technical writing and applied linguistics College Writing and Beyond Anne Beaufort, 2008-02-06 Composition research consistently demonstrates that the social context of writing determines the majority of conventions any writer must observe Still most universities organize the required first year composition course as if there were an intuitive set of general writing skills usable across academic and work world settings In College Writing and Beyond A New Framework for University Writing Instruction Anne Beaufort reports on a longitudinal study comparing one student's experience in FYC in history in engineering and in his post college writing Her data illuminate the struggle of college students to transfer what they learn about general writing from one context to another Her findings suggest ultimately not that we must abolish FYC but that we must go beyond even genre theory in reconceiving it Accordingly Beaufort would argue that the FYC course should abandon its hope to teach a sort of general academic discourse and instead should systematically teach strategies of responding to contextual elements that impinge on the writing situation Her data urge attention to issues of learning transfer and to developmentally sound linkages in writing instruction within and across disciplines Beaufort advocates special attention to discourse community theory for its power to help students perceive and understand the context of writing Everyday Genres Mary Soliday, 2011-02-07 In Everyday Genres Writing Assignments across the Disciplines Mary Soliday calls on genre theory which proposes that writing cannot be separated from social situation to analyze the common assignments given to writing students in the college classroom and to investigate how new writers and expert readers respond to a variety of types of coursework in different fields This in depth study of writing pedagogy looks at many challenges facing both instructors and students in college composition classes and offers a thorough and refreshing exploration of writing experience ability and rhetorical situation Soliday provides an overview of the contemporary theory and research in Writing across the Curriculum programs focusing specifically on the implementation of the Writing Fellows Program at the City College of New York Drawing on her direct observations of colleagues and students at the school she addresses the everyday challenges that novice writers face such as developing an appropriate stance in one's writing and the intricacies of choosing and developing content The volume then goes on to address some of the most pressing questions being asked by teachers of composition To what extent can writing be separated from its situation How can rhetorical expertise be shared across fields And to what degree is writing ability local rather than general Soliday argues that while writing is closely connected to situation general rhetorical principles can still be capably applied if those situations are known The key to improving writing instruction she maintains is to construct contexts that expose writers to the social actions that genres perform for readers Supplementing the author's case study are six appendixes complete with concrete examples and helpful teaching tools to establish effective classroom practices and exercises in Writing across the Curriculum programs Packed with useful information and insight Everyday Genres is an essential volume for both students and teachers seeking to expand their understanding of the nature of writing Genre Anis S. Bawarshi, Mary Jo Reiff, 2010-03-08 GENRE AN INTRODUCTION TO HISTORY THEORY RESEARCH AND PEDAGOGY provides a critical overview of the rich body of scholarship that has informed a genre turn in Rhetoric and Composition including a range of interdisciplinary perspectives from rhetorical theory applied linguistics sociology philosophy cognitive psychology and literary theory Ethnography Unbound Stephen Gilbert Brown, Sidney I. Dobrin, 2012-02-01 These provocative new essays redefine the goals methods and assumptions of qualitative and ethnographic research in composition studies making evident not only the crucial importance of ethnographic research but also its resilience As Ethnography Unbound makes evident critical ethnographers are retheorizing their methodologies in ways that both redefine ethnographic practices and values and at the same time have begun to liberate ethnographic practices from the often disabling stronghold of postmodern critique Showing how ethnography works through dialogic processes and moves toward political ends this collection opens the doors to rethinking ethnographic research in composition studies Around the Texts of Writing Center Work R. Mark Hall, 2017-05-01 Around the Texts of Writing Center Work reveals the conceptual frameworks found in and created by ordinary writing center documents The values and beliefs underlying course syllabi policy statements website copy and comments assessment plans promotional flyers and annual reports critically inform writing center practices including the vital undertaking of tutor education In each chapter author R Mark Hall focuses on a particular document He examines its origins its use by writing center instructors and tutors and its engagement with enduring disciplinary challenges in the field of composition such as tutoring and program assessment He then analyzes each document in the contexts of the conceptual framework at the heart of its creation and everyday application activity theory communities of practice discourse analysis reflective practice and inquiry based learning Around the Texts of Writing Center Work approaches the analysis of writing center documents with an inquiry stance a call for curiosity and skepticism toward existing and proposed conceptual frameworks in the hope that the theoretically conscious evaluation and revision of commonplace documents will lead to greater efficacy and more abundant research by writing center administrators and students Engagement in Professional Genres Carmen Sancho Guinda, 2019-04-24 Engagement has turned essential in today's communication as professional communities are becoming more specialised and transient and their audiences more diverse Promotionalism and competitiveness in addition increasingly pervade human activity and thus engaging readers listeners and viewers to attract and persuade them is part of the know how of almost every profession The eighteen chapters in this book written by well known discourse analysts from different nationalities and research backgrounds and with various interests and understandings of communicative engagement guide us through a discovery of perspectives and strategies across work settings and practices genres semiotic

Manchón,Paul Kei Matsuda,2016-09-12 The Handbook of Second and Foreign Language Writing is an authoritative reference compendium of the theory and research on second and foreign language writing that can be of value to researchers professionals and graduate students It is intended both as a retrospective critical reflection that can situate research on L2 writing in its historical context and provide a state of the art view of past achievements and as a prospective critical analysis of what lies ahead in terms of theory research and applications Accordingly the Handbook aims to provide i foundational information on the emergence and subsequent evolution of the field ii state of the art surveys of available theoretical and research basic and applied insights iii overviews of research methods in L2 writing research iv critical reflections on future developments and iv explorations of existing and emerging disciplinary interfaces with other fields of inquiry Keywords in Writing Studies Paul Heilker,Peter Vandenberg,2015-02-15 Keywords in Writing Studies is an exploration of the principal ideas and ideals of an emerging academic field as they are constituted by its specialized vocabulary A sequel to the 1996 work Keywords in Composition Studies this new volume traces the evolution of the field s lexicon taking into account the wide variety of theoretical educational professional and institutional developments that have redefined it over the past two decades Contributors address the development transformation and interconnections among thirty six of the most critical terms that make up writing studies Looking beyond basic definitions or explanations they explore the multiple layers of meaning within the terms that writing scholars currently use exchange and question Each term featured is a part of the general disciplinary parlance and each is a highly contested focal point of significant debates about matters of power identity and values Each essay begins with the assumption that its central term is important precisely because its meaning is open and multiplex Keywords in Writing Studies reveals how the key concepts in the field are used and even challenged rather than advocating particular usages and the particular vision of the field that they imply The volume will be of great interest to both graduate students and established scholars Handbook of Writing and Text Production Eva-Maria Jakobs,Daniel Perrin,2014-08-19

Writing matters and so does research into real life writing The shift from an industrial to an information society has increased the importance of writing and text production in education in everyday life and in more and more professions in the fields of economics and politics science and technology culture and media Through writing we build up organizations and social networks develop projects inform colleagues and customers and generate the basis for decisions The quality of writing is decisive for social resonance and professional success This ubiquitous real life writing is what the present handbook is about The de Gruyter Handbook of Writing and Text Production brings together and systematizes state of the art research The volume contains five sections focussing on I the theory and methodology of writing and text production research as well as on problem oriented and problem solving approaches related to II authors III modes and media IV genres and V domains of writing and text production Throughout the 21 chapters exemplary research projects illustrate the theoretical perspectives from globally relevant research spaces and traditions Both established and future scholars can benefit from the handbook s fresh approach to writing in the context of multimodal multi semiotic text production

Writing Workplace Cultures Jim Henry, 2000 In Writing Workplace Cultures An Archaeology of Professional Writing Jim Henry analyzes eighty three workplace writing ethnographies composed over seven years in a variety of organizations He views the findings as so many shards in an archaeology on professional writing at the beginning of the twenty first century These ethnographies were composed by either practicing or aspiring writers participating in a Master s program in professional writing and editing Henry solicited the writers participation in informed intersubjective research focused on issues and questions of their own determination Most writers studied their own workplace composing auto ethnographies that problematize these workplaces local cultures even as they depict writing practices within them Henry establishes links between current professional writing practices and composition instruction as both were shaped by national economic development and local postsecondary reorganization throughout the twentieth century He insists that if we accept basic principles of social constructionism the text demonstrates ways in which writers write workplace cultures to produce goods and services whose effects go far beyond the immediate needs of its clients

Ecologies of Writing Programs Mary Jo Reiff, Anis Bawarshi, 2015-04-15 Ecologies of Writing Programs Profiles of Writing Programs in Context features profiles of exemplary and innovative writing programs across varied institutions Situated within an ecological framework the book explores the dynamic inter relationships as well as the complex rhetorical and material conditions that writing programs inhabit conditions and relationships that are constantly in flux as writing program administrators negotiate constraint and innovation

Writing in Film Studies, from Professional Practice to Practical Pedagogy Bryan Mead, 2024-01-09 A common refrain heard from instructors in offices across the world is that students have a hard time producing quality written discourse This is no different in the world of film studies where many undergraduate students struggle to cogently discuss the films they watch in class How can film instructors help students become better writers This book answers this question by first uncovering the disciplinary expectations we have for students and then offering strategies to explicitly teach those expectations in the classroom This book examines and identifies the disciplinary conventions of professional film studies discourse along with the expectations we have for student writing in undergraduate film courses What becomes clear from this analysis is that the pedagogical expectations we have for students are aligned with and shaped by professional writing in the discipline It helps to uncover the argument types instructors take for granted and helps those teaching undergraduate students not only to know what those expectations are but also how to use that knowledge to foster better student writing
