Electronics, Information Technology and Intellectualization Young Min Song, Kyung Sup Kwak, 2015-01-08 The International Conference on Electronics Information Technology and Intellectualization ICEITI2014 was dedicated to build a high level international academic communication forum for international experts and scholars This first conference of an annual series was held in Pengcheng Shenzhen China 16 17 August 2014 Many prestigious experts Environmental Impact Statement for Construction Permit for the Northwest Medical Isotopes Radioisotope Production Facility Final Report Nuclear Regulatory Commission (U S), 2017-05-16 The U S Nuclear Regulatory Commission NRC has prepared this environmental impact statement EIS in response to an application submitted by Northwest Medical Isotopes LLC NWMI for a construction permit for the NWMI medical radioisotope production facility The EIS includes the analysis that evaluates the environmental impacts of the proposed action and considers the following alternatives to the proposed action 1 the no action alternative i e the construction permit is denied 2 one alternative site and 3 two alternative technologies After weighing the environmental economic technical and other benefits against environmental and other costs and considering reasonable alternatives the NRC staff's recommendation unless safety issues mandate otherwise is to issue a construction permit to NWMI The NRC staff based its recommendation on the following factors the NRC staff's review of the NWMI Environmental Report and responses to requests for additional information the NRC staff's consultation with Federal State and local agencies and Tribal officials the NRC staff's independent environmental review and the NRC staff's consideration of public comments Related products Other products published by the U S Nuclear Regulatory Commission can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/agency/nuclear-regulatory-commission-nrc> Environment Nature resources collection can be found here <https://bookstore.gpo.gov/catalog/environment/nature>

Marine biomolecules Antonio Trincone, Mikhail Kusaykin, Svetlana Ermakova, 2015-10-02 Oceans include the greatest extremes of pressure temperature and light and habitats can range from tropical waters to ocean trenches several kilometers below sea level at high pressure With its 70% of the surface of our planet marine ecosystem still remains largely unexplored understudied and underexploited in comparison with terrestrial ecosystems organisms and bioprocesses The biological adaptation of marine organisms to a wide range of environmental conditions in the specific environment temperature salinity tides pressure radiation light etc has made them an enormous reservoir of interesting biological material for both basic research and biotechnological improvements As a consequence marine ecosystem is valued as a source of enzymes and other biomolecules exhibiting new functions and activities to fulfill human needs Indeed in recent years it has been recognised as an untapped source of novel enzymes and metabolites even though with regard to the assignment of precise biological functions to genes proteins and enzymes it is still considered as the least developed Using metagenomics to recover genetic material directly from environmental samples this biogenetic diversification can be accessed but despite the contributions from metagenomic technologies the new field requires major improvements A few words on the complexity of marine environments should be added here This complexity ranges from symbiotic relationships to biology and chemistry of defence mechanisms and from chemoecology of marine invasions up to the strategies found in prokaryotes to adapt to extreme environments The interdisciplinary study of this complexity will enable researchers to find an arsenal of enzymes and pathways greatly demanded in biotechnological applications As far as marine enzymes are concerned they may carry novel chemical and stereochemical properties thus biocatalytically oriented studies testing of suitable substrates appropriate checking of reaction conditions study of stereochemical aspect of catalysis should be performed to appropriately reveal this chemical biodiversity which increases interest for these enzymes Among other biomolecules polysaccharides are the most abundant renewable biomaterial found on land and in oceans Their molecular diversity is very interesting except polysaccharides used traditionally in food and non food industries the structure and the functionality of most of them are unknown and unexplored Brown seaweeds synthesize unique bioactive polysaccharides laminarans alginic acids and fucoidans A wide range of biological activities anticoagulant antitumor antiviral anti inflammation etc have been attributed to fucoidans and their role with respect to structure activity relationship is still under debate In this Research Topic we wish to centralize and review contributions idea and comments related to the issues above In particular results of enzymatic bioprospecting in gross marine environment will be acknowledged along with research for structural characterization and biological function of biomolecules such as marine polysaccharides and all kind of research related to the complexity of bioprocesses in marine environments Inter and multi disciplinary approach to this field is favoured in this Research Topic and could greatly be facilitated by the web and open access nature as well
