Vesperman, Anne Aydinian-Perry, Matthew T. Missias, Whitney G. Blankenship, 2023-01-01 It is not difficult to argue that the social sciences are in a period of transition Our day to day lives have been marked by uncertainty as our social lives have vacillated wildly between highs and lows tensions between fellow citizens have heightened along ideological fault lines and educators have been placed squarely at the center of public discourses about what and how we should be teaching By any measure we are living in a time where every moment seems to be rife with high stakes realities that must be navigated Ladson Billings 2020 called on educators to reimagine education and contest the notion of a return to normal In the current highly polarized context where we see multiple competing narratives rather than promoting a return to normal or business as usual approach we argue that educators must use the lessons of the last two years as well as draw on what we have learned from history and the social sciences By asking ourselves how we might interrogate and inform current social landscapes and the challenges that arise from them we have the opportunity to take leadership in fostering innovation building solidarity and re imagining the teaching and learning of history and the social sciences We recognize that humans live in multiple complex communities that include intersectional identities relationships with power agency and discourses and lived realities that are as unique as they are divergent Consequently the task of educators and the goal of this volume is to provide a clarion voice to a dynamic relational and undeniably human social world Children's Books in Print R R Bowker Publishing, Bowker, 1999-12 Books in Print Supplement ,2002 Learning That Sticks Bryan Goodwin, Tonia Gibson, Kristin Rouleau, 2020-06-05 In far too many classrooms the emphasis is on instructional strategies that teachers employ rather than on what students should be doing or thinking about as part of their learning What's more students' minds are something of a mysterious black box for most teachers so when learning breaks down they're not sure what went wrong or what to do differently to help students learn It doesn't have to be this way Learning That Sticks helps you look inside that black box Bryan Goodwin and his coauthors unpack the cognitive science underlying research supported learning strategies so you can sequence them into experiences that challenge inspire and engage your students As a result you'll learn to teach with more intentionality understanding not just what to do but also when and why to do it By way of an easy to use six phase model of learning this book Analyzes how the brain reacts to stores and retrieves new information Helps you zoom out to understand the process of learning from beginning to end Helps you zoom in to see what's going on in students' minds during each phase Learning may be complicated but learning about learning doesn't have to be And to that end Learning That Sticks helps shine a light into all the black boxes in your classroom and make your practice the most powerful it can be This product is a copublication of ASCD and McREL
