World Spectators Cultural Memory In The Present:

Routledge Library Editions: Percy Shelley Various, 2021-03-11 Percy Shelley is widely considered one of the most important Romantic poets of the 19th Century and was a key influence on the Victorian and pre-Raphaelite poets in the century following his death in 1822. However, for many years his writing was largely ignored in the mainstream due to the radical politics he espoused, and it is only in relatively recent times he has become universally admired. Routledge Library Editions Percy Shelley collects a broad range of scholarship ranging from examinations of Shelley's style and political intentions to an assessment of his impact on the broader Romantic Movement. This set reissues 4 books on Percy Shelley originally published between 1945 and 2009 and will be of interest to students of literature and literary history. A Companion to Emily Dickinson Martha Nell Smith, Mary Loeffelholz, 2013-12-12 This companion to America's greatest woman poet showcases the diversity and excellence that characterize the thriving field of Dickinson studies. Covers biographical approaches of Dickinson, the historical, political, and cultural contexts of her work, and its critical reception over the years. Considers issues relating to the different formats in which Dickinson's lyrics have been published: manuscript, print, halftone, and digital facsimile. Provides incisive interventions into current critical discussions, as well as opening up fresh areas of critical inquiry. Features new work being done in the critique of nineteenth-century American poetry generally, as well as new work being done in Dickinson studies. Designed to be used alongside the Dickinson Electronic Archives, an online resource developed over the past ten years. Ethics and Images of Pain Asbjørn Grønstad, Henrik Gustafsson, 2012-04-27 Few phenomena are as formative of our experience of the visual world as displays of suffering. But what does it mean to have an ethical experience of disturbing or traumatizing images? What kind of ethical proposition does an image of pain mobilize? How may the spectator learn from and make use of the painful image as a source of ethical reflection? Engaging with a wide range of visual media from painting, theatre, and sculpture to photography, film, and video, this interdisciplinary collection of essays by leading and emerging scholars of visual culture offers a reappraisal of the increasingly complex relationship between images of pain and the ethics of viewing. Ethics and Images of Pain reconsiders the persistent and ever-pertinent nexus of aesthetics and ethics, the role of painful images as generators of unpredictable forms of affect, the moral transformation of spectatorship, the ambivalence of the witness, and the representation of affliction as a fundamental form of our shared scopical experience. The instructive and illuminating essays in the collection introduce a phenomenological context in which to make sense of our current ecology of excruciating images, one that accentuates notions of responsibility, empathy, and imagination. Contributors trace the images of pain across a miscellany of case studies, and amongst the topics addressed are the work of artists as disparate as Doris Salcedo, Anselm Kiefer, and Bendik Riis; photographs from Abu Ghraib and Rwanda; Hollywood war films and animated documentaries; performances of self-immolations; and incidents of police brutality captured on mobile phones. The Confession of Augustine Jean-François Lyotard, 2000 Lyotard approaches his subject by returning to his earliest phenomenological training rearticulating Augustine's sensory universe from a vantage point imaginarily inside the confessional's world a vantage point that reveals the intense point of conjuncture between the sensual and the spiritual the erotic world and the mystical being and appearance sin and salvation Lyotard reveals the very origins of phenomenology in Augustine's narrative and in so doing also shows the origins of semiotics to lie there in the explication of the Augustinian heavens as skin as veil as vellum Post-existentialism and the Psychological Therapies Del Loewenthal, 2018-03-29 A valuable contribution to the field by a professor of psychotherapy and author and editor of many titles in this area

Philosophical Imagination and Cultural Memory Patricia Cook, 1993 Does philosophy have a future Postmodern thought with its rejection of claims to absolute truth or moral objectivity would seem to put the philosophical enterprise in jeopardy In this volume some of today's most influential thinkers face the question of philosophy's future and find an answer in its past Their efforts show how historical traditions are currently being appropriated by philosophy how some of the most provocative questions confronted by philosophers are given their impetus and direction by cultural memory Unlike analytic philosophy a discipline supposedly liberated from any manifestation of cultural memory the movement represented by these essays demonstrates how the inquiries narratives traditions and events of our cultural past can mediate some of the most interesting exercises of the present day philosophical imagination Attesting to the power of historical tradition to enhance and redirect the prospects of philosophy these essays exemplify a new mode of doing philosophy The product of a National Endowment for the Humanities Summer Institute in 1990 it is the task of this book to show that history can be reclaimed by philosophy and resurrected in postmodernity Contributors George Allan Eva T H Brann Arthur C Danto Lynn S Joy George L Kline George R Lucas Jr Alasdair MacIntyre Robert C Neville John Rickard Stanley Rosen J B Scheenwind Donald Phillip Verene World

Cinema and Cultural Memory I. Hedges, 2015-04-07 Cinema has long played a crucial role in the way that societies represent themselves Hedges discusses the role of cinema in creating cultural memory within a global perspective that spans five continents The book's innovative approach and approachable style should transform the way that we think of film and its social effects Shelley's Textual Seductions Samuel Lyndon Gladden, 2016-01-08 First published in 2002 This book surveys how and to what effect Shelley uses erotic narratives to mask political rhetoric within his attempts to describe and bring forth utopia Posing erotic relationships as both an exemplar of the inequities of power and a paradigm for alternative social orders that dismantle oppressive structures it argues Shelley's work imagines a space where the rigidity of tyranny succumbs to the liberation of ecstatic union From the Romantics to the Aesthetes it argues that this model contributed to a counter tradition in British literature which situates the erotic as a trope for political discourse This work will be of interest to students of literature The Intimacies of Hatred Rani Jean Neutill, 2007 Goethe's Faust and Cultural Memory Lorna Fitzsimmons, 2012-08-17 This book is an interdisciplinary collection of essays examining Goethe's Faust and its derivatives in European North American and South American cultural contexts Topics include the authority of the word in Faust and Dr

Faustus cultural memory of Herder the Eternal Feminine Coleridge s responses to Faust Argentinean adaptations performances by Peter Stein and the Goetheanum Canadian reception of Faust Werner Fritsch s multimedia project Faust Sonnengesang and the relevance of Faust for models of artificial intelligence Milton and the Post-Secular Present Feisal Mohamed,2011-08-09 Our post secular present argues Feisal Mohamed has much to learn from our pre secular past Through a consideration of poet and polemicist John Milton this book explores current post secularity an emerging category that it seeks to clarify and critique It examines ethical and political engagement grounded in belief with particular reference to the thought of Alain Badiou Jacques Derrida Jürgen Habermas and Gayatri C Spivak Taken to an extreme such engagement produces the cult of the suicide bomber But the suicide bomber has also served as a convenient bogey for those wishing to distract us from the violence in Western and Christian traditions and for those who would dismiss too easily the vigorous iconoclasm that belief can produce More than any other poet Milton alerts us to both anti humane and liberationist aspects of belief and shows us relevant dynamics of language by which such commitment finds expression Camera Obscura ,2002 A journal of feminism and film theory Handbook of Pre-Modern Nordic Memory Studies Jürg Glauser,Pernille Hermann,Stephen A. Mitchell,2018-11-19 In recent years the field of Memory Studies has emerged as a key approach in the Humanities and Social Sciences and has increasingly shown its ability to open new windows on Nordic Studies as well The entries in this book document the work to date of this approach on the pre modern Nordic world mainly the Viking Age and the Middle Ages but including as well both earlier and later periods Given that Memory Studies is an ever expanding critical strategy the approximately eighty contributors in this volume also discuss the potential for future research in this area Topics covered range from texts to performance to visual and other aspects of material culture all approached from within an interdisciplinary framework International specialists coming from such relevant fields as archaeology mythology history of religion folklore history law art literature philology language and mediality offer assessments on the relevance of Memory Studies to their disciplines and show it at work in case studies Finally this handbook demonstrates the various levels of culture where memory had a critical impact in the pre modern North and how deeply embedded the role of memory is in the material itself In Praise of New Travelers Isabel Hoving,2001 Approaching postcolonial theory through cultural analysis this book offers an accessible and concrete appraisal of current developments in postcolonial criticism Detailed readings of a range of Anglophone Caribbean migrant women s texts from the late 1980s and 1990s lead to sharp insights into three issues that are crucial to an understanding of the field place voice and silence The discussion of these issues allows us to trace current feminist postmodern and postcolonial debates about the nature of the speaking subject as it is emerging from today s postcolonial cultural practices Postcolonial criticism often understands this subject as hybrid and multiple This book shows how the specifics of this multiplicity must be acknowledged through analysis of the power structures and the violence through which this multiple subject is established The book is also a consistent inquiry into reading positions The argument about the differences between postcolonialist black and Caribbean feminist white feminist and postmodern criticism is conducted as a discussion about the effects insights and blindnesses produced by these different ways of reading Caribbean migrant women's writing. Scrutinizing the grain of these texts encourages us to move beyond the kind of general statements for which postcolonial theory has been severely criticized. The author also extends her critique of reading positions to issues of methodology using these approaches to direct her interpretation. Narratology is supplemented by an analysis of the interdiscursive processes through which texts are created and psychoanalytic concepts are used to explore the ambiguous merits of postcolonial reading. Above all, In Praise of New Travelers celebrates the vigorous subversive and liberating creativity of an accomplished generation of Caribbean migrant women writers. Return Engagements Viet Lê, 2021-04-12

In Return Engagements, artist and critic Viet Lê examines contemporary art in Cambodia and Viet Nam to rethink the entwinement of militarization, trauma, diaspora, and modernity in Southeast Asian art. Highlighting artists tied to Phnom Penh and Siem Reap and drawing on a range of visual art as well as documentary and experimental films, Lê points out that artists of Southeast Asian descent are often expected to address the twin traumas of armed conflict and modernization and shows how desirable art on these themes is on international art markets. As the global art market fetishizes trauma and violence, artists strategically align their work with those tropes in ways that Lê suggests allow them to reinvent such aesthetics and discursive spaces. By returning to and refashioning these themes, artists such as Tiffany Chung, Rithy Panh, and Sopheap Pich challenge categorizations of diasporic and local by situating themselves as insiders and outsiders relative to Cambodia and Viet Nam. By doing so, they disrupt dominant understandings of place, time, and belonging in contemporary art. Enacting Past and Present Michaela M. Grobbel, 2009-01-28

Through a discussion of Walter Benjamin, Sigmund Freud, Mieke Bal, and others, author Michaela Grobbel focuses on the work of three women authors as types of performance which lead to representations of memory. These women writers foreground the present but also critically demonstrate the complex relationship of the present to the past. Grobbel's work is a critical addition to any discussion of feminism, memory, and literary modernism. Dead Time Elissa Marder, 2001

This book explores how modernity gives rise to temporal disorders when time cannot be assimilated and integrated into the realm of lived experience. It turns to Baudelaire and Flaubert in order to derive insights into the many temporal disorders such as trauma, addiction, and fetishism that pervade contemporary culture. T&T Clark Handbook to Social Identity in the New Testament J. Brian Tucker, Coleman A. Baker, 2014-01-02

Combining the insights of many leading New Testament scholars writing on the use of social identity theory, this new reference work provides a comprehensive handbook to the construction of social identity in the New Testament. Part one examines key methodological issues and the ways in which scholars have viewed and studied social identity, including different theoretical approaches and core areas or topics which may be used in the study of social identity, such as food, social memory, and ancient media culture. Part two presents worked examples and in-depth textual studies covering core passages from each of the New Testament.

books as they relate to the construction of social identity Adopting a case study approach in line with sociological methods the volume builds a picture of how identity was structured in the earliest Christ movement Contributors include Philip Esler Warren Carter Paul Middleton Rafael Rodriguez and Robert Brawley

Children and Cultural Memory in Texts of Childhood Heather Snell, Lorna Hutchison, 2013-11-07 The essays in this collection address the relationship between children and cultural memory in texts both for and about young people The collection overall is concerned with how cultural memory is shaped contested forgotten recovered and re circulated sometimes in opposition to dominant national narratives and often for the benefit of young readers who are assumed not to possess any prior cultural memory From the innovative development of school libraries in the 1920s to the role of utopianism in fixing cultural memory for teen readers it provides a critical look into children and ideologies of childhood as they are represented in a broad spectrum of texts including film poetry literature and architecture from Canada the United States Japan Germany Britain India and Spain These cultural forms collaborate to shape ideas and values in turn contributing to dominant discourses about national and global citizenship The essays included in the collection imply that childhood is an oft imagined idealist construction based in large part on participation identity and perception childhood is invisible and tangible exciting and intriguing and at times elusive even as cultural and literary artifacts recreate it Children and Cultural Memory in Texts of Childhood is a valuable resource for scholars of children's literature and culture readers interested in childhood and ideology and those working in the fields of diaspora and postcolonial studies
