30 Years of Urban Change in China's 10 Core Cities Ali Cheshmehzangi, Tian Tang, 2024-12-02 As a continuation of our award winning book China's City Cluster Development in the Race to Carbon Neutrality this book covers China's major urban changes over the last 30 years Unlike the previous book where we highlighted regional development issues this book explicitly explores the city cases particularly those that are considered core cities in China Based on the micro historical analysis of China's urbanization trend and urban development patterns we see that cities in China have played a significant role in driving the country's sustainable development agenda In a way they have had both positive and negative impacts on achieving sustainable development We look at these last three decades mainly because during this period China's urbanization became unprecedented the central government made several pledges and signed many international agreements related to sustainable development and China grew rapidly to become the second global economic power Aligned with the overarching Belt and Road Initiative BRI and the more recent Carbon Neutrality Plan CNP Chinese core cities played a significant part in regional development urban rural relations industrial clustering the development of free trade zones and special economic zones etc All these recent developments are due to China's ongoing urbanization and urban development 30 Years of Urban Change in China's 10 Core Cities is a mapping study of China's core cities and their changes over three decades of rapid urbanization urban growth and economic development We explicitly highlight each selected city's development trends sustainable development plans and major strategies In this Volume out of our two connected volumes we summarise lessons learnt from all 10 case study examples and we hope they can be utilized for other developing and rapidly urbanizing nations We expect this book to be a valuable resource for local governments authorities urban planners urbanists practitioners developers and urban researchers We trust China is no longer a developing country and much of these recent progressions are owed to its structured urban development strategies robust governmental structure and progressive attitude to growth and development Hence this topic coverage at the point where China's urbanization is shifting to high quality urbanization is essential and beneficial to multiple stakeholders Relocating Global Cities M Mark Amen, M Martin Bosman, Kevin Archer, 2006-04-27 Drawing on eight case studies from key cities on the periphery of global cities literature Relocating Global Cities argues that all cities are globalizing in important ways Case studies of Frankfurt Johannesburg Bangkok Manila Tampa Sydney Brussels and Caracas provide the basis for an alternative theoretical approach to global city formation Reconciling a market based understanding and an agency based understanding of global cities this book proposes that globalization and cities are mutually constituted by the global political economy engaging with transnational and local agents The volume proposes an alternate theoretical approach to the literature of globalization while remaining grounded in concrete discussions of key cities Its expert contributors reconcile the conflicting ways in which two dominant paradigms one emphasizing market forces and the other the unique actions of individuals and groups embody our understanding of global cities This book will be of interest to students and researchers alike and is a perfect complement to texts in Urban Studies and Globalization Gender, Work, and Economy Heidi Gottfried, 2013-11-15 This engaging new text uses a feminist lens to crack open the often hidden worlds of gender and work addressing enduring questions about how structural inequalities are produced and why they persist Making visible the social relationships that drive the global economy the book explores how economic transformations not only change the way we work but how we live our lives The full extent of changing patterns of employment and the current financial crisis cannot be fully understood in the confines of narrow conceptions of work and economy Feminists address this shortcoming by developing both a theory and a political movement aimed at unveiling the power relations inherent in old and new forms of work By providing an analysis of gender work and the economy Heidi Gottfried brings to light the many faces of power from the bedroom to the boardroom A discussion of globalization is threaded throughout the book to uncover the impact of increasing global interconnections and vivid case studies are included from industrialized countries such as the US and the global cities of New York London and Tokyo as well as from developing countries and the emerging global cities of Beijing Shanghai and Dubai This comprehensive analysis of gender and work in a global economy incorporating sociology geography and political economy perspectives will be a valued companion to students in gender studies and across the social sciences more generally The Political Economy of City Branding Ari-Veikko Anttiroiko, 2014-02-24 Globalization affects urban communities in many ways One of its manifestations is increased intercity competition which compels cities to increase their attractiveness in terms of capital entrepreneurship information expertise and consumption This competition takes place in an asymmetric field with cities trying to find the best possible ways of using their natural and created assets the latter including a naturally evolving reputation or consciously developed competitive identity or brand The Political Economy of City Branding discusses this phenomenon from the perspective of numerous post industrial cities in North America Europe East Asia and Australasia Special attention is given to local economic development policy and industrial profiling and global city rankings are used to provide empirical evidence for cities characteristics and positions in the global urban hierarchy On top of this social and urban challenges such as creative class struggle are also discussed The core message of the book is that cities should apply the tools of city branding in their industrial promotion and specialization but at the same time take into account the special nature of their urban communities and be open and inclusive in their brand policies in order to ensure optimal results This book will be of interest to scholars and practitioners working in the areas of local economic development urban planning public management and branding Megacities Dirk Kruijt, Kees

Koonings, 2013-04-04 For the first time in history the majority of the world's population lives in cities the result of a rapid process of urbanization that started in the second half of the twentieth century Megacities around the world are rapidly becoming the scene for deprivation especially in the global South and the urban excluded face the brunt of what in many cases seems like low intensity warfare Featuring case studies from across the globe including Latin America the Middle East and Africa Megacities examines recent worldwide trends in poverty and social exclusion urban violence and politics and links these to the challenges faced by policy makers and practitioners Frontiers of Globalization Research: Ino

Development offers an original conceptualisation of capitalist development from its origins to the present day Most approaches to understanding contemporary development assume that industrial capitalism was achieved through a process of nationally organised economic growth and that in recent years its organisation has become increasingly trans local or global However Halperin shows that nationally organised economic growth has rarely been the case it has only recently come to characterise a few countries and for only a few decades This innovative text elaborates an alternative ontology and way of thinking about global development during the last two centuries one linked not to nations and regions but to a set of essentially trans national relations and connections It argues that capitalist development has everywhere and from the start involved not whole nations or societies but only sectors or geographical areas within states By bringing this aspect of historically normal capitalist development into clearer focus the book clarifies the specific conditions and circumstances that enabled European economies to pursue a more broad based development following World War II and what prevented a similar outcome in the contemporary third world It also clarifies the nature spatial extent and circumstances of current globalising trends Wide ranging and provocative this book is required reading for advanced level students and scholars in development studies development economics and political science New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities Peter W. Daniels, K.C. Ho, Thomas A. Hutton, 2012-04-27 The East and Southeast Asia region constitutes the world's most compelling theatre of accelerated globalization and industrial restructuring Following a spectacular realization of the industrialization paradigm and a period of services led growth the early twenty first century economic landscape among leading Asian states now comprises a burgeoning New Economy spectrum of the most advanced industrial trajectories including finance the knowledge economy and the new cultural economy In an agenda setting volume New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities draws on stimulating research conducted by a new generation of urban scholars to generate critical analysis and theoretical insights on the New Economy phenomenon within Asia New industry formation and the transformation of older economic practices constitute instruments of development as well as signifiers of larger processes of change expressed in the reproduction of space in the city Asia's major cities become the key staging areas for the New Economy driven by the growing wealth of an urban middle and professional class higher education institutions city based inter regional movements and urban mega projects New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities animates this New Economy discourse by means of vibrant storylines of instructive cities and sites including cases studies situated in cities such as Tokyo Seoul Shanghai Beijing Shenzhen and Singapore Theoretical and normative issues associated with the emergence of the new cultural economy are the subject of the book's context setting chapters and each case study presents an evocative narrative of development interdependencies and exemplary outcomes on the ground New Economic Spaces in Asian Cities offers a vivid contribution to our understanding of the ongoing transformation of Asia's urban system including the critical intersections of global and local regional dynamics in processes of new industry formation and the relayering of space in the Asian metropolis The synthesis of empirical profiles normative insights and theoretical reference points enhances the book's interest for scholars and students in fields of Asian studies urban and cultural studies and urban and economic geography as well as for policy specialists and urban community planners
