Worldviews And Ecology Religion Philosophy And The Environment Ecology And Justice Series:

Worldviews and Ecology Mary Evelyn Tucker, John A. Grim, 1993 Worldviews and Ecology Mary Evelyn Tucker, John Grim, 1994 Amidst the many voices clamoring to interpret the environmental crisis some of the most important are the voices of religious traditions Long before modernity's industrialism began the rape of Earth premodern religious and philosophical traditions mediated to untold generations the wisdom of living as a part of nature These traditions can illuminate and empower wiser ways of postmodern living The original writings of Worldviews and Ecology creatively present and interpret worldviews of major religious and philosophical traditions on how humans can live more sustainably on a fragile planet Contributors include Charlene Spretnak Larry Rasmussen Noel Brown Jay McDaniel Tu Wei Ming Thomas Berry David Ray Griffin J Baird Callicott Eric Katz Roger E Timm Robert A White Christopher Key Chapple Brian Swimme Brian Brown Michael Tobias Ralph Metzner George Sessions and Mary Evelyn Tucker and John Grim Insights from traditions as diverse as Jain Jewish ecofeminist deep ecology Christian Hindu Bahai and Whiteheadian will interest all who seek an honest analysis of what religious and philosophical traditions have to say to a modernity whose consciousness and conscience seems tragically narrow the source of attitudes that imperil the biosphere Religions in the Making John B. Cobb Jr., 2012-11-06 Whitehead had a place for God in his comprehensive cosmological vision and his theism has long attracted interest from some Christian theologians But Whitehead's ideas have much wider use Some Buddhists have found help in articulating their nontheistic vision and relating it to the current world of thought and action In this book religious writers in seven different traditions articulate how they can benefit from Whitehead's work So this volume demonstrates that various features of his thought can contribute to many communities According to his followers Whitehead shows that the deepest convictions and commitments of the major religious communities can be complementary rather than in conflict Readers of this book will see how that plays out in some detail A Whiteheadian Hindu can recognize the truth in a Whiteheadian Judaism and both can appreciate the insights of Chinese Whiteheadians committed to their classical thinking Perhaps a new day in interreligious understanding has come Inherited Land Whitney A. Bauman, Richard R. Bohannon II, Kevin J. O'Brien, 2011-08-04 Religion and ecology has arrived What was once a niche interest for a few academics concerned with environmental issues and a few environmentalists interested in religion has become an established academic field with classic texts graduate programs regular meetings at academic conferences and growing interest from other academics and the mass media Theologians ethicists sociologists and other scholars are engaged in a broad dialogue about the ways religious studies can help understand and address environmental problems including the sorts of methodological terminological and substantive debates that characterize any academic discourse This book recognizes the field that has taken shape reflects on the ways it is changing and anticipates its development in the future The essays offer analyses and reflections from emerging scholars of religion and ecology each addressing her or his own specialty in light of two questions 1 What have we inherited from the work that has come before us and 2 What inquiries concerns and conversation partners should be central to the next generation of scholarship The aim of this volume is not to lay out a single and clear path forward for the field Rather the authors critically reflect on the field from within outline some of the major issues we face in the academy and offer perspectives that will nurture continued dialogue Bonhoeffer and Climate Change Dianne Rayson, 2021-05-25 Where is the voice of theology in the public discourse around anthropogenic climate change How do we understand the human relationship to Earth and the ecology of which we are a part How can we account for the human attempt to dominate nature and the devastation we have caused to our own home Dianne Rayson addresses these questions She uses the creation theology of Dietrich Bonhoeffer to examine what it means to be human in the post Holocene age Employing a range of Bonhoeffer s texts Rayson posits that Bonhoeffer s Christological theology and this worldly ethical orientation provide the tools for an Earthly Christianity She responds to Bonhoeffer s question who actually is Jesus Christ for us today and proposes a Bonhoefferian ecoethic The Christian Future and the Fate of Earth Thomas Berry, 2011-03-01 This title collects Berry s signature views on the interconnectedness of both Earth s future and the Christian future He ponders why Christians have been late in coming to the issue of the environment Addressing Global Environmental Challenges from a Peace Ecology Perspective Hans Günter Brauch, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Juliet Bennett, Serena Eréndira Serrano Oswald, 2016-10-08 Addressing global environmental challenges from a peace ecology perspective the present book offers peer reviewed texts that build on the expanding field of peace ecology and applies this concept to global environmental challenges in the Anthropocene Hans G nter Brauch Germany offers a typology of time and turning points in the 20th century Juliet Bennett Australia discusses the global ecological crisis resulting from a tyranny of small decisions Katharina Bitzker Canada debates the emotional dimensions of ecological peacebuilding through love of nature Henri Myrntinen UK analyses preliminary findings on gender peacebuilding and climate change in Honduras while rsula Oswald Spring Mex co offers a critical review of the policy and scientific nexus debate on the water energy food and biodiversity nexus reflecting on security in Mexico In closing Brauch discusses whether strategies of sustainability transition may enhance the prospects for achieving sustainable peace in the Anthropocene Ecologies of Grace Willis Jenkins, 2013-02-12 Christianity struggles to show how living on earth matters for living with God While people of faith increasingly seek practical ways to respond to the environmental crisis theology has had difficulty contextualizing the crisis and interpreting the responses In Ecologies of Grace Willis Jenkins presents a field shaping introduction to Christian environmental ethics that offers resources for renewing theology Observing how religious environmental practices often draw on concepts of grace Jenkins maps the way Christian environmental strategies draw from traditions of salvation as they engage the problems of environmental ethics He then uses this new map to explore afresh the ecological dimensions of Christian theology Jenkins first shows how Christian ethics uniquely frames environmental issues and then how those approaches both challenge and reinhabit theological traditions He identifies three major strategies for making environmental problems intelligible to Christian moral experience Each one draws on a distinct pattern of grace as it adapts a secular approach to environmental ethics The strategies of ecojustice stewardship and ecological spirituality make environments matter for Christian experience by drawing on patterns of sanctification redemption and deification He then confronts the problems of each of these strategies through critical reappraisals of Thomas Aquinas Karl Barth and Sergei Bulgakov Each represents a soteriological tradition which Jenkins explores as an ecology of grace letting environmental questions guide investigation into how nature becomes significant for Christian experience By being particularly sensitive to the ways in which environmental problems are made intelligible to Christian moral experience Jenkins guides his readers toward a fuller understanding of Christianity and ecology He not only makes sense of the variety of Christian environmental ethics but by showing how environmental issues come to the heart of Christian experience prepares fertile ground for theological renewal

Christian Faith and the Environment Brennan R. Hill, 2007-03-16 Although the environmental crisis has been recognized as an international threat Christian attempts to reconcile their religious traditions and the earth are just beginning Christian Faith and the Environment challenges churches to take a stand for environmental concerns Hill explores how twentieth century theologians such as Karl Rahner Bernard Lonergan and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin have taught Christians to build bridges between Christianity and creation Examining sacramental rites church documents and feminist theological insights on ecology Hill outlines a Christian environmental spirituality and traces the ethical challenges posed by our new awareness of our environment

Worldviews And Ecology Mary Evelyn Tucker, 1994-11-01 Amidst the many voices clamoring to interpret the environmental crisis some of the most important are the voices of religious traditions Long before modernity's industrialism began the rape of Earth premodern religious and philosophical traditions mediated to untold generations the wisdom of living as a part of nature These traditions can illuminate and empower wiser ways of postmodern living The original writings of Worldviews and Ecology creatively present and interpret worldviews of major religious and philosophical traditions on how humans can live more sustainably on a fragile planet Contributors include Charlene Spretnak Larry Rasmussen Noel Brown Jay McDaniel Tu Wei Ming Thomas Berry David Ray Griffin J Baird Callicott Eric Katz Roger E Timm Robert A White Christopher Key Chapple Brian Swimme Brian Brown Michael Tobias Ralph Metzner George Sessions and Mary Evelyn Tucker and John Grim Insights from traditions as diverse as Jain Jewish ecofeminist deep ecology Christian Hindu Bahai and Whiteheadian will interest all who seek an honest analysis of what religious and philosophical traditions have to say to a modernity whose consciousness and conscience seems tragically narrow the source of attitudes that imperil the biosphere

Learning in a Musical Key Lisa M. Hess, 2011-09-15 Learning in a Musical Key examines the multidimensional problem of the relationship between music and theological education Lisa Hess argues that in a delightful and baffling way musical learning has the potential to significantly alter and inform our conception of the nature and process of theological learning In exploring this exciting intersection of musical learning and theological training Hess asks two probing questions First What does learning from music in a performative mode require Classical modes of theological education often founder on a dichotomy between theologically musical and educational discourses It is extremely difficult for many to see how the perceivedly nonmusical learn from music Is musicality a universally human potential In exploring this question Hess turns to the music learning theory of Edwin Gordon which explores music s unique mode of teaching learning its primarily aural oral mode This challenge leads to the study s second question How does a theologian in the disciplinary sense integrate a performative mode into critical discourse Tracking the critical movements of this problem Hess provides an inherited transformational logic as a feasible path for integrating a performative mode into multidimensional learning This approach emerges as a distinctly relational embodied multidimensional and non correlational performative mode theology that breaks new ground in the contemporary theological landscape As an implicitly trinitarian method rooted in the relationality of God this non correlational method offers a practical theological contribution to the discipline of Christian spirituality newly claimed here as a discipline of transformative teaching learning through the highly contextualized and self implicated scholar into relationally formed communities and ultimately into the world

Cry of the Earth, Cry of the Poor Leonardo

Boff,1997-01-01 In his latest work the noted Latin American theologian Leonardo Boff extends the intuitions of liberation theology showing how they contribute to answering urgent questions of poverty and ecological degradation If faith fails to appreciate the ecological paradigm Boff argues it only adds to the crisis and begs for reform Focusing on the threatened Amazon of his native Brazil Boff traces the economic and metaphysical ties that bind the fate of the rain forests with the fate of the Indians and poor of the land He shows how liberation theology must join with ecology in reclaiming the dignity of the earth and our sense of a common community To illustrate to possibilities Boff turns to resources in Christian spirituality ancient and modern including cosmic Christology and the vision of St Francis of Assisi

Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M.

Conradie,2006-10-01 There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa

Ethics of the Global Environment

Robin Attfield,2015-02-12 This fully updated and expanded textbook looks at issues including climate change sustainable development and biodiversity preservation and sensitively addresses global developments such as the Summits at Durban on climate and at Nagoya on biodiversity

Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions H. S. A. Yahya,2010-10-22

Covering three broader issues biodiversity conservation religious doctrine and environment the book Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions is the result of a unique approach It attempts to initiate scientific discourse through the fabric of religions Spread across 15 chapters the book covers the essence of 10 religions on biodiversity encompassing a wide range of issues related to conservation The book promises to be a useful resource for biodiversity students researchers and protected area managers and also for religious scholars who are invited to look at the broader themes of religions beyond theology Evolving Multicultural Education for Global Classrooms Gordon, Richard Keith,Ahmed, Kawser,Hosoda, Miwako,2021-06-18 Multicultural education is a construct that has been very useful for many years in harboring sensitivities teachers need in addressing diverse students Now the discipline needs refreshing In the global society the idea of multicultural education a decidedly Western formation needs to expand its conceptual boundaries Salient issues in multicultural education such as individual identities social justice and equity are bedrock concerns of multicultural educators These concepts are considered necessary but not sufficient in shaping an evolving model of multicultural education The complexity of humans and modern and emerging societies requires a broadened scope of the understanding of contemporary multicultural theory and practice Evolving Multicultural Education for Global Classrooms addresses multicultural education from a comprehensive viewpoint that acknowledges the historical benefit of multicultural education and recognizes a need to inform the discipline with a broader viewpoint As most knowledge on multicultural education comes from a Western perspective and the scholarship on the topic is weakening the chapters in this book present new practices and classroom applications that are internationally transferable Topics covered include teacher education social justice educational equity and inclusion online education and cultural sensitivities This book is ideally intended for teachers educational theorists sociologists of education inservice and preservice teachers administrators teacher educators practitioners researchers academicians and students interested in a fresh global perspective on multicultural education Liberating Faith Roger S. Bioregionalism and Global Ethics Richard Evanoff,2010-09-13 While a number of schools of environmental thought including social ecology ecofeminism ecological Marxism ecoanarchism and bioregionalism have attempted to link social issues to a concern for the environment environmental ethics as an academic discipline has tended to focus more narrowly on ethics related either to changes in personal values or behavior or to the various ways in which nature might be valued What is lacking is a framework in which individual social and environmental concerns can be looked at not in isolation from each other but rather in terms of their interrelationships In this book Evanoff aims to develop just such a philosophical framework one in which ethical questions related to interactions between self society and nature can be discussed across disciplines and from a variety of different perspectives The central problem his study investigates is the extent to which a dichotomized view of the relationship between nature and culture perpetuated in ongoing debates over anthropocentric vs ecocentric approaches to environmental ethics might be overcome through the adoption of a transactional perspective which offers a more dynamic and coevolutionary understanding of how humans interact with their natural environments Unlike anthropocentric approaches to environmental ethics which often privilege human concerns over ecological preservation and some ecocentric approaches which place more emphasis on preserving natural environments than on meeting human needs a transactional approach attempts to create more symbiotic and less conflictual modes of interaction between human cultures and natural environments which allow for the flourishing of both

The Ocean of God Roland Faber, 2019-06-29

The Ocean of God conveys the proposition that the future of religions if they will not want to contribute to the destruction of humanity will become transreligious Based on the assumption that the spiritual impulse of humanity cannot simply be eradicated religiosity will persist in transreligious forms as secularizations naturalizations and transhumanist dreams only envision such transformations but fall short in their ability to replace the force of spirituality to further civilized peace of human existence on Earth and its future in evolutionary ecological and cosmological dimensions In relating the contributions of religious pluralism to the concept of the unity of religions which have arisen in this new axial age for overcoming the checkered history of religions in furthering peace the program of a polyphilic pluralism with its transreligious discourse based on the insight of the fundamental relativity of religious truth and the special contributions of process philosophy and theology as well as the Bah universe of thought analyses and projects a new religiosity or spirit enabling religions to overcome their deepest motives of strife and warfare
