

Others, like Mary, chose to stay in the South.

An organization called the Freedmen's Bureau helped those who stayed to find shelter on abandoned Confederate land. Mary and her family settled in a one-room cabin, and for the next few years, she worked alongside her mama to help feed her siblings. Seven days a week she churned butter, cleaned houses, and cared for other folks' children.

Stephen Kendrick

To Free A Family The Journey Of Mary Walker:

To Free a Family Sydney Nathans, 2013-11-18 To Free a Family tells the remarkable story of Mary Walker who in August 1848 fled her owner for refuge in the North and spent the next seventeen years trying to recover her son and daughter Her freedom like that of thousands who escaped from bondage came at a great price remorse at parting without a word fear for her family's fate

The Lively Place Stephen Kendrick, 2016-04-05 The story of one of the Boston area's most famous attractions the Mount Auburn Cemetery and how its founders and residents have influenced American culture When Mount Auburn Cemetery was founded in 1831 it revolutionized the way Americans mourned the dead by offering a peaceful space for contemplation This cemetery located not far from Harvard University was also a place that reflected and instilled an imperative to preserve and protect nature in a rapidly industrializing culture lessons that would influence the creation of Central Park the cemetery at Gettysburg and the National Parks system Even today this urban wildlife habitat and nationally recognized hotspot for migratory songbirds continues to connect visitors with nature and serves as a model for sustainable landscape practices Beyond Mount Auburn's prescient focus on conservation it also reflects the impact of Transcendentalism and the progressive spirit in American life seen in advances in science art and religion and in social reform movements In The Lively Place Stephen Kendrick celebrates this vital piece of our nation's history as he tells the story of Mount Auburn's founding its legacy and the many influential Americans interred there from religious leaders to abolitionists poets and reformers

A Tale of Two Plantations Richard S. Dunn, 2014-11-04 Richard Dunn reconstructs the lives of three generations of slaves on a sugar estate in Jamaica and a plantation in Virginia to understand the starkly different forms slavery took Deadly work regimens and rampant disease among Jamaican slaves contrast with population expansion in Virginia leading to the selling of slaves and breakup of families

I Saw Death Coming Kidada E. Williams, 2023-01-17 Longlisted for the National Book Award in Nonfiction Shortlisted for the Museum of African American History's Stone Book

Award National Council on Public History Book Award Honorable Mention A powerful and deeply moving LA Times reexamination of the struggle for survival in the Reconstruction era South and what it cost The story of Reconstruction is often told from the perspective of the politicians generals and journalists whose accounts claim an outsized place in collective memory But this pivotal era looked very different to African Americans in the South transitioning from bondage to freedom after 1865 They were besieged by a campaign of white supremacist violence that persisted through the 1880s and beyond For too long their lived experiences have been sidelined impoverishing our understanding of the obstacles post Civil War Black families faced their inspiring determination to survive and the physical and emotional scars they bore because of it In I Saw Death Coming Kidada E Williams offers a breakthrough account of the much debated Reconstruction period transporting readers into the daily existence of formerly enslaved people building hope filled new lives Drawing on overlooked sources and bold new readings of the archives Williams offers a revelatory and in some cases minute by minute record of nighttime raids and Ku Klux Klan strikes And she deploys cutting edge scholarship on trauma to consider how the effects of these attacks would linger for decades indeed generations to come For readers of Carol Anderson Tiya Miles and Clint Smith I Saw Death Coming is an indelible and essential book that speaks to some of the most pressing questions of our times

No Right to An Honest Living (Winner of the Pulitzer Prize)

Jacqueline Jones, 2023-01-10 WINNER OF THE PULITZER PRIZE IN HISTORY A sensitive immersive and exhaustive portrait of Black workers and white hypocrisy in nineteenth century Boston from a gifted practitioner of labor history and urban history Tiya Miles National Book Award winning author of All That She Carried Impassioned antislavery rhetoric made antebellum Boston famous as the nation's hub of radical abolitionism In fact however the city was far from a beacon of equality In No Right to an Honest Living historian Jacqueline Jones reveals how Boston was the United States writ small a place where the soaring rhetoric of egalitarianism was easy but justice in the workplace was elusive Before during and after the Civil War white abolitionists and Republicans refused to secure equal employment opportunity for Black Bostonians condemning most of them to poverty Still Jones finds some Black entrepreneurs ingeniously created their own jobs and forged their own career paths Highlighting the everyday struggles of ordinary Black workers this book shows how injustice in the workplace prevented Boston and the United States from securing true equality for all A City for Children Marta

Gutman, 2014-09-19 We like to say that our cities have been shaped by creative destruction the vast powers of capitalism to remake cities But Marta Gutman shows that other forces played roles in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries as cities responded to industrialization and the onset of modernity Gutman focuses on the use and adaptive reuse of everyday buildings and most tellingly she reveals the determinative roles of women and charitable institutions In Oakland Gutman shows private houses were often adapted for charity work and the betterment of children in the process becoming critical sites for public life and for the development of sustainable social environments Gutman makes a strong argument for the centrality of incremental construction and the power of women run organizations to our understanding of modern cities
