Fostering a Relational Pedagogy ,2018-11-01 It has long been established that teaching and learning are autobiographical endeavours so it follows that self study is central to sound practice As a framework self study allows researchers to use their experiences to examine self in practice with the aim of both personal and professional growth By its very design it makes transparent personal processes of inquiry by offering them up for public critique This type of public inquiry of the personal happens in at least two ways first through the inclusion of trusted others who can provide different perspectives on our closely held discourses and second through making our research publicly available so that others might learn from our inquiries Self study then requires openness to vulnerability as we continuously re negotiate who we are as teachers Approaching inquiry from this perspective has at its core deepened self knowledge coupled with intent to transform praxis This transformation is sought through integrated ways of being and teaching that support embodied wholeness of teachers and learners Through critical qualitative creative and arts integrated approaches this collection seeks to advance teacher self study and through it transformative praxis Contributors are Willow S Allen Charity Becker Yue Bian Abby Boehm Turner Diane Burt Vy Dao Lee C Fisher Teresa Anne Fowler Deborah Graham Cher Hill Chinwe H Ikpeze David Jardine Elizabeth Kenyon Jodi Latremouille Carl Leggo Ellyn Lyle Sepideh Mahani Jennifer Markides Sherry Martens Kate McCabe Laura Piersol Kathleen Pithouse Morgan Amanda C Shopa Timothy Sibbald Sara K Sterner and Aaron Zimmerman

The Moral Dynamics of Economic Life Daniel K. Finn, 2012-05-31 Caritas in veritate Charity in Truth is the social encyclical of Pope Benedict XVI one of many papal encyclicals over the last 120 years that address economic life This volume based on discussions at a symposium co-sponsored by the Institute for Advanced Catholic Studies and the Pontifical Council for Justice and Peace analyzes the situation of the Church and the theological basis for Benedict's thinking about the person community and the globalized economy The Moral Dynamics of Economic Life engages Benedict's analysis of relation the characteristics of contemporary social and economic relationships and the implications of a relational Trinitarian God for daily human life Crucial here is the Pope's notion of reciprocity an economic relationship characterized by help freely given but which forms an expectation that the recipient will reciprocate either to the donor or often to someone else This logic of gift Benedict argues should influence daily economic life especially within what he calls hybrid firms which make a profit and invest a share of that profit in service to needs outside the firm Similarly development whether of an individual or of a nation must be integral neither simply economic nor personal nor psychological nor spiritual but a comprehensive development that engages all dimensions of a flourishing human life The essays written by social scientists theologians policy analysts and others engage extend and critique Benedict's views on these issues as well as his call for deeper dialogue and a morally based transformation of social and economic structures

Wendy Petersen Boring, William Forbes, William Forbes (Professor of geography), 2013 American colleges and universities have been relatively quick to address the challenge of sustainability in operations Ironically they have been slower to respond in regard to their core mission educating students Teaching sustainability aims to redress this shortcoming by opening doors to education for sustainability in the humanities and social sciences The essays in this collection are richly diverse They investigate ways sustainability education pushes back against traditional disciplines while it simultaneously benefits from the perspectives and skills these fields have to offer They also address big questions such as how to make education meaningful how to examine hidden assumptions underlying current curricula and how a focus on sustainability can answer critics of contemporary higher education The heart of teaching sustainability is reflection and advice on pedagogy From these richly diverse case studies important common themes emerge the symbiotic relationship between classroom and campus operations techniques for transforming the campus itself from merely a setting to a learning laboratory and the potential of community partners for teaching sense of place An equally significant theme is the overlap between sustainability education and emerging best practice in pedagogy Essays on theory and practice individual and collaborative projects service learning and consequential activities all exemplify how sustainability and deep learning go hand and hand Like sustainability itself the volume infuses theory with practical application The contributors demonstrate the ways in which a single course can serve as a powerful change agent for an entire campus how to build bridges between faculty and administrators and even how to move forward on modest budgets The authors themselves constitute a network of advisors Publisher s description
