McCredden considers how Winton has sustained a strong mainstream following while exploring complex themes and moving between genres. Attending to both secular and sacred frames of reference, she considers his treatment of class, gender, place, landscape, and belonging, and shows how a compassion for human falling and redemption permeates his work. She demonstrates how his engagement with these recurring ideas has deepened and changed over time and how he has moved between and challenged the categories of the popular and the literary. The Intensivist's Challenge David Crippen, 2016-05-02. This book brings together personal narratives from critical care medicine specialists around the world. Most of these physicians started in critical care at or before the exponential increase in technological modalities to reverse or sustain organ function, have seen patient care both ways, and have worked as many as 30 years or more at the bedside. The narratives are organized around such themes as how and why these physicians entered the discipline of critical care, what was critical care like in the beginning, how they have experienced the flood of innovations in critical care, why they decided to retire or not, and what their retirement options have been or not. Composed by influential critical care medicine specialists, The Intensivist's Challenge: Aging and Career Growth in a High Stress Medical Specialty is a valuable resource bringing together a discussion of the nature and problems of aging as they apply to physicians in a high stress occupation while assessing the value of clinical experience at the bedside in a world increasingly full of soulless technology.
