Time Down Mind Graham Foust:

Time Down to Mind Graham W. Foust, 2015 Poetry No one gets dark or gets darkness like Graham Foust He s the one who ll say A touch horrific is the green with which the ground will tear the winter while everyone else is writing their paean to spring His and ours is a world of violence and ennui set to catchy numbers I heard a fly buzz I don t know when I died In TIME DOWN TO MIND Foust now in early middle age feels time s pressure as never before He faces backwards tweaking lines from old songs and poems while being pulled or blown into the future The heart of being is that I m being forced out This is something we all know of course but who else will put it so baldly so memorably This work feels necessary Rae Armantrout I like when it feels like poems are written for me Graham Foust s poems have that effect the way they sound the connections they make to each other to life our lives Just open this book and I m sure you ll agree Stephen Malkmus

Poetics and Praxis 'After' Objectivism W. Scott Howard, Broc Rossell, 2018-08-15 Poetics and Praxis After Objectivism includes an introduction ten chapters and a roundtable afterward all of which have been written specifically for this volume The collection examines late twentieth and early twenty first century poetic praxis within and against the dynamic disparate legacy of Objectivism and the Objectivists This is the first volume in the field to study this vital legacy through current poetic praxis renewing the complexities of the past in terms of the difficulties of the present The book s scope investigates the continuing relevance of the Objectivist ethos to poetic praxis in our time examining and exemplifying generative intersections of creativity and critique In the Air Anthony Caleshu, 2017-12-05 This first critical book of essays on the poetry of Peter Gizzi shows how his work extends the traditions of nineteenth and twentieth century modernism while also reclaiming the living presence of the lyric in its capacity to sing of the human predicament Gizzi is author of seven critically acclaimed books of poetry including most recently Threshold Songs and Archeophonics a finalist for the National Book Award in 2016 Lauded contributors including Ben Lerner Michael Snediker Marjorie Perloff and Charles Altieri explore Gizzi s poetry for its embodiment of an American tradition extending the poetics of Whitman Dickinson and Stevens amongst others while also exhibiting a twenty first century sensibility perpetuating a new grammar and syntax to capture our place in the world today Each essayist in turn works through close readings of some of the most important poems of our times enriching our understanding of a poetry of the mind which never loses track of what it means to feel Hardcover is un jacketed

Embarrassments Graham Foust, 2021-05-11 Poetry For more than two decades Graham Foust has been sounding out the limits of common expression through precise lyricism a tragicomic almost slapstick absurdism and syncopated guesses about what things might mean EMBARRASMENTS offers a synthesis of that work Running through the concerns of parenthood climate change and our inevitable insignificance is Foust s total commitment to excavating the strangeness of language and our entanglement with the words we share Like Stevens Foust writes intricate poems that explore a world from which meaning has departed the poet seeks to restore it however tentatively through the powers of artifice Ben Lerner

Terminations Graham Foust, 2023-10-15 The uncanny ninth collection from Graham Foust Reading TERMINATIONS is like watching a make up tutorial in reverse which is to say the deconstruction of an art that on its face is applied to conceal and therefore beautify what is inherently colored by the decay it daily wears So it shocks us to see something so seemingly done up come undone and more shocking and uncanny and satisfying still to realize ah that s what it looks like under all that bake and contour How odd You realize after you ve been terminated two or three times by Graham that there s no hiding from this the naked face of language the dull and perfect void we all inhabit and never fortunately or unfortunately will find ourselves grayed out by The point is nevertheless not to be a goddamned monster about what you see and deftly don t when the makeup comes off and the words bend in heat and light if you can help it So help you God Andrew E Colarusso Like Stevens Foust writes intricate poems that explore a world from which meaning has departed the poet seeks to restore it however tentatively through the powers of artifice Ben Lerner Harper s Magazine Poetry

Nightingalelessness Graham W. Foust, 2018 Poetry Through branching clauses of off kilter syntax Graham Foust makes poetry in NIGHTINGALELESSNESS from the common stuff of conversations including the ones bouncing around in our heads If you think you ve seen it all you ve seen one thing By observation and direct address these poems surge forward as a way to retreat and reflect They concern what Keats calls the weariness the fever and the fret of adulthood the weight of time when the music has stopped Yet in the syncopation of action against uncertainty thought against belief Foust uncovers a wobbly new music

Ideas of Order in Contemporary American Poetry Diana von Finck, Oliver Scheiding, 2007 Stylin' Shane White, Graham J. White, 1998 An exploration of African American style from its African origins to the 1940s looking at the ways in which African American men and women have expressed themselves through clothing hairstyles gestures dance and other forms of bodily display
