Lighting is the industry standard text on environmental control systems with the emphasis on sustainable design. By detailing the many factors that contribute to the comfort in a building, this book helps architects minimize mechanical systems and energy usage over the life of the building by siting building design and landscaping to maximize natural heating, cooling, and lighting. This new fourth edition includes new information on integrated design strategies and designing for the Tropics. Resources include helpful case studies, checklists, diagrams, and a companion website featuring additional cases, an image bank, and instructor materials. Designing buildings that require less energy to heat, cool, and light means allowing the natural energy of the sun and wind to reduce the burden on the mechanical and electrical systems. Basic design decisions regarding size, orientation, and form have a great impact on the sustainability, cost, and comfort of a building. Heating, Cooling, and Lighting provides detailed guidance for each phase of a design project. Readers will understand the concept of sustainability as applied to energy sources. Review the basic principles of thermal comfort and the critical role of climate. Learn the fundamentals of solar responsive design, including active and passive solar systems, as well as photovoltaics. Discover how siting, architectural design, and landscaping can reduce the requirements for mechanical and electrical systems. In sustainable design, mechanical and electrical systems should be used to only accomplish what the architect could not by the design of the building itself. With this in mind, designers require a comprehensive understanding of both the properties of energy and the human factors involved in thermal comfort. Heating, Cooling, and Lighting is the complete industry leading resource for designers interested in sustainable environmental control.

Sustainable Built Environment - Volume I Fariborz Haghighat, Jong-Jin Kim, 2009-11-10. Sustainable Built Environment is a component of Encyclopedia of Technology, Information, and Systems Management Resources in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems (EOLSS), which is an integrated compendium of twenty-one Encyclopedias. Environmental conservation and technological innovation are two principal forces that drive the building industry toward the future. Technological innovation offers many opportunities to make buildings more dynamic and comfortable and occupants more comfortable and productive. The necessity of environmental conservation, on the other hand, compels all types of developments and human activities to be environmentally responsive. The content of the Theme on Sustainable Built Environment is organized with state-of-the-art presentations covering several topics: Urban Design, Emerging Issues in Building Design, Environment, Energy, and Health in Housing Design, Culture, Management, Strategies, and Policy Issues in the Sustainable Built Environment, Using Technology to Improve the Quality of City Life, Urban and Regional Transportation, which are then expanded into multiple subtopics, each as a chapter. These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences: University and College students, Educators, Professional practitioners, Research personnel, and Policy analysts, managers, and decision makers, and NGOs.
