We Remember The Holocaust:

We Remember the Holocaust David A. Adler, 1995-04-15 Discusses the events of the Holocaust and includes personal accounts from survivors of their experiences of the persecution and the death camps We Are What We Remember Laura Mattoon D'Amore, Jeffrey Meriwether, 2013-01-16 Commemorative practices are revised and rebuilt based on the spirit of the time in which they are re created Historians sometimes imagine that commemoration captures history but actually commemoration creates new narratives about history that allow people to interact with the past in a way that they find meaningful As our social values change race gender religion sexuality class our commemorations do too We Are What We Remember The American Past Through Commemoration analyzes current trends in the study of historical memory that are particularly relevant to our own present our biases our politics our contextual moment and strive to name forgotten overlooked and denied pasts in traditional histories Race gender and sexuality for example raise questions about our most treasured myths where were the slaves at Jamestowne How do women or lesbians protect and preserve their own histories when no one else wants to write them Our current social climate allows us to question authority and especially the authoritative definitions of nation patriotism and heroism and belonging How do we un commemorate things that were mis commemorated in the past How do we repair the damage done by past commemorations The chapters in this book contributed by eighteen emerging and established scholars examine these modern questions that entirely reimagine the landscape of commemoration as it has been practiced and studied before We Remember the Battle of Britain Frank Shaw, Joan Shaw, 2013-05-09 I was talking and laughing with a school friend in the street when suddenly there was the eerie wailing notes of the air raid siren filling the air I can remember that our laughter stopped straight away and I recall feeling chilled and scared Doors were opened and people came out of their houses looking up to the sky It was a Sunday morning on a beautiful summer s day with blue skies and really warm sunshine But within minutes our lives had changed and the child in me had gone never to return Mrs Mary Earle Kent After the surrender of France to Germany Churchill announced that the Battle of Britain is about to begin and on 10 July 1940 the Luftwaffe began bombing ships in the English Channel in readiness for a full air assault on the south of England In August German aircraft were attacking coastal airfields moving inland to attack radar bases further RAF airfields and aircraft factories until finally turning their attention to London and other major cities But Hitler had underestimated the determination of the RAF and by mid September the Luftwaffe sustained such great losses that Britain had won the battle for our skies and the German invasion was called off This third instalment in the We Remember series is filled with stories from servicemen from the air and on the ground and the men women and children who witnessed the extraordinary fights between British and German planes Just Remembering Michael Warren Tumolo, 2015-10-29 Just Remembering Rhetorics of Genocide Remembrance and Sociopolitical Judgment analyzes a set of influential discourses of genocide remembrance to explain how public memory discourses inform sociopolitical judgment

Within this explanatory context Just Remembering additionally asks how we might remember pasts marked by genocidal violence in ways that commit ourselves to a deeper understanding and more humane practice of justice The chapters are thematically organized focusing on specific sites of memory to highlight symbolic inducements of memorial discourses Chapter 2 analyzes U S public discourse concerning an Armenian Genocide resolution to elucidate the role of politics in the production dissemination and maintenance of memory Chapter 3 offers a historical account of the shift in public discourse concerning the capture of the Nazi war criminal Adolf Eichmann demonstrating how and with what consequences the discourses shifted from a focus on law to a focus on morality Chapter 4 expands this work by analyzing how competing narrative accounts of historical figures and events Eichmann and the Holocaust influence what we remember how we remember and the ends to which we apply such memories Chapter 5 analyzes the Report of the President's Commission on the Holocaust that produced the United States official remembrance of the Holocaust This chapter argues that the Commission Report provides an exemplary explanation for why we should remember and provokes a complex understanding of what we are to remember Chapter 6 concludes the book by focusing on the productive capacity of the humanitarian aims of U S Holocaust remembrance

Broken Gospel? Peter M. Waddell, 2023-01-01 The Holocaust lies often unacknowledged near the heart of our contemporary crisis of religious faith The horrific fruit of two millennia of Christian antisemitism the slaughter calls into sharp question the moral and intellectual credibility of the Churches and the Christian faith itself Can Christianity ever recover In Broken Gospel Peter Waddell suggests that it can but only by facing unflinchingly the history that paved the way for the Nazi genocide and the Churches sins of omission and commission as it took place Engaging with both Christian and Jewish scholarship Waddell also approaches with sensitivity the theological issues that arise from the horror questions of how the claimed holiness of the Church relates to its wickedness of Christian Jewish relations of prayer and providence of heaven and hell and the faint possibility of forgiveness Scholars clergy and general readers alike will be challenged by this exercise in repentance and reconstruction and inspired by the possibility it offers for Christian theology and practice to flourish once more

Shades of the Planet Wai Chee Dimock, Lawrence Buell, 2018-06-05 In a globalizing age studying American literature in isolation from the rest of the world seems less and less justified But is the conceptual box of the nation dispensable And what would American literature look like without it Leading scholars take up this debate in Shades of the Planet beginning not with the United States as center but with the world as circumference This reversed frame yields a surprising landscape alive with traces of West Africa Eastern Europe Iran Iraq India China Mexico and Australia The Broadway musical Oklahoma has aboriginal antecedents Black English houses an African syntax American slavery consorts with the Holocaust Philip Roth keeps company with Milan Kundera the crime novel moves south of the border and R P Blackmur lectures in Japan A national literature becomes haunted by the world when that literature is seen extending to the Pacific opening up to Islam and accompanying African American authors as they travel Highlighting American literature as a fold in a planet wide fabric this pioneering volume transforms the field redrawing its institutional as well as geographical map The contributors are Rachel Adams Jonathan Arac Homi K Bhabha Lawrence Buell Wai Chee Dimock Susan Stanford Friedman Paul Giles David Palumbo Liu Ross Posnock Joseph Roach and Eric J Sundquist
