philosophers is indicative of a broad speculative tendency in his work that deserves further attention In this respect Martin consciously challenges the prevailing view of Balthasar as a fundamentally conservative or nostalgic thinker In her discussion of the relation between tradition and theological speculation Martin also draws upon the understudied relation between Balthasar and F W J Schelling especially as Schelling's form of Idealism was passed down through the Russian thinkers In doing so she persuasively recasts Balthasar as an ecumenical creatively anti nostalgic theologian hospitable to the richness of contributions from extra magisterial and non Catholic sources Orthodoxy, Modernity, and Authenticity Heather Bailey, 2020-10-21 Ernest Renan was one of the most renowned European intellectuals of the second half of the nineteenth century Yet the impact of his most popular work Life of Jesus has been underestimated when not altogether ignored While commonplace now the idea that Jesus was merely human was at one time a novelty with significant socio political cultural and religious implications A case study in the Russian encounter with modernity Orthodoxy Modernity and Authenticity The Reception of Ernest Renan's Life of Jesus in Russia demonstrates that Renan's book has had long lasting and broad appeal in Russia because it presents an alternative to a strictly materialist worldview on the one hand and an Orthodox worldview on the other Renan offered his readers the possibility to accept the tenets of modernity while still retaining both an admiration for the importance of religion in history and a sense of religious feeling or even belief in a higher religious ideal Assessments of Renan's alternative belief system whether positive negative or mixed were often simultaneously evaluations of the moral socio political and spiritual condition of European society in general and Russian society in particular The interpretive history of Renan's Life of Jesus in Russia reveals a persistent disillusionment with a strictly materialist interpretation of history and of life 'The Riddle of the Sophia' and Other Essays John O'Meara, 2020-11-02 The following collection of essays could have had as a subtitle Towards a New Sophiology Apart from the final essay Valentin Tomberg and Dostoevski all the other essays appeared in this same order as articles in the Starlight Journal of the Sophia Foundation of North America over the years 2014-2019 The production of these articles took place during the period that immediately followed the publication of O Meara's book The Way of Novalis and should be seen as an outgrowth from the Sophianic direction of that book In these essays slightly expanded from the articles O Meara elaborates on the Sophianic mission of the Foundation with reference to the main Master Individualities to whom the Foundation has linked itself notably Rudolf Steiner Valentin Tomberg Novalis Friedrich von Hardenberg as well as the Master Peter Deunov However other well known individuals are also considered in some depth including Vladimir Solovyov Pavel Florensky Sergius Bulgakov Fyodor Dostoevski Carl Jung as well as some of the Master artists of the Renaissance most notably Michelangelo and da Vinci Estelle Isaacson and Ita Wegman also assume a significant role in this collection War, Progress, and the End of History Vladimir Sergeyevich Solovyov, 2024-11-07 War Progress and the End of History by Vladimir Sergeyevich Solovyov is a profound philosophical work that explores the moral spiritual and political dimensions of human history offering a compelling reflection on war progress and humanity's ultimate destiny Written by one of Russia's most influential philosophers Solovyov's work combines theology ethics and social criticism raising questions about the meaning of history and the future of civilization Solovyov critically examines the idea of progress questioning whether material and technological advancements alone lead to true human flourishing He warns that unchecked progress detached from moral and spiritual values risks leading humanity toward greater conflict and destruction His reflections on war are particularly striking as he views it not just as a political phenomenon but as a manifestation of deeper ethical and spiritual crises within human society At the heart of the book is Solovyov's belief in the need for moral renewal and the integration of divine truth into human affairs He argues that history will culminate not in endless progress but in an eschatological fulfillment a moment when divine justice and harmony are realized at the end of history Through this vision Solovyov offers both a critique of modern society and a hopeful outlook for the future emphasizing the role of love unity and spiritual transformation in shaping a better world War Progress and the End of History remains a thought provoking work for readers interested in philosophy theology and political theory Solovyov's ideas continue to resonate in contemporary discussions on the limits of progress the nature of conflict and the moral direction of humanity His blend of intellectual rigor and spiritual insight offers a timeless perspective on humanity's struggles and aspirations in the pursuit of a just and meaningful future

Harmony and Dissent R. Bruce Elder, 2010-04-22 R Bruce Elder argues that the authors of many of the manifestoes that announced in such lively ways the appearance of yet another artistic movement shared a common aspiration they proposed to reformulate the visual literary and performing arts so that they might take on attributes of the cinema The cinema Elder argues became in the early decades of the twentieth century a pivotal artistic force around which a remarkable variety and number of aesthetic forms took shape To demonstrate this Elder begins with a wide ranging discussion that opens up some broad topics concerning modernity's cognitive and perceptual regime with a view to establishing that a crisis within that regime engendered some peculiar and highly questionable epistemological beliefs and enthusiasms Through this discussion Elder advances the startling claim that a crisis of cognition precipitated by modernity engendered by way of response a peculiar sort of pneumatic spiritual epistemology Elder then shows that early ideas of the cinema were strongly influenced by this pneumatic epistemology and uses this conception of the cinema to explain its pivotal role in shaping two key moments in early twentieth century art the quest to bring forth a pure objectless non representational art and Russian Suprematism Constructivism and Productivism
