Wasted Lives Modernity And Its Outcasts:

Wasted Lives Zygmunt Bauman, 2013-04-26 The production of human waste or more precisely wasted lives the superfluous populations of migrants refugees and other outcasts is an inevitable outcome of modernization It is an unavoidable side effect of economic progress and the quest for order which is characteristic of modernity As long as large parts of the world remained wholly or partly unaffected by modernization they were treated by modernizing societies as lands that were able to absorb the excess of population in the developed countries Global solutions were sought and temporarily found to locally produced overpopulation problems But as modernization has reached the furthest lands of the planet redundant population is produced everywhere and all localities have to bear the consequences of modernity's global triumph They are now confronted with the need to seek in vain it seems local solutions to globally produced problems The global spread of the modernity has given rise to growing quantities of human beings who are deprived of adequate means of survival but the planet is fast running out of places to put them Hence the new anxieties about immigrants and asylum seekers and the growing role played by diffuse security fears on the contemporary political agenda With characteristic brilliance this new book by Zygmunt Bauman unravels the impact of this transformation on our contemporary culture and politics and shows that the problem of coping with human waste provides a key for understanding some otherwise baffling features of our shared life from the strategies of global domination to the most intimate aspects of human relationships internationally distinguished legal scholars who examine the influence of Bauman's recent works on social theory of law and socio-legal studies. Contributors focus on the concept of liquid society and its adoption by legal scholars. The volume opens with Bauman's analysis of fears and policing in liquid society and continues by examining the social and legal theoretical context and implications of Bauman's theory.

Wasted Lives Modernity and Its Outcasts, 2004 Wasted Lives Julie Boden, 2003-01-01 Zygmunt Bauman

How to Deal with Refugees? Gerhard Besier, Katarzyna Stokłosa, 2018
 2015 was without any doubt the year of migrations. Over the subsequent two years we have certainly seen the migration flows reduce but it was never going to be possible to halt them altogether. From the outset of this phenomenon numerous academics and researchers have dedicated themselves to the topic. They analyse the causes, the course of the migration flows, parallels and impacts as well as possible scenarios of the migration movement. A wide-reaching debate has evolved on the topic of migration to which the authors in this anthology were also keen to contribute. Conflict regulations attempts. In this publication historians, political scientists, philosophers, sociologists, geographers, human geographers, economists, literary scientists, legal scholars, theologians and psychiatrists from a range of European and Non-European countries have each contributed from their individual standpoints.

The Challenges of Globalization International Society for Universal Dialogue. World Congress, 2007-12-10. Critical Theory Ethics for Business and Public Administration David M. Boje, 2008-08-28. A volume in Ethics in Practice Series. Editors Robert A. Giacalone, Temple University and Carole L. Jurkiewicz, Louisiana State University. The purpose of this book is to develop ethical traditions based on Kant, Horkheimer and others to extend beyond the level of individual behavior to address the social system level in business and public administration. It is not enough to try to be good or ethical as individuals when it is systemic processes which are fostering unethical behavior. Horkheimer's books Eclipse of Reason and Critique of Instrumental Reason and his early and now classic essay Materialism and Morality ask for a reformation of Kantian ethics. The reform is sought because the categorical imperative within the context of an individualism capitalism serves to worsen the difference between business ethics and moral philosophy. Therefore Horkheimer asks that the maxims that would be made universal would be done at the level of people organizing with others. This is the level addressed in this volume as we seek to change the system that is producing and reproducing unethical behaviors.

Moving Histories of Class and Community Ben Rogaly, Becky Taylor, 2009-04-08. White working class areas are often seen as entrenched and immobile, threatened by the arrival of outsiders. This major new study of class and place since 1930 challenges accepted wisdom, demonstrating how emigration as well as shorter distance moves out of such areas can be as suffused with emotion as moving into them. Both influence people's sense of belonging to the place they live in. Using oral histories from residents of three social housing estates in Norwich England the book also tells stories of the appropriation of and resistance to state discourses of community and of ambivalent complex and shifting class relations and identities Material poverty has been a constant in the area but not for all residents and being defined as poor is an identity that some actively resist The Invisible Cage John T. Participation and Social Learning in Church-based Organizations Peter Obele Abue, 2007 Developing countries are increasingly faced with the lack of alternative institutions to counter the social processes entrenched in local settings that lead to poverty In this book the author investigates the potentials of Churchbased organizations CBOs as alternative mechanisms and suggests a communitarian approach to poverty eradication as a back up to the past and present approaches offered by modernism and post modernism respectively Both the upcoming theory of Social Learning and the age old principle of Participation are used as a theoretical framework with empirical data from the diocese of Ogoja Nigeria The author investigates key research questions such as How do churches learn to build on the capacity of individuals and groups as stakeholders that influence poverty eradication at the local level How do Churches as organizations learn to become social change agents This book enunciates a new dimension to the development discourse and the ongoing fight against poverty and it is highly recommended for scholars of international development in their effort to proffer a holistic solution to the problem of poverty and its eradication The third approach to poverty according to the author is a communitarian approach that examines the organizational dynamics of a diocese in relation to the Social Justice Agenda of the Roman Catholic Church I recommend this book to pastors of churches local church communities and their leaders both in developed and developing countries who seek a sincere approach to sustainable development Most Rev Dr John E Ayah Catholic Bishop of Ogoja Nigeria In this book the author ascribes another perspective to poverty eradication by focusing on social praxis thus giving a practical dimension to the role of religion especially for communities in developing countries As a scientist I recommend this book to researchers in general in a quest for the meaning of development Derek Cabrera PhD in Human Ecology Cornell University Ithaca NY USA Out of Place Adi Kuntsman, Esperanza Miyake, 2008 This volume asks daring and timely questions about the silence at the heart of queer studies Discussing race alongside queer often submerges raciality within queerness leaving racialised groups silent and silenced out of place This work creates a space where queerness raciality are brought together in creative tension to disturb these silences to hear the invisible to see the inaudible Macalester International ,2007
